3. The object of the scholarships being to enable ladies to enter the College at Delhi and to take up a professional course there, the award will be made to those, otherwise eligible, who are prepared to join the Junior Intermediate class of a recognised College or any similar class this year with a view to qualifying, after a course of study for two years, for admission to the Medical College at Delhi.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN AND OF THE GARDENS IN CALCUTTA, AND OF THE LLYOD BOTANIC GARDEN, DARJEELING, FOR THE YEAR 1913-1914.

ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN.

1. General.—With the exception of the cyclonic storm, the effects of which are mentioned in some details below, the year under review has been favourable from a climatic point of view. The rainfall registered in the district was, in amount, quite sufficient for plant growth and favourably distributed throughout the year. This remark applied to the gardens in Calcutta as well as the Royal Botanic Garden and Barrackpore Park. It would, however, be difficult to have a season favourable to all classes of plants, and probably the rainfall in excess of the normal which was welcomed by most horticulturists was responsible for a comparative failure in the rose garden of the last mentioned park.

It is noteworthy that unfavourable weather conditions are relatively of much more importance in climates like that of Calcutta than are plant diseases whether insect or fungoid. To a lesser degree this statement may be true of plants of economic importance, but all seem to be less affected by disease than the vegetation of cooler climates. With the exception of some plants in the nurseries, the garden may be said to be free from disease. But a garden, situated, say in middle Europe, of a similar area containing as many species would certainly have felt the effects of one disease or another in any year. This is all the more noteworthy when it follows the consideration that many of the plants in cultivation in the gardens are foreigners. They are endemic in other parts of the world and are put to the test of new conditions and yet seem to have left the ills to which they are subject behind them. Nor do they seem to be particularly liable to the diseases which they find in these new conditions.

The cyclone above referred to has been responsible for some 50 deaths. The endemic element here is less affected than the foreign species of Casuarina, an introduced tree which have suffered most, but the damage has been general, and it would be unsafe to undertake a comparison of the relative liablility of indigenous and exotic trees to the effects of cyclonic storms and to generalise on a single instance.

The care of the river bank has, as in former years, called for not a little attention. and in the beginning of the year all hands were engaged in battling against the effects of high tides and storms. The advent of high speed ferry steamers has also had its effect in this direction, for the back-wash and sidewave caused is more damaging than that produced by ocean-going craft whose speed on the river is less. The system of rivetting noted in former reports has been continued with success and as bricks become available the work will more rapidly gain completion.

A contract has been given out for the burning of 20 lakhs of bricks—a work which entails the formation of a bund along the fore-shore and round the brickfield. This part of the garden has been liable to flooding at high tide. but the river will now have a chance of silting up the area and subsequently valuable space for a herbaceous garden ought to be available. To encourage this silting, spurs have been thrown out at right angles to the bank and all available garden labour in addition to the contract labour has been engaged on the improvement. The number of bricks made to date is roughly 15 lakhs. The routine work of the garden has been kept going and, in addition. a beginning made with the repair of roads most in need of attention.

2. Plant and Seed Exchange.—During the year 5,102 plants were received and 55,777 distributed. Of the latter 2,930 were sent to Delhi for the new Capital, 4,400 to Bankipore for a similar purpose, while the remainder were distributed to various Governments, Local Boards, the Public Works Department and to charitable institutions. Amongst plants distributed, figure several consignments of orchids. Mr. G. H. Cave, Curator of the Lloyd Botanic Garden, Darjeeling, has been responsible for the collection and forwardal of these to Calcutta, as well as for the collection of packets of seeds too numerous to mention here. The above distribution of plants is the largest for several years. Packets of seeds sent out number 1,622, but a consignment collected during the year has still to be made up and distributed.

3. Herbarium and Library.—During the year 9,665 specimens of Indian plants were added to the Herbarium; the chief contributions were the following:—over 3,500 sheets of Travancore plants collected by Mr. C. C. Calder, Offg. Superintendent, and Mr. M. S. Ramaswami, Offg. Curator of the Herbarium, during their tour in that district in August and September 1913; about 800 sheets of Garo Hills plants obtained by Messrs. D. Hooper and S. C. Banerji; about 600 sheets of East Himalayan plants received from Mr. G. H. Cave, Darjeeling; nearly 500 named sheets of South Indian plants collected by Mr. M. S. Ramaswami during 1908-09 and presented by him; about the same number of Madura plants from Rev. A. Sauliere, S.J.; over 400 Kumaon plants from Mr. N. Gill of the Kumaon gardens and about 200 Anaimalai specimens from Mr. C. E. C. Fischer, Deputy Conservator of Forests, Coimbatore. Besides these, quite a number of collections consisting of fewer than 200 plants were received from various parts of India.

Of the extra-Indian contributions, the following are the principal: about 600 Philippine plants from the Bureau of Science, Manila; over 500 plants from the Buitenzorg Botanic Garden; nearly 300 Scandinavian plants sent by Mr. R. Gross; about 200 plants from the Singapore Botanic Gardens and about the same number of Siamese plants from the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew. Smaller accessions of Cryptogams, mostly from Europe, were also incorporated.

The incorporation of named sheets, though not calling for expert botanical knowledge, requires careful and reliable work and cannot safely be left to subordinates. It is a problem, for it usurps much of the time of the superior staff. Some 10,560 sheets were actually laid in during the year.

The total number of duplicates distributed was 3,655 sheets consisting mostly of Himalayan, South Indian and Malayan species. They were sent to 37 different botanical institutions throughout the world.

Apart from the working out of regular collections, just under 800 plants were identified for various correspondents and of this number, 462 were for the Forest Research Institute at Dehra Dun.

Library work was carried on as usual; the number of accessions by purchase or exchange being 50. A number of index slips for the periodicals in the library was prepared and supplied to the Asiatic Society of Bengal which is engaged in preparing a catalogue of scientific literature in libraries, in and around Calcutta. The Officiating Superintendent and the Officiating Curator of the Herbarium are engaged in the preparation of an Index to all species of Indian plants not included in Hooker's Flora of British India. This is intended partly for publication and partly for a card catalogue for the immediate use of workers in the Herbarium.

4. Publications.—An Appendix to Volume XI of the Annals of the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta, being a supplement to Part I "the Species of Calamus" with 83 superb plates, by Dr. Odorado Beccari, was published. A revised and enlarged index for the whole of Volume XI of the Annals by Major A. T. Gage, I.M.S., was issued along with it. An "Alphabetical List of non-herbaceous phanerogams in cultivation in the open in the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta" also by Major Gage, was published. This last work should facilitate exchanges of plants, seeds or material for systematic, anatomical, physiological or chemical investigations with other botanical institutions.

Of the Records of the Botanical Survey of India, the following have been issued:—A general index to Volume IV, by Messrs. M. S. Ramaswami and S. C. Banerji; Volume VI, No. 2, by Messrs. W. W. Smith, G. H. Cave and M. S. Ramaswami; Volume VI, No. 3, by Mr. H. N. Dixon; Volume VI, No. 4, by Messrs. W. W. Smith and G. H. Cave and Volume VII, No. 1, by Father Blatter; other numbers are at present in the press.

5. Financial.—Of the total allotment of Rs. 71,467 for salaries and establishment, Rs. 57,275-13-3 were expended leaving Rs. 14,191-2-9. This was practically all saved under salaries, Rs. 116-14-3 only being saved under establishment. If account is taken of Rs. 2,496 transferred to the Eden and Curzon Gardens the net saving comes to Rs. 11,695-2-9. The revenue was Rs. 584-5 or Rs. 509-5 above the sanctioned estimated figure Rs. 75. Rupees 654-10 were spent out of a travelling allowance of Rs. 1,000 and Rs. 10,256-12-2 out of the allotment of Rs. 11,833 for regular contingencies. Of the contract contingencies plus the savings under this head from last year—a total of Rs. 29,856-5-10—Rs. 12,406-2-3 were spent. The saving under this head to be carried over to next year's account is therefore Rs. 17,450-3-7, but the extra expenditure on brickmaking and the reclaiming of the east portion of the garden will be heavy items against this sum.

CALCUTTA GARDENS.

Nothing on a large scale has been undertaken in these gardens during the past year, but attention has been given to the usual horticultural operations, and the gardens have been kept in good condition. The year was favourable to cold season annuals, and the Canna gardens presented a fine appearance. Mr. North has given the customary advisory attention to the Government House and Barrackpore Gardens. The total allotment for these gardens amounted to Rs. 42,428, if. Rs. 2,496 transferred from the budget of the Royal Botanic Garden, Sibpur, be added. Of this total, Rs. 40,432-7-9 were spent; the savings effected therefore amount to Rs. 1,995-8-3. The sums collected and paid into the Bank of Bengal as revenue were Rs. 370.

LLOYD BOTANIC GARDEN, DARJEELING.

It is impossible in the compass of a short report to do justice to the work which Mr. Cave who has held charge throughout the year so admirably carries on. Routine horticultural work well done figures largely, but there are, besides, special investigations which have now come to be a feature of the work of the garden. Among these the collection and distribution of Himalayan seeds, plants and bulbs is a work which requires not a little botanical knowledge, not to mention the difficulties and fatigues, though at the same time pleasant diversions, of jungle exploration. During the year now under review, some 13,551 plants, 7,544 dozen seedlings, 3,734 bulbs and 1,499 packets of seeds have been distributed in addition to specimens and seeds sent down to Calcutta. The harvesting and preparation of these would by themselves, tax the energies of an able Curator, but besides this special work, time has been found to experiment with the possible introduction of plants which may for any reason be suitable for adding to the general collections. Nor do such experiments always fail as the introduction of Primula malacoides obtained three years ago and now establishing itself with vigour shows. From the number of visitors (44,615) to the garden it would seem that Darjeeling appreciates the facilities afforded for recreation and plant study.

The only blot on a favourable report for the year lies in the labour question. The state of the labour market continues as represented in the last few annual reports but, in this respect, the garden would not appear to be suffering alone. In the tea gardens especially there is an outcry for labour, and the closing of Nepal to recruitment has not tended to help matters.

The savings effected from an establishment allotment of Rs. 11,066 after transference of Rs. 456 from contingencies to this head have been Rs. 24-14-2. Out of an allotment of Rs. 200 for travelling expenses Rs. 106-15 have been saved. The total expenditure under contingencies was Rs. 2,670-2, leaving a saving of Rs. 65-14 effected.

Offg. Superintendent of the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta, and of the Lloyd Botanic Garden, Darjeeling.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 18th May 1914.

Summary.—During the week under review general rain fell throughout the Province accompanied by severe storm. The rainfall was heavy in the western as well as in parts of eastern districts, causing some damage to young jute and paddy plants in low lands. It has also impeded the sowing and weeding operations in places. State and prospects of standing crops are fair. Cattle-disease is reported from nine districts. The average price of common rice for the Province has slightly risen as compared with that of the previous week.

FINL. DEPT., SEP. REV. BRANCH, CALCUTTA, the 12th May 1914.

No. 273T.-Com.—The 23rd May 1914.—The following communique regarding the opening of seven Chinese ports to foreign trade is published for general information.

H. L. STEPHENSON,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 10 (3632), dated Peking, the 12th January 1914.

BY virtue of a Presidential order, dated the 9th instant, the Chinese Government have spontaneously opened to foreign trade seven towns in North China. These new "ports" are Kueihuach'eng, Kalgan, Dolonor, Chihfeng, Taonanfu, Hulutao and Lungkow, and the main result of their "opening" will be to develop international trade and interests in Inner Mongolia.

2. Kueihuach'eng is in the extreme north of Shansi: it is a town of approximately 200,000 inhabitants and is an important market for skins, camel hair, ropes and cereals. Kalgan, in the north of Chihli, has a normal population of 430,000, and is the principal outlet from Inner Mongolia. Both places are connected by rail with Peking. Dolonor, east of Kalgan, contains a mixed population of about 15,000, but it is more in the nature of a military encampment than a commercial city. Chihfeng is about 100 miles east of Dolonor. Both the latter towns lie outside the great wall. Taonanfu is an important point on the Mongolian frontier of Fengtien, and will shortly be connected by rail with the South Manchurian Railway.

3. Hulutao was artificially created, under a British Engineer, during the latter years of the Manchu rule with the object of forming an ice-free port on the Gulf of Liaotung under purely Chinese control. It is already connected with the Peking-Mukden Railway by a branch line from Lienshan. The question of improving the water approaches to Newchwang by the conservancy of the Liao river is at present under consideration and if, as is to be hoped, the scheme materializes there may be a (b)tter prospect of retaining for Newchwang and Hulutao the trade which now to some extent being diverted to Dairen.

4. Lungkow, in Shantung, is situated about 100 miles (we)st of Chefoo and is already one of the principal centres of the junk-bor(ne) coolie traffic into Manchuria. Some of this traffic might possibly now f(ind) its way to Hulutao.

5. Of the above seven towns, three only are likely (to) have much interest for British commerce; namely, Kueihuach'en Kalgan and possibly Hulutao. Taonanfu might also become a distribu(tin)g centre for trade with the Eastern section of Inner Mongolia. Th(e a)dvantages of Kueihuach eng and Kalgan are that British goods will, as (is) the case with the inland open marts of Manchuria, now reach those pl(ac)es on payment of a single import duty of 5 per cent. instead of the additio(na)l 2½ per cent. levied on transit trade. * * * * *
The opening of both these places will enable foreig(n)ers to (w)atch at close quarters the working of the transit pass trade and wil(l) facilitate the immense export business of Tientsin as well as develop for(ei)gn commercial intercourse with both Inner and Outer Mongolia.

Rules for the management of water-works under the supervision of the Government of Bengal.

1. The management of the water-supply system of every municipality in which such system has been introduced shall vest in the Municipal Commissioners (hereinafter called "the Commissioners"), and the Commissioners shall perform the duties prescribed in the following rules.

2. The Commissioners shall be responsible for the proper application of the water-supply funds. It shall be their duty to take requisite steps to rectify defects in case they find that water-rates are irregularly collected in any instance or are insufficient for carrying out the purposes of Part VII of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884.

3. The Commissioners shall frame the annual budget of income and expenditure on account of the water-works, and shall submit it to the Sanitary Engineer for any remaks he may consider necessary. The Sanitary Engineer shall return the budget with his remarks to the Chairman of the municipality.

4. The Chairman of the municipality shall, at the end of each month, prepare a statement of the accounts of the water-supply funds, which he shall submit to the Commissioners at their next meeting.

5. The Commissioners at a meeting shall, every month, inquire into all matters connected with the water-supply of the municipality, and examine and pass the accounts submitted under rule 4, and shall record that the accounts have been passed in the book of the minutes of the proceedings of the meeting.

6. In all professional matters connected with the water-works the Commissioners shall be guided by the advice of the Sanitary Engineer.

The Commissioners shall afford the Sanitary Engineer all information he may from time to time require, and shall consider and attend to all communications received from him.

7. The Sanitary Engineer shall exercise complete professional control over the Superintendent of the Pumping Station.

8. The Sanitary Engineer shall visit, or shall depute a representative to visit, the water-works not less than once a year, and shall submit a report thereon to the Sanitary Board. The Commissioners shall arrange for the proper inspection of the boilers and pumping machinery not less than twice a year by a qualified Machinery Inspector or firm of Machinery Inspectors who must be approved by the Sanitary Engineer. The reports of the Inspectors must be submitted in Sanitary Engineer's Form No. 6 (Appendix A) to the Sanitary Engineer, and by him to the Sanitary Board:

Provided that in the case of small water-works the said inspection may, with the consent of the Sanitary Engineer, be held only once a year.

9. Until all points raised in the reports of the Sanitary Engineer and the Machinery Inspector have been disposed of, the Commissioners shall submit to the District Magistrate for transmission to the Sanitary Engineer a monthly progress report showing how far effect has been given to the recommendations made in the reports.

10. (1) The Commissioners shall cause to be kept at the pumping station—

(a) a stock account in Sanitary Engineer's Form No. 4 (Appendix A), showing the daily transactions in coal and engine-room stores;

(b) an engine-room log in Sanitary Engineer's Form No. 3 (Appendix A);

(c) a filter-bed log in Sanitary Engineer's Form No. 5 (Appendix A), or a filter log in Sanitary Engineer's Form No. 5A (Appendix A); and (d) such other forms as the Sanitary Engineer may from time to time prescribe.

(2) The said forms shall be written up daily by the Superintendent, and shall be available at all times for inspecting officers and visitors appointed under rule 13.

11. The Commissioners shall submit to the Sanitary Engineer not later than the tenth of each month:—

(b) an abstract of work done by the pumping machinery during the preceding month in Sanitary Engineer's Form No. 2 (Appendix A);

(c) a copy of the filter-bed log or filter log, Sanitary Engineer's Forms Nos. 5 and 5A (Appendix A) for the same day of the preceding month as that to which the indicator diagrams, referred to in clause (a), apply; and (d) such other information as the Sanitary Engineer may from time to time require.

12. It shall be the duty of the Commissioners to see that the rules for working settling tanks and slow sand and mechanical filters in water-works (Appendix B) are properly attended to by the Superintendent of the pumping station. If, owing to the design of the works, the rules cannot be conformed to, the matter shall be referred to the Sanitary Engineer for orders.

13. (1) The Commissioners shall appoint two of their number in rotation to be monthly visitors of the water-works.

(2) It shall be the duty of these visitors to ascertain by inquiry—

(a) whether an efficient supply of water is being given;

(b) whether the Superintendent and water-works establishment are attending to their duties and a proper discipline is being maintained;

(c) whether the works, machinery, plant, implements, materials and all other things connected with the water-works are being properly maintained in an efficient condition;

An extract of the Proceedings relating to the water-supply system at each meeting of the Commissioners shall be forwarded, within a week of the date of the meeting, to the Sanitary Engineer, who may, if he thinks fit, and shall, if the Commissioners so desire, submit it with his remarks to the Sanitary Board.

16. The Sanitary Commissioner shall arrange once a quarter for a chemical and bacteriological analysis of the water in each of the water-works, and the results of the analysis shall be communicated to the municipality and laid before the Commissioners at a meeting.

17. (1) Subject to the general control of the Commissioners, the duties prescribed for the Commissioners in these rules may, if the Commissioners so decide, be performed by a Committee, to be called "The Water-Works Committee," consisting—

(a) at district head-quarters, of the Chairman and the Vice-Chairman of the municipality and four other persons to be elected by the Municipal Commissioners at a meeting;

(b) at other municipal towns, of the Chairman and the Vice-Chairman of the municipality and three other persons to be elected by the Municipal Commissioners at a meeting.

[See Rule 12.]

RULES FOR WORKING SETTLING TANKS AND SLOW SAND AND MECHANICAL FILTERS IN WATER-WORKS IN BENGAL.

(Revised by order of the Sanitary Board, Bengal, January 21st, 1913.)

Settling Tanks.

1. It is important that water drawn from rivers, channels or streams should have as long a settlement as possible before being passed on to slow sand filters, in order that the action of sunlight, the precipitation of suspended matter and the natural tendency to elimination of pathogenic bacteria may have their maximum purifying effect.

2. Settling tanks are worked either on (a) the continuous flow, or (b) the intermittent system. In the first system, the tanks are kept full, and the water is continually admitted at one end and drawn off from near the surface at the other. In order that this system may be properly used with slow sand filters, the unfiltered water-pumps must be worked continuously throughout the 24 hours or the settling tanks must be fed from a storage reservoir. When designed on the intermittent system, each tank in turn is filled and then kept full until the tanks filled before it are drawn down; the settled water is then decanted through a floating arm or similar apparatus until the tank is lowered to the lowest draw off level, when it is again filled.

The whole available storage capacity of settling tanks should always be used as far as possible. On the other hand, care must be taken in tanks unprovided with fixed overflows, not to fill them to a greater depth than they are designed for.

3. When a deposit of from 18 inches to 2 feet of silt has formed at the bottom, the tank should be emptied and cleaned out. This work must always be done in the dry weather and preferably between February and April.

4. In the rains and when there is an excessive amount of suspended matter in the raw water, clarification will generally have to be assisted by the use of a coagulant. The precipitant most commonly used in Bengal water-works is aluminoferric. This depends for its effective action upon the alkalinity of the water. If more of the chemical is used than can be decomposed by the carbonates present. it will remain dissolved in the water and will be wasted.

Generally speaking, not more than 2 grains per gallon of aluminoferric should be used. Before decidin on the quantity to be added a sample of the water to be treated should be sent to the Sanitary Commissioner for analysis and advice on this point.

5. The aluminoferric must be added at the inlet end of the settling tanks, and experiments should be made to ascertain the time taken by a given quantity to dissolve. One grain per gallon is 1 lb. per 7,000 gallons treated. Thus. if 300,000 gallons per day are treated with 2 grains per gallon, the daily quantity used will be 86 lbs.

Slow Sand Filters.

6. The rate of delivery on to a sand filter is regulated by (a) the available head between the settling tanks and the inlet valve, and (b) the amount the inlet valve is open.

The rate of flow through the filter depends upon (c) the resistance of the sand in the filter, and (d) the filtration head or difference in level between the surface of water on the filter-bed and the water in the outlet well.

The discharge from the outlet well to the clear water reservoir depends on (e) the amount the outlet valve is open, or in the case of a telescopic outlet the extent to which the bell mouth is lowered.

It is obvious that these factors are mutually interdependent, for more water cannot flow out of a filter than is delivered on to it, nor than can make its way through the sand.

Factors (a) and (c) continually tend to vary, so (b) and (e) must also be altered from time to time in order to maintain a constant flow through the filter. In some filters the inlet is controlled by a ball valve which keeps the level of the water on the filter always the same. In this case, the flow through the filter is regulated by (e). In all filters the surface of the water on the sand should be always kept as nearly the same level as possible and the filtration head regulated by the outlet valve or telescopic weir. The depth of water on the sand should be somewhere between 2 feet and 3 feet 6 inches. Gauges measuring to the same datum should be fixed on the wall of the filter and in the outlet well so that the difference in level can be easily measured.

7. Filtration should be carried on continuously day and night as nearly as possible at the same rate, usually somewhere between 3 or 4 inches vertical an hour. The rate of flow must on no account exceed the latter figure.

Where there is no direct method of measuring the flow of water through a filter such as an outlet gauge notch or a meter, it may be ascertained by closing the inlet valve and leaving the outlet valve open. The fall of the surface of the water in inches at the end of an hour will give the rate of flow per hour.

8. In a new filter or one recently scraped, the filtration head required will be very small, but it will rapidly increase. In the usual way, a filter should be scraped before the filtration head reaches 12 inches. It must never be allowed to exceed 15 inches.

9. A filter should be scraped by carefully removing the slimy ooze which has formed on the top, together with about ¼ inch of sand. The sand removed may subsequently be used again if properly washed in a sand-washer. The depth of fine sand must never be reduced to less than 18 inches, and when this thickness is reached, the filter must be replenished. Before replenishing about 2 or 3 inches of sand should be removed, and the remainder dug over and loosened; clean washed sand is then to be added until the original thickness is obtained.

10. If the water filtered has been of a very bad quality or the filter has been mismanaged, or been long in use the whole filter may require to be renewed. In this case, the whole of the filtering material, coarse sand and gravel as well as the under-drains must be removed and washed before replacing.

11. After a filter-bed has been scraped, replenished, or renewed, it should, if possible, be charged from below by admitting filtered water very slowly until the surface is about 3 inches above the sand; the filling can then be completed from above. If there is no arrangement for filling from below, the filling must be very carefully and slowly done from above.

After filling, water should be passed through the filter at the rate of about one inch vertical per hour and run to waste for 24 hours after scraping and four days after replenishing or renewing.

12. Daily records must be kept in the filter-bed log-book [Sanitary Engineer's Form 5 (Appendix A)] of the quantity of water filtered and the filtration head, recorded at intervals of three hours throughout the day.

Mechanical filters.

13. For each installation of mechanical filters, rules for working must be obtained from the makers of the plant, but the following points must be attended to in all cases:—

(i) The efficiency of the plant depends upon the proper proportioning and correct addition of the coagulant. The actual amount of coagulant required is determined by local conditions. It will vary during different seasons of the year and can be best ascertained by experiment in actual working.

(ii) The precipitant generally used is sulphate of alumina, and this should be purchased under a proper specification of chemical composition. The precipitant is made up into a strong solution in large vats and added to the raw water by an adjustable apparatus. The water so treated is then allowed to settle for some hours before filtration.

In cases, where sedimentation continues for a considerable time after the coagulant has been applied, it may be necessary to add a small additional quantity of the chemical to the water immediately before passing it to the filters.

(iii) The rate of filtration should be kept as nearly as possible constant and must not exceed the rate for which the filters had been designed. Generally, filters are provided with automatic controllers, and these must on no account be tampered with or made to pass more water than intended.

(iv) The maximum filtration head permissible varies with different types of plant; it is usually not more than 10 feet. When the maximum head is reached, as shown by the indicator, the filter must be washed.

(v) Washing must always be done with filtered water. In the case of a battery of two or more pressure filters, they may be arranged so that one can be washed with filtered water from another.

Washing must be continued until the waste water becomes quite clear. After washing, the filtered water must be run to waste for 20 minutes before connecting to the town.

(vi) Daily records must be kept in the filter log-book [Sanitary Engineer's Form 5A (Appendix A)] of the quantity of water filtered, the amount of sulphate of alumina used, the hours during which filtration has been carried on the filtration head (recorded at intervals of three hours), the length of time taken to wash each filter, and the hour at which it was washed.

2. It is proposed to allot 18 scholarships of Rs. 30 a month each, tenable for two years. Out of the five scholarships allotted for students who are residents of the Presidency of Bengal, two have already been awarded and three remain to be awarded.

3. The object of the scholarships being to enable ladies to enter the College at Delhi and to take up a professional course there, the award will be made to those, otherwise eligible, who are prepared to join the Junior Intermediate class of a recognised College or any similar class this year with a view to qualifying, after a course of study for two years, for admission to the Medical College at Delhi.

4. Candidates for these scholarships must be statutory natives of India. They must also guarantee that they will study for two years in a college affiliated to the local University, the course leading up to the Intermediate examination, or an examination recognized for this purpose as equivalent thereto, such special subjects as may be prescribed by that University as qualifying for entrance upon a professional course of medical study being included in the course. They must also undertake that on the completion of these two years they will seek admission to the Medical College to be established at Delhi, and continue their studies up to the examinations for the Medical degree for which that College will prepare students.

5. The question of providing scholarships tenable during the period of study in Delhi is under consideration by the Governing Body of the College. It is hoped to make an announcement on this subject shortly. The continuance of the scholarships and the award of any further scholarships will be contingent on the progress of the scholars and the receipt by the Local Government of good reports upon them.

6. Scholarships will be awarded to such lady students as the Local Government may, on the results of the examination which closes the secondary school course, regard as most likely to profit by the facilities which the proposed College at Delhi will offer. Applications in the enclosed form, which must be submitted through the head of the College or head of a high school of which the applicant is a student, will be received in the office of the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, up to the 31st July 1914. The scholarships will run for two years from the date on which each scholarship-holder enters on her preliminary course of study. In the case of a lady student who has already entered upon a course of study, the successful completion of which would qualify her for admission to the College, a scholarship may be awarded with retrospective effect from the date on which she entered upon the course or any date subsequent thereto

Wireless storm-signals experimentally established.

No. 257 (third publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 501 of 1914), are republished:—

A system of Wireless signals to indicate the regions threatened by cyclones is experimentally established on the east, north-west and west coasts of Madagascar, as undermentioned:—

(1) A cyclone affecting the region north-west of Madagascar or the Mozambique channel:

The signal, coming from the Tananarive observatory, will be made at every even hour, between 6 hours and 24 hours (inclusive), by the stations at Mayotta and Mojanga alternately.

(2) A cyclone affecting the region north-east and east of Madagascar:

The signal will be made at every even hour, between 6 hours and 24 hours (inclusive) by the stations at Mayotta and Diego Suarez alternately.

In both cases, the signal will be preceded and followed by a warning signal — — — — — — — — — — — — repeated at short intervals. This signal, which is exclusively reserved for this purpose, will be sufficient, in the event of no further details being given, to indicate that there is reason to fear the passage of a cyclone.

Ships provided with wireless apparatus are invited to signal immediately any information concerning cyclonic disturbances to the Wireless Telegraph stations of the colony, in order to extend the range of these signals as far as possible.

Note.—It is assumed that the above-mentioned time is Standard Mean time of the 45th meridian.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE JAIL DEPARTMENT IN THE PRESIDENCY OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1913.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

JAILS.

DARJEELING, THE 25TH MAY 1914.

RESOLUTION—No. 549P.—D.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Jail Department in the Presidency of Bengal for the year 1913.

Read also—

The Reports for the years 1912 and 1911 and the Resolutions of Government recorded thereon.

A noteworthy incident of the year's administration was the closing of the old Presidency Jail situated on the Maidan. With the approval of the Secretary of State, the original jurisdiction of the High Court was extended so as to include the jail known as the Alipore Central Jail, which will henceforth be utilized and designated as the Presidency Jail. The effect of the release of prisoners on the 12th December 1911, on the occasion of the celebration of the Imperial Durbar at Delhi, in decreasing the jail population has now almost ceased to be felt, and the daily average strength of convicted prisoners in confinement has risen from 10,091 to 10,611. The number of prisoners in jail at the close of the year increased by 769. The increase was shared by both convicts and under-trial prisoners: the daily average number of the latter was 1,452 against 1,211 in the previous year. The average period of detention of under-trial prisoners before the Courts was on the whole slightly less than in 1912; but it was excessive at Midnapore and in Sessions cases at Krishnagar, Khulna and Mymensingh. The increased jail population was accompanied by more offences committed and more punishments inflicted. It may be noted, however, that though the ratio of punishments was greater, the offences were more of a nature demanding minor penalties; the infliction of major punishments under most heads was less frequent, while the proportion of whippings to total punishments remained practically unchanged. The number of sentences of imprisonment with whipping shows a continuous and notable decline from the year 1908, except in the year 1912: the number in 1913 was 11 as compared with 65 in 1908. The increase in the proportion of convicts undergoing sentences not exceeding one month is a less satisfactory symptom. It now amounts to more than one-third of the convicts imprisoned.

2. The death-rate among prisoners declined slightly, and is lower than it has been during the last five years. A distinct improvement was noticeable in the case of some of the more unhealthy jails; in Burdwan the high death-rate was due to exceptional causes. A few outbreaks of cholera were promptly checked, and the deaths from malaria declined by over 50 per cent. Though dysentery was more prevalent, it is satisfactory to note that in 14 jails no deaths resulted from this cause. Barisal continues to suffer most from this disease, which is under investigation in that jail by a Special Officer. The water-supply is reported to be open to grave suspicion, and His Excellency in Council considers it desirable that the arrangement between this jail and the municipal authorities in the matter of water-supply should be definitely settled. The larger number of prisoners admitted to hospital is attributed not to more widespread sickness, but to a stronger insistence on the prompt and early treatment of disease in hospital. The adoption of this policy and the more efficient supervision which is rendered possible by fewer changes in the personnel of the medical staff cannot fail to effect an improvement in the general health of the jails.

3. A very satisfactory feature of the year's work is the continued attention that is being devoted to the problem of juvenile criminality. The "Star Class" system in force in the Juvenile Jail at Alipore which was described in the last year's report, continues to give good results: the boys receive elementary education and instruction in some trade to enable them to obtain employment on their release. A gratifying advance has been made by the opening of a special ward in the Juvenile Jail for the accommodation of juvenile offenders undergoing trial. Progress is not confined to Calcutta, as all Central Jails and some of the larger District Jails are provided with special juvenile wards; while a depôt for the reception of young female offenders has been opened in the Midnapore Central Jail. The Inspector-General remarks that boys are and can be improved by the care and discipline of Juvenile Jails; but that, to ensure real good, such effort requires to be supplemented by an agency like the Borstal Committee or "After Care" Association, which will take charge of the boys and find suitable employment for them. The Governor in Council is in hearty agreement with the Inspector-General on this subject. The effort to increase the reformative character of the treatment of juvenile criminals by means of probation and supervision, and the Borstal system of confinement in a special institution have been the most successful features of prison reform in other countries; and His Excellency in Council awaits with interest the forthcoming report of the Juvenile Offenders Committee. Comprehensive efforts, it is hoped, may yet be made to extend and systematize the methods of dealing with the young offender. Meanwhile an institution in charge of a Superintendent will shortly be opened in Calcutta, to be used as a House of Detention for juvenile offenders. A number of ladies and gentlemen will be appointed visitors, and in the building will be located a Juvenile Offenders Court composed of selected Honorary Magistrates.

4. In the warder service the number of resignations has increased, and the Inspector-General has again urged the necessity of increased pay and a pension for all grades of warders. His detailed proposals on these subjects have received sympathetic consideration from Government; and it is hoped that certain improvements will be effected with a view to render the service more attractive. Connected with the strength of the warder force is the question of the employment of convicts as prison officers. The proportion of convicts employed was less, but the number employed is still large. The scheme for the reorganization of the jailor establishment has now been sanctioned.

5. Owing to the continuous rise in the price of food-grains, the dietary charges show an increase. The cost per head was Rs. 40 compared with Rs. 35 in the previous year. The dietary recommended by Major McCay, which has been introduced on a voluntary basis, has been used somewhat more extensively, especially in the western districts of the Presidency, but it still remains unpopular. The Inspector-General gives reasons for the attitude of Bengali prisoners towards this scale of diet. To what extent this diet can be introduced as a permanent measure, and what modifications may be necessary to suit the circumstances of Bengal, can only be apparent after practical tests have been carried out and the physiological and economical results of the experiment have been observed.

6. The Governor in Council has read with interest of the work of the Jail Department in the distribution of quinine. Arrangements have been made for the supply to the Sanitation Department of quinine in "treatment" form. A treatment consists of 80 grains, that is, 20 tablets of 4 grains each, placed in attractive and handy glass tubes. The tablets are made in the jail, packed in tubes and boxes, and distributed to Civil Surgeons, Hospitals and other Agencies. Last year six thousand pounds of quinine were distributed, and the Juvenile Jail can now produce daily forty pounds of quinine in tablet form. The Governor in Council highly appreciates the services rendered by the Jail Department during the last 20 years in extending the benefits of this useful product.

The Inspector-General has again drawn attention to the use that might be made of jail manufactures by other branches of Government service. His observations on the subject will be communicated to other departments.

7. The names of officers whom the Inspector-General has commended for good work have been noted. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to Lieutenant-Colonel W. J. Buchanan, C.I.E., I.M.S., for his efficient and sympathetic administration of the Department during the year.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Prisons, Bengal, for information and guidance.

Ordered, also, that a copy of this Resolution and a copy of the Report be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department.

Ordered, also, that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. G. CUMMING,

Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Provided that—

(a) such a voting paper shall also be supplied to any elector on his applying to the Returning Officer for the same at any time before the date appointed under these rules for the counting of votes, and

(b) no election shall be invalidated by reason of the non-receipt by an elector of his voting paper.

8. Before the date appointed by the Local Government in this behalf, every elector desirous of recording his vote shall send his voting paper by registered post to the Returning Officer after recording his vote thereon in the manner prescribed therein:

Provided that voting papers which are not received by the Returning Officer before the date appointed under these rules for the counting of votes shall be rejected.

10. (1) The Returning Officer shall attend for the purpose of counting the votes on such date and at such time and place as may be appointed by the Local Government in this behalf.

(2) Every candidate may be present in person or may send a representative, duly authorised by him in writing, to watch the process of counting.

(3) The Returning Officer shall show the voting papers, but not the counterfoils, to the candidates or their representatives.

(4) If any objection is made to any voting paper on the ground that it is invalid under these rules, or to the rejection by the Returning Officer of a voting paper, such objection shall be decided at once by the Returning Officer, whose decision shall, subject to the provisions of rules 15 and 16, be final.

11. (1) When the counting of the votes has been completed, the Returning Officer shall, subject to the provisions of section 4, forthwith declare the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, to whom the largest number of votes have been given to be elected.

(2) When an equality of votes is found to exist between any candidates and the addition of a vote will entitle any of the said candidates to be declared elected, the determination of the person to whom such one additional vote shall be deemed to have been given shall be made by lot to be drawn in the presence of the Returning Officer and in such manner as he may determine.

12. Upon the completion of the counting and after the result has been declared by him, the Returning Officer shall seal up the voting papers and all other documents relating to the election and shall retain the same for a period of six months, and thereafter cause them to be destroyed.

13. The Returning Officer shall publish the names of the elected candidates in the Calcutta Gazette.

The following conditions must also be strictly complied with:—

Each new type of motor vehicle intended for licensing must be presented at such place as the Commissioner may appoint for inspection. The proprietor must at the time of inspection produce the certificate from the maker stating that the materials of which all the parts of the vehicle are constructed are good, that the machinery is safe, and that the vehicle is in every way fit for use as a public carriage.

8. If, after inspection, the vehicle is approved, such approval may extend to all vehicles of that description, and others of the same type need not be again presented except as hereinafter provided, but taken to such place as the Commissioner may appoint to be registered and passed, provided a certificate from the maker is submitted with each vehicle presented for licensing purposes, stating that it is in every respect similar to that already approved and respecting which a certificate has been furnished.

It must be clearly understood that, if after the type has been passed, defects develop, which in the opinion of the Commissioner render it unsuitable as a type for public service, the Commissioner reserves the right to withdraw such approval entirely or until the defects have been remedied to his satisfaction.

9. A certificate from the proprietor, stating that there has been no alteration in the design of the machinery since the previous inspection and date covered by the makers' certificate, must be presented with each omnibus submitted for renewal of license. Should any alteration be made, full particulars of such must be stated and the same course may be required as for a first inspection.

10. Should it be deemed necessary, an expert will be employed to advise on the subject. The fee for the expert examination must be deposited by the proprietor with the Commissioner, which fee will be returned should the vehicle be passed without alteration being required.

11. When making application for the carriage to be inspected the proprietor must specify the route or routes upon which he intends the vehicles to ply, and these routes may not be departed from except after due notice has been given to the Commissioner, and sanction received.

NOTE.—Nothing in this regulation shall be taken to prohibit a proprietor changing the route as often as he chooses, provided the carriage has been previously certified to be fit for such route.

12. Omnibus must be so constructed that the following maxima of weight are in no case exceeded:—

Weight

Unladed ... ... 3 tons.

Or if the manufacturers prefer—

Back axle-weight laden ... ... 4 tons.

Chassis, length.

Clearance.—All the underparts of the vehicle inside the pivots of the front axle and steering arms (which must be placed as near as possible to the road wheels) as far back at least as the rear axle must clear the ground at least 10 inches when the vehicle is fully loaded, sufficient allowance in addition being made to provide for the wear of the tyres, set of the springs, or other causes of lessened height, so that the minimum clearance of 10 inch is at all times maintained.

Chassis, springs — Must be properly hung, of sufficient strength and flexibility to meet all purposes which may be required of them.

The rear springs must be attached to, or bear upon the back axle or axle-casing as near to the road wheels as possible and the distance between the outsides must not be less than 5 inches; where a cross spring is used, it must be so applied that it shall not cause or increase side ways. The front spring must be as wide apart as possible, and not less than 38 inches, from outside to outside.

Wheel-base — Should not exceed 14 feet 6 inches and it should in all cases be so proportioned that skidding or improper movements shall be as far as possible, avoided.

NOTE.—If it is found that a vehicle is apt to skid or be otherwise improperly moved unduly, the Commissioner reserves the right to serve a notice on the proprietor "not to use", and may refuse to license the vehicle again until the defects have been remedied.

Wheel track — For both front and rear wheels should coincide, and measurement from centre to centre taken in line with the axles, must not be less than 5 ft. 6 in. In no case must the front track be less than the rear.

Road Wheels — Must be of sufficient and suitable diameter, but not made so heavy as to throw an undue strain upon the steering gear or other parts.

Chassis, tyre — The materials of which the tyres are made must be soft and elastic, so as to reduce vibration, etc. Sectional tyres must not be fitted to a vehicle submitted for inspection and license.

Chassis, length — Must be such that the total length of the complete vehicle in no case exceeds "21 ft."

Chassis, breadth — The breadth must not be greater than 7 ft. 6 in. at any part.

14. Each vehicle must be fitted with at least two independent brakes each capable of stopping and holding carriage under all conditions: They must also, where necessary, be fitted with an approved form of compensating device.

NOTE.—The maintenance of the brakes in perfect order is of the utmost importance, and this will be at all times insisted upon. They will at any time be subject to inspection by the Police.

15. The brakes, should, as far as possible, be so fixed as to be capable of easy adjustment, and at least one must be supplied by a pedal. Brakes will not be deemed independent which are operated by pedals, or levers acting through the same connections, upon the same brake blocks, or upon the same brake drums and at least one must act directly upon the road wheel without any connection with the propelling gears.

16. The operation of either brake must be in no case declutched.

17. Stage carriages which are intended to ply upon routes which have bridges, will be subject to a special test, and additional brakes or further fittings may be required.

18. Each vehicle must be capable of being readily steered and able to turn a corner without unduly interfering with other traffic.

19. The steering arms, and other connections thereof, must be of ample strength, and as far as possible protected from damage by collision.

20. The ball and socket joints of steering connections. when such are used, should not be penda t but the longitudinal or transverse rods must be carried upon the ball.

21. All brake and steering connections secured with bolts or pins must have such bolts threaded and fitted with nuts, which latter must be locked or pinned. The whole of the brake and steering parts must be maintained in perfect order and will be subject to inspection at any time.

22. All parts connected by bolts, or studs and nuts, subject to severe vibration, must be fastened by lock nuts, or by nuts and approved spring or lock nut washers. to prevent their working loose and causing noise, and any carriage with lamp brackets or other fittings loose, and likely to cause unnecessary noise, will be regarded as unfit for public service.

23. The machinery must be so constructed that no undue noise or vibration arises from its use.

The maintenance of the carriage in a satisfactory condition in this respect will be strictly enforced.

24-Parganas.

No. 1587M.—The 1st June 1914.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 290 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Ben. Act III of 1884), the Governor in Council makes the following rules, subject to which the Commissioners of the Cossipore-Chitpore Municipality may allow communication-pipes to be laid down from the service-pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to private houses within the Municipality for domestic purposes only:—

Rules.

1. So long as the Commissioners deem it practicable and consistent with the maintenance of an efficient water-supply, they may allow any owner or occupier of a masonry building, paying a water-rate imposed under the provisions of Part VII of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, on the annual value of such building, when such annual value is not less than Rs. 150, to lay down communication-pipes from the service-pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to such building for domestic purposes only subject to the following rules and conditions.

2. The owner or occupier of any masonry building requiring water to be laid on to such building for domestic purposes, or requiring any addition or alteration to an existing water-supply, must apply for the same on a printed form to be supplied free of cost at the Municipal office.

3. A fee of Rs. 2 must be paid to the Commissioners by such owner or occupier for each building connection before any work is commenced, such fee to be in addition to all other costs and charges imposed under these rules.

4. Each building must have a separate connection, and extensions from the communication-pipe of one building to another shall not be permitted.

5. The owner or occupier of the building, in respect of which the connection is required, must pay the entire cost of the connection, including the supply and fixing of the fittings referred to in rule 7, and must also pay the cost of such alterations in, or repairs to, roads, drains, sewers, and gas or water-mains or pipes, and the cost of such other works, as may be necessitated by, or result from, the work of making such connection.

6. (1) The work required may, at the option of the Commissioners, either be carried out by the Commissioners themselves, at the expense of the owner or occupier of the building in respect of which the work is required, or may be carried out by a person or firm employed by such owner or occupier and approved by the Commissioners.

(2) The work must be done under the supervision of an officer appointed by the Commissioners in this behalf, and no connection must be made with the Municipal water-main except at such time as may be appointed, and in such position as may be selected, by an authorised Municipal officer.

7. A building connection shall comprise the following parts or fittings:—

(a) a brass or gun-metal ferrule inserted in the main supply-pipe;

(b) a galvanised iron communication-pipe from the ferrule to the meter;

(c) a stop-cock and its surface-box;

(d) a meter;

(e) service-pipes from the stop-cock to the taps; and

(f) taps.

8. (1) All the fittings referred to in rule 7 shall be exact duplicates of standard samples kept in the office of the Commissioners and approved by them in meeting.

(2) All fittings shall be inspected and tested and stamped by an officer of the Municipality before being fixed.

(3) If any owner or occupier shall desire to adopt any fitting of a pattern different from the standard patterns, he must present such fitting for the approval of the Chairman; and any fittings so presented may, if considered satisfactory by the Chairman, be stamped and samples thereof may be purchased and placed among the standard fittings.

9. The size of the ferrule referred to in clause (a) of rule 7 shall be decided by the Commissioners, but its diameter shall not differ from that of the communication-pipe referred to in clause (b) of that rule by more than ¼ inch.

10. (1) The diameter of the communication-pipe shall be determined with regard to the average pressure in the main supply-pipe at the point nearest the building for which a connection is required and to the quantity of water to be supplied.

(2) The diameter of the communication-pipe shall be such that it will be capable of delivering the estimated daily supply in six hours.

(3) The building connection, when fitted in position, must be capable of standing a pressure of 100 feet, and no water shall be supplied until this test has been applied by the Commissioners.

11. (1) Every tap shall be of the same size as the pipe to which it is attached, and shall be of brass and of the pattern known as "screw-down." Every tap shall be at least three feet above the road-level.

(2) The number of taps in a building shall be fixed in accordance with the annual valuation of such building as follows:—

Annual valuation of building				Number of taps
	Rs.		Rs.
Under	300			... 1
From	300	to	499	... 2
From	500	to	1,500	... 3

12. (1) On every communication-pipe a brass or gun-metal stop-cock, having the same water-way as such pipe, shall be placed as near as practicable to the point where that pipe enters the building to be supplied.

(2) The stop-cock shall be built in a brick chamber provided with a cast-iron surface cover-box so designed that it can be locked and the key of this box shall remain under the control of the Chairman.

(3) The stop-cock shall be capable of adjustment, so that the supply to the building may be regulated thereby.

13. (1) The meter shall be placed as near to the stop-cock as possible and in a position where it can be conveniently examined.

(2) The meter must be fixed in a brick chamber covered over with a cast-iron surface-box of approved pattern.

(3) Subject to the provisions of rule 14 no meter must be touched or interfered with in any way except with the permission of the Chairman.

14. The Commissioners shall depute an authorised person to read every meter not less than once a quarter, and shall give notice to the occupier at least twenty-four hours before the reading is recorded.

15. (1) Every owner or occupier of any building, in respect of which a connection has been made under these rules, shall be entitled to a supply of—

(a) four thousand gallons of water per quarter for each rupee, and

(b) a further proportionate number of gallons per quarter for every additional fraction of a rupee, paid by him quarterly as water-rate in respect of such building.

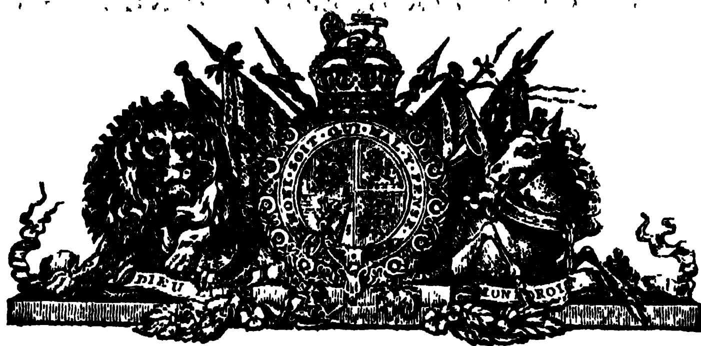

(2) For all water in excess of the amount allowed under sub-rule (1) such owner or occupier shall be charged quarterly as follows :—

	Per 1,000 gallons. Rs.	A.
(a) For any excess quantity of water not exceeding one-half of the amount of the free allowance	0	6
(b) For any excess quantity of water exceeding one-half of the amount of the free allowance, but not exceeding the amount of the free allowance	0	8
(c) For any excess quantity of water exceeding the amount of the free allowance, but not exceeding twice that amount...	0	12
(d) For any excess quantity of water exceeding twice the amount of the free allowance ...	1	4

16. If the owner or occupier of any building, which is supplied with water under these rules, shall refuse or neglect to pay any of the fees or charges imposed in accordance with these rules for a space of fourteen days after he has been served with a notice of demand for the same, the Commissioners may, at any time after the expiration of that period, and without further notice, disconnect any pipe forming part of the connection made in respect of such building, and may recover the cost of disconnecting such pipe from such owner or occupier:

Provided that the disconnection of such pipe shall not relieve any person from any liabilities which he may have incurred under these rules.

REVISED NOTICE.

HER EXCELLENCY LADY HARDINGE of Penshurst has decided to give, out of the funds which have been collected for a Medical College for Women at Delhi, a certain number of scholarships for lady students who may wish to join that institution when it is opened.

2. It is proposed to allot 18 scholarships of Rs. 30 a month each, tenable for two years. Out of the five scholarships allotted for students who are residents of the Presidency of Bengal, two have already been awarded and three remain to be awarded.

3. The object of the scholarships being to enable ladies to enter the College at Delhi and to take up a professional course there, the award will be made to those, otherwise eligible, who are prepared to join the Junior Intermediate class of a recognised College or any similar class this year with a view to qualifying, after a course of study for two years, for admission to the Medical College at Delhi.

4. Candidates for these scholarships must be statutory natives of India. They must also guarantee that they will study for two years in a college affiliated to the local University, the course leading up to the Intermediate examination, or an examination recognized for this purpose as equivalent thereto, such special subjects as may be prescribed by that University as qualifying for entrance upon a professional course of medical study being included in the course. They must also undertake that on the completion of these two years they will seek admission to the Medical College to be established at Delhi, and continue their studies up to the examinations for the Medical degree for which that College will prepare students.

5. The question of providing scholarships tenable during the period of study in Delhi is under consideration by the Governing Body of the College. It is hoped to make an announcement on this subject shortly. The continuance of the scholarships and the award of any further scholarships will be contingent on the progress of the scholars and the receipt by the Local Government of good reports upon them.

6. Scholarships will be awarded to such lady students as the Local Government may, on the results of the examination which closes the secondary school course, regard as most likely to profit by the facilities which the proposed College at Delhi will offer. Applications in the enclosed form, which must be submitted through the head of the College or head of a high school of which the applicant is a student, will be received in the office of the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, up to the 31st July 1914. The scholarships will run for two years from the date on which each scholarship-holder enters on her preliminary course of study. In the case of a lady student who has already entered upon a course of study, the successful completion of which would qualify her for admission to the College, a scholarship may be awarded with retrospective effect from the date on which she entered upon the course or any date subsequent thereto.

The Triennial Report on the administration of the Registration Department for the years 1911, 1912 and 1913.

The Triennial Reports on the administration of the Registration Department, Eastern Bengal and Assam and Bengal for the years 1908, 1909 and 1910, and the Government Resolutions recorded thereon.

THIS Report on the administration of the Registration Department during the three years ending the 31st December 1913 relates to the area covered by the existing Presidency of Bengal as constituted on the 1st April 1912. Before that date, the post of Inspector-General of Registration in the old province of Bengal was held by Nawab Syed Mahomed, Khan Bahadur, I.S.O. In Eastern Bengal and Assam, Major W. M. Kennedy, I.A., was in charge of the Department up to the 3rd September 1911, when he was succeeded by Mr. J. Donald, I.C.S., who held charge until the dissolution of the province. On the constitution of the new Presidency, the Hon'ble Rai Priya Nath Mukharji Bahadur was appointed Inspector-General of Registration, and held charge for the rest of the triennial period under review.

2. The most important event of the period was the reorganisation of the Department necessitated by the territorial changes of 1912. The registration work in the five divisions, which now constitute the Presidency of Bengal, was much heavier than in the areas comprised in the new provinces of Bihar and Orissa and Assam. On the 1st April 1912, there were 290 registration offices in the former province of Bengal and 257 in Eastern Bengal and Assam. Of these offices no less than 381 were in the area constituting the new Presidency, while 129 were in Bihar and Orissa and 37 in Assam. The duties of the new Inspector-General in this Presidency were therefore much more onerous than those of his predecessors in either of the old provinces, while the Registration Department in the new Presidency, composed as it was of portions of two pre-existing provinces, had to face the further difficulty of co-ordinating the system of administration in force in its eastern and western portions. This co-ordination involved an examination not merely of the statutory rules and tables of fees prescribed under the Registration Act, but also of such questions as the recruitment, promotion and transfers of Sub-Registrars and other matters of administration, in regard to which the two former provinces had proceeded on widely divergent lines. Mr. Mukharji in his report has given a list of twenty questions of considerable complexity and importance, which have engaged attention during the last two years, and nearly all of which are directly due to the territorial re-adjustments of 1912.

3. The greater part of the work of co-ordination has now been completed. The statutory rules and table of fees have been made uniform throughout the Presidency. The cadre of the service has been fixed with the sanction of the Government of India, and the system of administration in the two parts of the province has been brought into line on all essential points. Among other important reforms effected, the following may be noted. The pay of probationers has been raised from Rs. 20 to Rs. 30 and a departmental examination has been introduced to test their knowledge and acquirements before confirmation. Funds have been allotted for improving the conditions of rural offices, which have long been recognised as notoriously bad, and a regular building programme has been initiated. The leave reserve of the Department has been increased from 8 to 12 per cent. in order to obviate the necessity of appointing outsiders or ministerial officers to officiate in temporary vacancies. The important office of the Registrar of Calcutta has been reorganised, and a separate whole-time officer has been appointed Registrar of Joint-Stock and Insurance Companies. Proposals which had long been pending in the old provinces for the improvement of the pay of the ministerial and menial establishments are now being matured. The administration of the Department is growing more complex, and throws an ever-increasing burden of work on District Officers, and it is therefore necessary to devise some scheme which will enable a more careful selection to be made of Rural Sub-Registrars for promotion to posts as District Sub-Registrars. Finally, a solution will have to be found of the difficult problem of dealing with the constantly-growing mass of registration records, and it will have to be decided whether they are to be provided for by periodical additions to district record-rooms, or whether arrangements should be made to transfer the old records to some central building.

4. The ordinary work of the Department has continued to expand during the triennial period. The number of offices has increased from 376 to 392. Compulsory registrations affecting immovable property increased by 7 per cent. and optional registration of the same kind by 15·3 per cent.

The total number of registrations under all heads was 4,394,921 in the period under review, as compared with 4,117,104 in the preceding triennium. The receipts of the Department during the past three years amounted to over Rs. 53 lakhs, and the expenditure to Rs. 29½ lakhs, leaving a surplus of 23½ lakhs. As compared with the previous triennium, the receipts increased by 9 per cent., the expenditure by 2·9 per cent., and the surplus by 17·7 per cent.

5. The increase in registration transactions is shared by all the Divisions. In the Burdwan Division, registration increased steadily, though not largely, owing to the increase in leases of waste lands, sales, mortgages and money bonds. In Midnapore, the remarkable increase in leases in 1912 was due to the then impending cadastral survey and settlement operations. The decrease in the number of transactions affecting land in Calcutta in 1912 is ascribed to the removal of the Capital to Delhi and to the passing of the Calcutta Improvement Act, but there was an increase of 8 per cent. in 1913, when the number of registrations was little less than in 1911. The increase in the Dacca Division, and especially in the Dacca district, in transactions exceeding Rs. 100 in value is very marked, and the explanation that it is due largely to the increasing value of land is probably correct. In Chittagong and Rajshahi the causes ascribed for the increase are various and throw little light on the economic conditions of those Divisions.

6. The Governor in Council desires to take this opportunity of acknowledging the services of Nawab Syed Mahomed, Khan Bahadur, I.S.O., Major Kennedy and Mr. Donald who controlled the Registration Department in Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam during the first part of the period under review. His special thanks are due to the Hon'ble Mr. Mukharji, the present Inspector-General of Registration, for his strenuous labours in connection with the reorganisation and administration of the Department during a period of unusual stress and change.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Registration, Bengal, for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution together with a copy of the Report be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department for information,

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. H. KERR,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF MINES IN INDIA.

Regulations made by the Board of Examiners under rule 30 of the Rules applying to coal-mines made under section 20 of the Indian Mines Act, 1901, for the conduct of examinations for managers' certificates of competency.

(1) No member of the Board of Examiners shall act as a local examiner, except in emergent cases.

(2) When possible, one or more members of the Board of Examiners shall attend every examination on at least one of the days.

(3) So for as is practicable, the local examiners shall be—

(a) An Inspector of Mines, who shall be Secretary to the local examiners.

(b) Two Mining Engineers or Colliery Managers who must be the holders of first-class certificates. Provided that a Mining Professor may be appointed instead of one of the Mining Engineers or Managers.

(4) The remuneration of each local examiner shall be Rs. 150 for each examination, and a capitation fee of Rs. 2 for each first-class candidate and Re. 1 for each second-class candidate examined, and travelling expenses and halting allowances on the first-class scale under Civil Service Regulations; but an Inspector of Mines, acting as a local examiner, shall not be entitled to any fee or remuneration whatsoever, beyond the travelling expenses and halting allowances due to him in his official capacity.

(5) The subjects for examination shall be—

(a) Arithmetic and handwriting.

(b) Practical and theoretical coal-mining, including surface and underground arrangements, sinking, timbering, ventilation, gases met with in coal-mines, a knowledge of plans, surveying and levelling, and of the various instruments used in mining. Questions may also be asked upon geology, sanitation, hydraulics, explosives, safety-lamps and similar subjects. The candidates may also be required to show how to arrange the ventilation and haulage of a mine on a given plan.

(c) Practical mechanics, including steam, steam-engines, steam-boilers, pumps and strength of materials; and questions may be asked upon electricity and compressed air as applied to coal-mining.

(d) The Indian Mines Act, 1901, and rules made under the Act.

(6) The examinations shall be both written and oral, and the subjects and conditions shall be the same for candidates for both classes of certificates; but the examination questions shall be made suitable for each class of certificate.

The examiners shall have power to eliminate the oral examination in the case of candidates who do not reach a standard in the written examination to be prescribed by the Board of Examiners.

(7) The following shall be the maximum number of marks given for each subject:—

SUBJECT.	FIRST CLASS			SECOND CLASS.
	Papers.	Viva voce.	Total.	Papers.	Viva voce.	Total.
(a) Arithmetic and handwriting ...	50	...	50	50	...	50
(b) Mining	160	60	220	140	80	220
(c) Mechanics	110	40	150	100	50	150
(d) Indian Mines Act	60	20	80	50	30	80
Total ...	380	120	500	340	160	500

(8) No candidate who fails to obtain 66 per cent. of the total number of marks, or 33 per cent. in either of the subjects of mining or mechanics, shall be passed by the examiners, and if a candidate fails to obtain 33 per cent. of the marks given for either of the subjects of arithmetic and handwriting or the Indian Mines Act, any marks he may have obtained in such subjects shall not be included when the total is determined.

(9) Before each examination each candidate shall declare whether he presents himself for a first-or second-class certificate. No candidate for a second-class certificate shall be eligible at that examination for a first-class certificate, but a candidate for a first-class certificate, who does not reach the necessary standard, may, nevertheless, at the discretion of the local examiners, be recommended to the Board of Examiners for a second-class certificate, if, in their opinion, he has done sufficiently well to deserve it.

(10) The Secretary to the local examiners shall report, by registered post, the result of the examination, giving the number of marks obtained by each candidate in each subject, to the President of the Board of Examiners within one month of the close of the examination.

(11) The questions which the local examiners intend to put in the examination papers shall be submitted in draft to the Board of Examiners, for approval, at least six weeks before the date of the examination. Answers to questions on arithmetic and those involving calculations and all plottings and levellings must be submitted to the Board of Examiners along with the question papers.

(12) At least one examination shall be held annually in one of the Bengal or Bihar and Orissa coal-fields; and in other parts of India examinations will be held whenever, in the opinion of the Board of Examiners, the number of candidates in a coal-mining centre justifies the holding of an examination.

(13) No candidate will be allowed to take part in the examination until he has produced an authorization from the Board of Examiners.

(14) Every candidate must sign his name at the top of every page of the paper on which he gives the answers to the questions. He must also sign a register in the presence of the examiners.

(15) The number of the question must be given in bold figures before the answer to each question.

(16) The calculations and work by which a result is obtained must be clearly shown in immediate connection with the answer to each question.

(17) Answers must be strictly confined to the questions asked.

(18) Sketches may be made to make answers clear.

(19) When sketches are asked for, it should be understood that, unless otherwise stated, free-hand sketches, with dimensions, are all that is necessary, and candidates should not spend time in making finished drawings.

(20) Any candidate speaking to any other candidate during the examination, or using any book, notes or private paper, or acting in any manner which the examiners consider improper will be liable to be disqualified at their discretion. The Board of Examiners may in such a case use their discretion as to allowing the candidate to sit at any future examination.

(21) When a candidate has completed the answers to the questions, or when the time allowed for answering the questions has elapsed, or he has been disqualified, he must hand the paper of questions and his answers to the examiners, and at once leave the examination-room.

(22) A time-table will be supplied to each candidate at the commencement of the first day's examination.

(23) The oral examination will be held at a subsequent date. Only those candidates who obtain a certain degree of proficiency in the written examination will be examined orally. Due notice of time and place will be sent to each candidate required by the examiners for oral examination.

(24) The number of marks given for each question will be shown in brackets at the end of the question.

(25) Ink and paper will be provided, and no paper other than the official paper provided may be used. Candidates must bring their own pens and pencils, drawing pens and drawing instruments, including a protractor.

All previous regulations are hereby cancelled.

III.—No officer will be permitted to present himself for examination by two standards of the same language simultaneously, and there shall be an interval of at least one year between the Higher Standard and High Proficiency tests and also between the Proficiency and High Proficiency tests, and an interval of at least two years between the High Proficiency and Degree of Honour tests in the same language. A candidate may compete for the higher examinations in any language without first undergoing any inferior test, but if he passes in the higher test, he will not be permitted to go up afterwards and pass the lower test. He may, however, present himself for examination in more than one language on the same day, but in this case he will be required to perform the exercises within the time allotted for one.

An officer who has passed the Degree of Honour in any language may be allowed to appear again in the same test in that language under the conditions prescribed in rule XV.

IV.—No officer will ordinarily be permitted to appear more than twice as a candidate at the same examination; but if a special recommendation be made by the examiners a candidate will be allowed to appear a third time.

V.—No officer will be permitted to earn a reward for passing an examination by the Higher Standard or the Proficiency Standard after the expiration of ten years or the High Proficiency Standard after the expiration of fifteen years, counted from the date of his first arrival in India, provided that in the presidencies of Madras and Bombay, where there are several vernaculars, the Local Governments may, in exceptional cases, extend the time-limit in the case of the Proficiency and High Proficiency examinations in the vernaculars. In the case of an examination for the Degree of Honour standard there shall be no limit of time and an officer will be permitted to earn a reward by passing this examination at any time within the period of his service.

VI.—Officers may be permitted to attend the examinations after the expiry of the periods specified in rule V, but no reward will be granted to them if they pass; and their leave must be limited to such time as may be necessary to enable them to attend the examination, and no extra expense must, under any circumstances, be caused to the State. In such cases, it will be within the competence of Local Governments to refuse applications for permission to attend any particular examination, when compliance with such applications would involve inconvenience to the public service.

In the case of military officers in permanent civil or political employ, the limit of time specified in rule V within which an officer can earn a reward for the Higher Standard, the Proficiency and the High Proficiency examinations, respectively, may, for special reasons, be extended by the Local Government, Resident or Agent to the Governor-General under whose orders the officer is serving.

In its application to police officers the period of time specified in rule V will be reckoned in the case of officers appointed after an examination held in this country from the date of appointment in India, the date of first arrival in India holding good for officers selected in England.

In the case of an officer of the Indian Educational Service or a Chaplain the period of time will be counted from the date of his first appointment to the Educational or Ecclesiastical Departments, respectively.

VII. Officers who are natives of India are not eligible for rewards for passing in the vernacular of the district in which they were born or educated. The Local Government shall determine in each case what languages come within this definition.

VIII.—Examinations will be held quarterly on the first Monday in January, April, July and October of each year by the Board of Examiners at Calcutta.

In Madras, the examinations will be held half-yearly in January and July by the Board of Examiners, with the exception that candidates for the examinations in Arabic will be examined at present either at Calcutta or at Bombay.

In Bombay, examinations by the Proficiency, High Proficiency and Degree of Honour standard in all languages will be held quarterly by the Civil and Military Examination Committee, simultaneously with the examination of military officers, on the first Monday in January, April, July and October. Examination by the Higher Standard will be held monthly on the first Monday. The Committee will also hold special meetings whenever directed to do so, either by His Excellency the Governor or the Lieutenant-General Commanding the Forces, Bombay, for the examination of any candidate or candidates who cannot attend during the regular monthly or quarterly sittings.

Examinations in Burmese and Pali will be held yearly in November at Rangoon by the Central Examination Committee.

When the first Monday in a month or a quarter is a gazetted holiday, the examination will be held on the following Monday or, if that is also a gazetted holiday, on the next working day thereafter.

NOTE.—The term gazetted holiday should be held to mean—

(1) Holidays prescribed or notified under section 25 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881;

(2) Holidays on which, by Government Notification in the Gazette, any public office is ordered to be closed for the transaction of public business without reserve or qualification.

In addition to the quarterly examinations held at Calcutta, the Secretary to the Board of Examiners, Calcutta, will conduct examinations, for candidates other than officers serving in the presidencies of Madras and Bombay, twice annually at Lucknow and Lahore in March and in September or October, as necessity may arise, as follows:—

Lucknow ...	Urdu.—Proficiency and High Proficiency. Persian.—Higher Standard. Hindi.—Proficiency and High Proficiency.
Lahore ...	Urdu.—Proficiency and High Proficiency. Persian.—Higher Standard and High Proficiency. Hindi.—Proficiency and High Proficiency.

The exact dates of the examinations and the places at which they will be held will be notified to intending candidates on application to the Board of Examiners, Calcutta.

Officers desirous of attending examinations for which they are eligible must apply for leave to do so to the Commissioners of Divisions or Heads of the Departments in which they are serving at least three months before the date of examination. In the case of officers serving in Coorg, the application should be made to the Chief Commissioner. Officers attached immediately to the Government of India must apply to the Department of Education through the Department of the Government of India under which they are serving. The application must be accompanied by a certificate from the Accounts Officer under whose audit control the applicant is serving, of his eligibility under rule V to appear at the examination, and should be forwarded in sufficient time to reach the Board of Examiners or the Examination Committee concerned in the case of High Proficiency and Degree of Honour at least six weeks, and in the case of other examinations at least one month before the date of examination.

An officer who has been granted permission to appear for an examination but decides not to avail himself of it should intimate his decision to the Board of Examiners or the Examination Committee concerned at least ten days before the date of the examination.

RULES UNDER THE INDIAN EXPLOSIVES ACT, 1884, FOR THE MANUFACTURE, POSSESSION, SALE, TRANSPORT AND IMPORTATION OF EXPLOSIVES.

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

1. These Rules may be called the Indian Explosives Rules, 1914.

2. All previous notifications made by the Governor-General in Council under the said sections are hereby superseded, but all licenses or duplicates granted or renewed, all fees imposed or levied and all powers conferred by or under any notification so superseded, shall, so far as they are consistent herewith, be deemed to have been respectively granted, renewed, imposed, levied or conferred hereunder.

3. Nothing in these rules shall apply—

(i) to the manufacture, possession, sale, packing, transport or importation of toy fireworks, such as paper caps for toy pistols, under such conditions and in such quantities as the Local Government, or, in the case of transport by rail, the Railway Board, on the recommendation of the Chief Inspector of Explosives, may from time to time determine;

(ii) to the manufacture, possession or sale of gunpowder in any of the Agency Tracts in the Ganjam, Vizagapatam and Godavari Districts of the Presidency of Madras;

(iii) to the possession or transport of any explosive in any port in which special rules made by the Local Government under the Act are for the time being in force in so far as they are expressly superseded by, or are inconsistent with, such special rules;

(iv) to the packing, transport or importation of capped safety cartridge cases, if otherwise empty, when packed, transported or imported in the same consignment with arms covered by a license granted under the Indian Arms Act, 1878; XI of 1878.

(v) to—

(a) the manufacture, possession and sale of tri-nitro-toluol, or

(b) the transport and importation of the same when it is packed in staunch and substantial barrels or in cases constructed of wood not less than one inch in thickness.*

4. In these rules, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context:— Definitions

IV of 1884. (1) "The Act" means the Indian Explosives Act, 1884.

(2) "Ammunition" means any explosive when the same is enclosed in any case or contrivance, or is otherwise adapted or prepared, so as to form—

(a) a cartridge or charge for small-arms, cannon or any other weapon, or for blasting, or

(b) a safety or other fuze for blasting or for shells, or

(c) a tube for firing explosives, or

(d) a percussion-cap, detonator, fog-signal, shell, torpedo, war-rocket, or any other contrivance other than a firework.

*Further exemptions are made by section 14 of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, which runs as follows:—

Saving for manufacture, possession, use, sale, transport or importation by Government.

"Nothing in this Act shall apply to the manufacture, possession, use, sale, transport or importation of any explosive—

(a) by order of the Government, or

(b) by any person employed under the Government in the execution of this Act, or as a keeper of a magazine, artizan, soldier, sailor, policeman or otherwise, or enrolled as a volunteer, under the Indian Volunteers Act, 1869, in the course of his employment or duty as such." XX of 1869.

(3) "Authorised explosive" means an explosive included in a list of authorised explosives prepared by the Chief Inspector of Explosives with the Government of India and in force for the time being.

(4) "Chlorate-mixture" means any explosive containing a chlorate.

(5) "Detonator" means a capsule or case which is of such strength and construction, and contains fulminate in such quantity, that the explosion of one capsule or case would communicate the explosion to other like capsules or cases.

(6) "District authority" means—

(i) in a Presidency town, or its suburbs, or in Rangoon, the Commissioner of Police;

(ii) elsewhere, the Magistrate of the district.

(7) "Fulminate" means any chemical compound or mechanical mixture whatever, which, from its great susceptibility to detonation, is suitable for employment in percussion-caps or any other appliance for developing detonation, or which, from its extreme sensibility to explosion and from its great instability (that is to say, readiness to undergo decomposition from very slight exciting causes), is especially dangerous.

(8) "Gunpowder" means gunpowder ordinarily so called.

(9) "Nitrate-mixture" means any preparation, other than gunpowder, which is formed by the mechanical mixture of nitrate with any form of carbon or with any carbonaceous substance not possessed of explosive properties, whether sulphur be or be not added to such preparation, and whether such preparation be or be not mechanically mixed with any other non-explosive substance:

and includes such explosives as—

Chilworth special powder, Bobbinite, and Ammonai, Westfallite.

(10) "Nitro-compound" means any chemical compound which is possessed of explosive properties or is capable of combining with metals to form an explosive compound, and is produced by the chemical action of nitric acid (whether mixed or not with sulphuric acid), or of a nitrate mixed with sulphuric acid, upon any carbonaceous substance, whether such compound is mechanically mixed with other substances or not.

(11) "Small-arm nitro-compound" means a nitro-compound adapted and intended exclusively for use in cartridges for small-arms.

(12) "Safety cartridge"—

(i) means a cartridge for small-arms, the case of which can be extracted from the small-arm after firing, and which is so closed as to prevent any explosion in one cartridge being communicated to other cartridges; and

(ii) includes a rifle-calibre machine-gun cartridge, if it is as described in clause (i) whether it is for use with a machine-gun having chambers identical with those of rifles or with a machine-gun having special chambers:

Provided that the diameter of the cartridge in either case (i) or case (ii) does not exceed one inch.

(13) "Safety fuze" means a fuze for blasting which burns and does not explode, and which does not contain its own means of ignition, and which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive in such quantity that the burning of such fuze would not communicate laterally with other like fuzes.

(14) "Testing authority" means the Chemical Examiner or such other officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf.

CHAPTER II.

CLASSIFICATION OF EXPLOSIVES.

5. (1) For the purposes of these rules, explosives shall be classified as follows, namely :— Classes sives

Class 2	Nitrate-mixture.
Class 3	Nitro-compound.
Class 4	Chlorate-mixture.
Class 5	Fulminate.
Class 6	Ammunition.
Class 7	Firework.

(2) When any explosive falls within more than one of the said classes, it shall be deemed to belong exclusively to the latest of such classes.

6. Nitro-compounds shall, for the purposes of these rules, be sub-divided as follows, namely :— Division compounds

(b) Division 2, comprising such substances as the chloride and the iodide of nitrogen, fulminating gold and silver, diazobenzol, and the nitrate of diazobenzol.

Division of ammunition

9. Ammunition shall, for the purposes of these rules, be sub-divided as follows, namely :—

(a) Division 1, comprising exclusively—

Safety cartridges,
Safety fuzes for blasting,
Railway fog-signals, and Percussion-caps; and

(b) Division 2, comprising any ammunition, as hereinbefore defined, which does not contain its own means of ignition and is not included in Division 1, such as—

Cartridges for small-arms, other than safety cartridges,

SCHEDULE I.

PRESCRIBED TESTS.

[Vide Rule 16.]

I.—Heat Test as applied to Explosives of the Nitro-compound Class.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS.

Apparatus required.

1. A water bath, consisting of a spherical glass or copper vessel [(a) Fig. 1] of about 8 inches diameter, and with an aperture of about 5 inches; the bath is filled with water to within a quarter of an inch of the edge. It has a loose cover of sheet copper about 6 inches in diameter (b), and rests on a tripod stand about 14 inches high (c), which is covered with coarse iron wire gauze (e), and is surrounded with a screen of thin sheet tin or copper (d). Within the latter is placed an Argand burner (f), with glass chimney. The cover (b) has four holes arranged as seen in Fig. II, No. 4 to receive the regulator, No. 3 the thermometer, Nos. 1 and 2 the test-tubes containing the gun-cotton or other materials to be tested. Around holes 1 and 2 on the under side of the cover are soldered three pieces of brass wire with points slightly converging (Fig. III); these act as springs and allow the test-tubes to be easily placed in position and removed.

FIG. I.

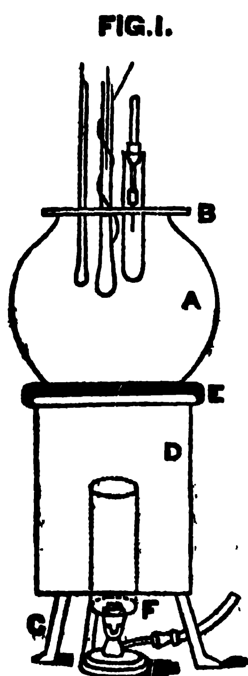

FIG. II.

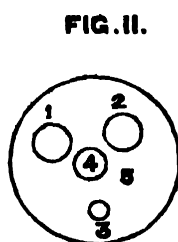

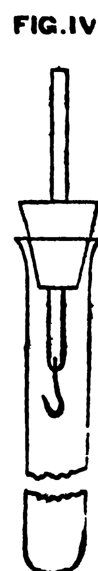

FIG. III.

FIG. IV

* 2. Scheibler's or Page's temperature regulator.

* 3. Two cells of Le Clanché's battery No. 1 } if Scheibler's regulator
* 4. A few yards of insulated copper wire } is used.

5. Test-tubes from 5¼ to 5½ inches long, and of such diameter that they will hold from 20 to 22 cubic centimetres of water when filled to a height of 5 inches.

6. India-rubber stoppers, fitting the test-tubes and carrying an arrangement for holding the test-paper, viz., a narrow glass tube passing through the centre of the stopper, drawn out so as to form a hook, or terminating in a platinum wire hook (Fig. IV).

7. A thermometer, with range not less than from 30° to 212° Fahrenheit.

8. A minute clock.

Materials required.

(a) Test-paper.—The test-paper is prepared as follows:—45 grains of white maize starch (cornflour), previously washed with cold water, are added to 8½ ounces of distilled water; the mixture is stirred, heated to boiling, and kept gently boiling for 10 minutes; 15 grains of pure potassium iodide (i.e., which has been re-crystallized from alcohol) are dissolved in 8½ ounces of distilled water. The two solutions are thoroughly mixed and allowed to get cold. Strips, or sheets, of best white English filter paper, weighing air dry, from 4·1 to 4·6 grammes per 100 square inches, previously washed with water and re-dried, are dipped into the solution thus prepared, and allowed to remain in it for not less than 10 seconds; they are then allowed to drain and dry in a place free from laboratory fumes and dust. The upper and lower margins of the strips, or sheets are cut off, and the paper is preserved in well-stoppered or corked bottles and in the dark.† The dimensions of the pieces of test-paper used are about $\frac{4}{10}$ inch by $\frac{8}{10}$ inch (10 mm. by 20 mm.)

(b) Standard tint-paper.—A solution of caramel in water is made of such concentration that when diluted one-hundred times (10 cc. made up to 1 litre) the tint of this diluted solution equals the tint produced by the Nessler test in 100 cc. water containing 0·000075 grm. of ammonia or 0·00023505 grm. of chloride of ammonium. With this caramel solution lines are drawn on strips of white filter paper‡ by means of a clean quill pen. When the marks thus produced are dry the paper is cut into pieces of the same size as the test-paper previously described, in such a way that each piece has a brown line across it near the middle of its length, and only such strips are preserved in which the brown line has a breadth varying from ½ mm. to 1 mm. ($\frac{1}{50}$ of an inch to $\frac{1}{25}$ of an inch).

II.—Testing Dynamite, Blasting Gelatine, and other Explosives of the First Division of the Nitro-compound Class.

A.—DYNAMITE, ETC., ETC.

Nitro-glycerine preparations, from which the nitro-glycerine can be extracted in the manner described below, must satisfy the following test.

This test, however, though at present looked upon as the most important, as far as testing the purity of the nitro-glycerine is concerned, is in England only one of several which any given sample of nitro-glycerine preparation has to satisfy in order to establish its compliance with the definition in the Authorised List.

* This is not absolutely required, as the temperature of the bath can be kept constant by proper attention to the heating flame.

† When a paper is freshly prepared, and as long as it remains in good condition, a drop of dilute acetic acid, put on the paper with a glass rod, produces no coloration. In process of time, however, the stronger the light to which the paper is exposed, the sooner a drop of acid produces a brown or bluish coloration (a single hour of direct sunlight produces a marked effect), and whenever this is the case the paper should be rejected. After preparation the paper should be kept in the dark for a month before being taken into use. After that, if carefully kept in the dark, it will remain good for 6 months or more, but should be tested from time to time as above.

‡ This paper must be carefully washed with distilled water in the first instance, to remove any traces of bleaching matter, and dried.

Apparatus required.

A funnel 2 inches across (d), a cylindrical measure divided into grains (e) (see sketch).

Mode of operation.

About 300 to 400 grains of dynamite (b) finely divided are placed in the funnel which has previously been loosely plugged by some freshly-ignited asbestos (a).

The surface is smoothed by means of a flat-headed glass rod or stopper, and some clean washed and dried Kieselguhr (c) is spread over it to the depth of about ½ inch.

Water is next carefully dropped from a wash bottle upon this Kieselguhr, and when the first portion has been soaked up more is added; this is repeated until sufficient nitro-glycerine has been collected in the graduated measure (e) below.

If any water should have passed through with the nitro-glycerine, it should be removed with a piece of blotting paper, and the nitro-glycerine, if necessary, filtered through a dry paper filter.

Application of the Test.

The thermometer is fixed so as to be inserted through the lid of the water bath described under I, into the water (which is to be steadily maintained at a temperature of 160° Fahr.*) to a depth of 2¾ inches. Fifty grains of nitro-glycerine to be tested are weighed into a test-tube in such a way as not to soil the sides of the tube. A test-paper is fixed on the hook of the glass rod so that when inserted into the tube it will be in a vertical position. A sufficient amount of a mixture of half distilled water and half glycerine to moisten the upper half of the paper is now applied to the upper edge of the test-paper by means of a camel's-hair pencil, the cork carrying the rod and paper is fixed into the test-tube and the position of the paper adjusted, so that its lower edge is about half-way down the tube; the latter is then inserted through one of the perforations of the cover to such a depth that the lower margin of the moistened part of the paper is about five-eighths of an inch above the surface of the cover. The test is complete when the faint brown line, which after a time makes its appearance at the line of boundary between the dry and moist part of the paper, equals in tint the brown line of the standard tint-paper.

The nitro-glycerine under examination will not be considered to have satisfied the test unless the time necessary to produce the standard tint as above described is at least 15 minutes.

* For explosives supplied for His Majesty's Military and Naval Services the temperature is fixed by the War Office at 180°.

B.—BLASTING GELATINE, GELATINE DYNAMITE, AND ANALOGOUS PREPARATIONS.

Fifty (50) grains of blasting gelatine are to be intimately incorporated with one hundred (100) grains of French chalk.* The mixture is to be gradually introduced into a test-tube of the dimensions prescribed above for the dynamite heat test, with the aid of gentle tapping upon the table, between the introduction of successive portions of the mixture into the tube, so that when the tube contains all the mixture it shall be filled to the extent of 1¾ inches (one inch and three-quarters) of its height. The test-paper is then to be inserted and the heat is to be applied in the manner prescribed above for the dynamite heat test, and the sample tested is to withstand exposure to 160° Fahr. for a period of ten (10) minutes, before producing a discoloration of the test-papers corresponding in tint to the standard colour test which is employed for governing the results of the dynamite heat tests.

(For Exudation and Liquefaction tests for Blasting Gelatine, etc., etc., see Appendix.)

N.B.—Non-gelatinized nitro-glycerine preparations from which the nitro-glycerine cannot be expelled by water, are tested without any previous separation of the ingredients, the temperature being as above (160° Fahr.) and the time being seven (7) minutes.

C.—CORDITE AND BALLISTITE.

1. Apparatus required.

The apparatus necessary for the application of the heat test to cordite is identical with that described above for explosives of the nitro-compound class generally† with the addition of a mill and a nest of sieves‡ similar to those used at Waltham Abbey for preparing the cordite for testing (see instructions below).

2. Preparation of the sample to be tested.

Pieces half-an-inch long are cut from one end of every stick selected for the test; in the case of the thicker cordites, each piece so cut is further subdivided into about four portions. These cut pieces are then passed once through the mill, the first portion of material which passes through being rejected on account of the possible presence of foreign matter from the mill. The ground material is put on the top sieve of the nest of sieves and sifted. The portion which has passed through the top sieve and been stopped by the second is taken for the test. If the mill is properly set the greater portion of the ground material will be of the proper size.

If the volatile matter in the explosive exceed 0·5 per cent. the sifted material should be dried at a temperature not exceeding 140° Fahr. until the proportion does not exceed 0·5 per cent.

After each sample has been ground, the mill must be taken to pieces and carefully cleaned.

* This can be readily effected by carefully working the two materials together with a wooden pestle in a wooden mortar.

The French chalk should be of good commercial quality, and, after being carefully washed with distilled water and dried in a water oven it should be exposed under a bell jar to moist air until it has taken up about 0·5 per cent. of moisture. It should then be bottled for use; and with ordinary care the limits of 0·5 per cent. can be maintained in keeping.

† In the Waltham Abbey apparatus the cover (Fig. II) has all the holes around the circumference instead of having one in the centre and three around the circumference.

‡ A nest of two sieves with the holes drilled in sheet copper. The holes in the top sieve have a diameter = 14 B. W. G., those in the second = 21 B. W. G.

If too hard for the mill, it may be softened by exposure to the vapour of acetone, or reduced to the necessary degree of subdivision by means of a sharp moderately coarse rasp. Should it have become too soft in the acetone vapour for the mill, it should be cut up into small pieces which may be brought to any desired degree of hardness by simple exposure to air.

Explosives which consist partly of gelatinized collodion cotton and partly of ungelatinized gun-cotton are best reduced to powder by a rasp, or softened by exposure to mixed ether and alcohol vapour at a temperature of 90° to 100° Fahr.

3. Application of the Test.

The thermometer is fixed so as to be inserted through the lid of the water bath described under paragraph 1, so as to be immersed in the water to a depth of 2¾ inches. The water is maintained at a constant temperature of 180° Fahr. When this temperature is reached, 25 grains of the sifted cordite are put into one of the test-tubes, and collected at the bottom by gentle tapping. A test-paper is fixed on to the hook of the glass rod, so that when inserted into the tube it will be in a vertical position. A mixture of equal parts of distilled water and pure glycerine (Price's) is now applied to the upper edge of the test-paper by means of a camel's-hair pencil, in sufficient amount to moisten the upper half; the stopper carrying the rod and paper is fixed into the test-tube and the position of the paper adjusted so that its lower edge is about half-way down the tube; the latter is then inserted through one of the perforations of the cover to the same depth as the thermometer. The lower margin of the moistened part of the paper should then be about five-eighths of an inch above the surface of the cover. The test is completed when the faint brown line, which after a time makes its appearance at the margin between the wet and dry portions of the test-paper, equals in depth of tint the brown line drawn on the standard tint-paper.

4. The time which elapses between the insertion of the test-tube and the completion of the test must not be less than 15 minutes.

N.B.—In the case of ballistite the treatment is the same, except that when it is in a very finely granulated condition it need not be cut up.

III.—Testing Gun-cotton, Schultz's Gunpowder, E. C. Powder, and other explosives of the 2nd Division of the Nitro-compound Class.

A.—COMPRESSED NITRO-CELLULOSE, TONITE, ETC., ETC.

Sufficient material to serve for two or more tests is removed from the centre of the cartridge by gentle scraping, and, if necessary, further reduced by rubbing through a sieve with a clean hard brush.

The fine powder thus produced is spread out in a thin layer upon a paper-tray 6 inches by 4½ inches which is then placed inside a water oven, kept, as nearly as possible, at 120° Fahr.

The wire-gauze shelves in the oven should be about 3 inches apart. The sample is allowed to remain at rest for 15 minutes in the oven, the door of which is left wide open.

After the lapse of 15 minutes the tray is removed and exposed to the air of the room for two hours, the sample being at some point within that time rubbed upon the tray with a brush, in order to reduce it to a fine and uniform state of division.

Application of the Test.

The cover of the water-bath is fitted with the gas regulator which is inserted through the centre hole (No. 4). The thermometer is fixed into hole No. 3. The water in the bath is then heated to 170° Fahr., and the regulator set to maintain that temperature. Twenty grains of the sample to be tested are weighed out, placed in the test-tube, and gently pressed down until the specimen occupies a space of not more than 1$\frac{5}{16}$ inches in a test-tube of the dimensions specified. A test-paper is affixed to the hook of the glass rod or tube, and moistened by touching the upper edge with a drop of distilled water containing 50 per cent. of Price's glycerine. The quantity of liquid used must be only sufficient to moisten about half the paper. Th corkcarrying the rod and test-paper is then fixed into the test-tube, and th latter inserted into the bath to a depth of 2½ inches, measured fromthe cover, the regulator and thermometer being inserted to the same depth.

The test-paper is to be kept near the top of the test-tube, but clear of the cork, until the tube has been immersed for about five minutes. A ring of moisture will about this time be deposited upon the sides of the test-tube a little above the cover of the bath; the glass rod must then be lowered until the lower margin of the moistened part of the paper is on a level with the bottom of the ring of moisture in the tube; the paper is now closely watched. The test is complete when the faint brown line, which makes its appearance at the line of boundary between the dry and moist parts of the paper, equals in tint the brown line of the standard tint-paper.

The interval of time between the first insertion of the tube containing the sample of gun-cotton in the water at 170° and the production of the standard tint constitutes the test, and this interval of time must be not less than 10 minutes, or the sample will not be considered to have satisfied the test.

B.—GELATINIZED AND SEMI-GELATINIZED NITRO-CELLULOSE PREPARATIONS.*

Twenty-five grains introduced into the test-tube* of the dimensions prescribed for the dynamite heat test, then proceed as for blasting gelatine, etc., taking the temperature at 180° Fahr., and the time as 15 minutes.

C.—NITRO-CELLULOSE NOT INCLUDED IN A. OR B., SCHULTZ'S POWDER, E. C. POWDER, ETC., ETC.

Sufficient of the sample, without further mechanical division, is dried in the oven as above, and then exposed for two hours to the air. The test as directed above for compressed nitro-cellulose, etc., is then applied, the minimum duration of test being the same, viz., 10 minutes.

D.—PICRIC ACID.

(1) The material shall contain not more than 0·3 part of mineral or non-combustible matter in 100 parts by weight of the material dried at 160° Fahr.

(2) It should not contain more than a minute trace of lead.

(3) One hundred parts of the dry material shall not contain more than 0·3 part of total (free and combined) sulphuric acid, of which not more than 0·1 part shall be free sulphuric acid.

(4) Its melting point should be between 248° and 253° Fahr.

E.—AMMONITE, BELLITE, ROBURITE, AND EXPLOSIVES OF SIMILAR COMPOSITION.

These are required to stand the same heat test as compressed nitro-cellulose.

IV.—Testing Chlorate-Mixtures.

The material must not be too sensitive† and must show no tendency to increase in sensitiveness on keeping.

The material must contain nothing liable to reduce the chlorate.

Chlorides calculated as potassium chloride must not exceed 0·25 per cent.

The material must contain no free acid, or substance liable to produce free acid.

Explosives of this class containing nitro-compounds will be subject to the heat test as if they belonged to Class III.

V.—Testing Ammunition (Divisions 2 and 3).

Any explosive made up into ammunition (other than Division 1), for which a test is provided in the schedule, is to be tested as if not so made up.

* If in a compressed form it should be broken up in the same manner as cordite and ballistite.

† They will be considered too sensitive if they can be exploded however partially by means of a glancing blow with a broomstick on soft wood (such as deal).

APPENDIX.

Exudation and Liquefaction Test for Blasting Gelatine, Gelatine Dynamite and analogous Preparations.

TEST FOR LIQUEFACTION.

A cylinder of blasting gelatine is to be cut from the cartridge to be tested, the length of the cylinder to be about equal to its diameter and the ends being cut flat.

The cylinder is to be placed on end on a flat surface without any wrapper, and secured by a pin passing vertically through its centre.

In this condition the cylinder is to be exposed for one hundred and forty-four (144) consecutive hours (six days and nights) to a temperature ranging from 85° to 90° Fahr. (inclusive), and during such exposure the cylinder shall not diminish in height by more than one-fourth of its original height, and the upper cut surface shall retain its flatness and the sharpness of its edge.

Note.—If the blasting gelatine and the gelatine dynamite to be tested be not made up in a cylindrical form, the above test is to be applied with the necessary modifications.

TEST FOR LIABILITY TO EXUDATION.

There shall be no separation from the general mass of the blasting gelatine or gelatine dynamite of a substance of less consistency than the bulk of the remaining portion of the materials under any conditions of storage, transport, or use, or when the material is subjected three times in succession to alternate freezing and thawing, or when subjected to the liquefaction test hereinbefore described.

2. The licensee shall keep records and accounts of all explosives manufactured, of all stock in hand, and of all sales, in such form as the Local Government may from time to time direct.

3. The licensee shall exhibit his stock and his books and records of manufacture and sales to any Magistrate or to any Police Officer duly empowered in this behalf, whenever such Magistrate or officer may call upon him so to do :

Provided that where the license extends only to the manufacture, possession and sale of manufactured fireworks and the quantity permitted to be kept at one time does not exceed fifty pounds, the licensee shall not be required to keep or exhibit records or accounts of the same.

4. (1) The explosive shall be manufactured in a tent or lightly constructed building exclusively appropriated for the purpose and separated from any dwelling-house, highway, street, public thoroughfare or public place by the distance—

(a) in the case of gunpowder or small-arm nitro-compound, of one hundred yards, or

(b) in the case of an explosive of the 1st Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class, or of the 7th (Firework) Class, of fifty yards.

(2) In the case of filling cartridges for small-arms the operation may, if preferred, be carried out in the upper room of a building to which the conditions in clause (1) as to distance need not apply :

Provided that no more than five pounds of explosive (except such as may be contained in safety cartridges) shall be in the room where the operation is being carried on.

(3) In all other cases the manufacture shall be carried on in a one-storeyed building.

5. The number of persons employed at any one time in manufacture in any one building or room shall not exceed six, and only persons actually manufacturing or superintending manufacture shall be allowed inside the place of manufacture.

6. No iron or steel implements shall be used in manufacture. Only copper, gun-metal or wooden tools are permissible.

7. All explosives, as manufactured, shall be removed without delay to a safe place of storage, and no explosive shall be allowed to accumulate in the place of manufacture.

8. Manufacture shall only be carried on between sunrise and sunset.

9. No smoking or lights shall be allowed in or near a room where explosives are being manufactured.

10. All sales of explosives under this license must be effected on the premises shown on the face of the license.

11. An explosive shall not be sold to any child apparently under the age of fourteen years, nor shall any child under that age be employed in manufacture.

12. (1) The explosives possessed by the licensee shall be kept in one or other or both of the following modes:—

Mode A, that is to say, in a building or excavation, which is detached from any dwelling-house, and is separated by the distances prescribed in condition No. 4* from any highway, street, public thoroughfare or public place, and is made and closed so as to prevent unauthorised persons from having access thereto and to secure it from danger from without, and is exclusively appropriated to keeping explosives; and

(a) such a building must be substantially constructed of brick, stone or concrete, or must be a securely constructed fireproof safe; and

(b) such an excavation must be formed in solid rock or earth, or in mine refuse not liable to ignition, and must not open into, from or out of any mine, quarry, tunnel or underground place which is in use for the carrying on of any work or for the employment of any person.

Mode B, that is to say, in substantial receptacle (whether or not a fireproof safe) which is closed and secured so as to prevent unauthorised persons from having access thereto, and is exclusively appropriated to the keeping of explosives, and is placed inside a dwelling-house, or inside a building which is not itself qualified for the keeping of explosives in Mode A :

Provided that a fireproof safe shall not be used for the keeping of any explosive other than gunpowder or small-arm nitro-compound and cartridges of the 2nd Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class (not containing their own means of ignition) and made with gunpowder or small-arm nitro-compound, such as cartridges or charges for cannon or blasting purposes.

13. The maximum quantity of explosives allowed to be kept at the same time shall be the following:—

(1) if the only explosive kept be one or more of the following, namely:—

(a) gunpowder;
(b) small-arm nitro-compound; or

(2) if the only explosive kept be manufactured fireworks, the maximum shall be—manufactured fireworks ...	Two hundred.	Fifty.

(3) in any other case the maximum shall be—mixed explosives, including gunpowder, small-arm nitro-compound and manufactured fireworks, etc., in all ...	Sixty.	Fifteen.

and, in addition, of explosives contained in ammunition of the 1st Division of the 6th Class ...	Any quantity.	Any quantity.

Provided that in each of three cases abovementioned the aggregate quantity kept on the premises in Mode A and Mode B together may not in any case exceed the maximum quantity which may be kept in Mode A.

14. With respect to a building or excavation used in Mode A, and a receptacle used in Mode B—and such interior, shelves and fittings shall, so far as is reasonably practicable, be kept free from grit and otherwise clean;

(a) the interior thereof and the shelves and fittings therein, shall be so constructed, or so lined and covered, as to prevent the exposure of any iron or steel, or the detaching of any grit, iron or steel or similar substance, in such manner as to come into contact with the explosive;

(b) in the case of any explosive being possessed which is liable to be dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water therefrom;

(c) all articles or substances of an explosive or highly inflammable nature, and all lights, shall be kept at a safe distance from the explosive, and from any room or part of a building, excavation or receptacle containing the same; and

(d) no person in any such room or part of a building or any such excavation, or any such receptacle, shall have any iron or steel in his possession, or attached to or on his boots or shoes:

Provided that this condition, so far as it relates to the exposure of iron or steel or similar substances, shall not be obligatory in the case where no explosive is kept other than ammunition of the 1st Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class.

15. Any quantity exceeding five pounds of an explosive of the 1st Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class or of the 2nd Division of the 7th (Firework) Class, and of any other explosive exceeding one pound shall be kept in a substantial case, bag, canister or other receptacle, made and closed so as to prevent the explosives from escaping; and, when publicly exposed for sale or when sold, the outermost receptacle containing such explosives shall have affixed the name of the explosives in conspicuous characters by means of a brand or securely-attached label or other mark:

Provided that two samples of each kind of firework may be exposed for sale without complying with the foregoing clauses of this condition, if such samples be placed in such a position that no light or fire is, or is likely to be, brought near them.

16. (1) Explosives of different descriptions which may be kept under this license, shall be separated by an intervening partition of such substance and character, or by such intervening space, as will effectually prevent explosion or fire in the one communicating with the other:

(2) Provided as follows:—

(a) Gunpowder, small-arm nitro-compound and safety fuzes belonging to the 1st Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space:

Due provision shall be made, by the use of suitable working clothes without pockets, or of suitable shoes, or by searching or otherwise, or by some such means, for preventing the introduction into the magazine of fire, lucifer matches or any substance or article likely to cause explosion or fire, or of any grit, iron or steel; but this rule shall not prevent the introduction of an artificial light of such construction, position or character as not to cause any danger of fire or explosion:

Provided that so much of this condition as applies to the exclusion of grit, iron or steel, shall not be obligatory in a building in which no explosive other than an explosive of the 1st Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class is kept.

(2) Provided as follows:—

(a) the various explosives of Classes 1 (gunpowder), 2 (nitrate-mixture), 3 (nitro-compound) and 4 (chlorate-mixture), safety fuzes belonging to the 1st Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class, and such of the various explosives of the 2nd Division of the 6th (ammunition) Class as do not contain any exposed iron or steel, may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space;

15. The licensee, and every person employed in or about the magazine shall take all due precautions for the prevention of accidents by fire or explosion in the magazine, and for preventing unauthorised persons from having access to the magazine or to the explosives therein, and shall abstain from any act whatever which tends to cause fire or explosion and is not reasonably necessary for the purpose of the work in such magazine.

16. (1) Blasting gelatine or any of its kindred gelatinous nitro-compounds shall not be kept in the magazine after the expiration of three years from the date of its, or their, importation into British India, except with the special sanction of an Inspector of Explosives.

(2) When such sanction has been given, a written certificate, showing the period covered by the sanction, must be obtained from an Inspector of Explosives at each inspection and must be kept by the licensee at the magazine.

17. The licensee shall, at his own expense, provide for the safe custody of the magazine, a guard which shall be of such strength as the District Magistrate or the Commissioner of Police, as the case may be, may consider to be sufficient.

15. A person under the age of fourteen years shall not be employed in or enter the magazine, except in the presence and under the supervision of some grown-up person.

TABLE SHOWING DISTANCES WHICH SHOULD ORDINARILY BE KEPT CLEAR ROUND MAGAZINES.

[See rule 44.]

In any case where any of the items enumerated in the first column of this Table is, in the opinion of an Inspector of Explosives, effectively screened from a magazine either by the natural features of the ground or by good and substantial artificial mounds of earth or mine refuse, of such height that a line drawn from any part of the magazine to any part of the item in question will pass through the intervening ground or mound, the distance from that item (except for quantities of one thousand pounds of explosives and under) will be reduced one-half: Provided that when a natural hill so intervenes as to afford a degree of protection which, in the opinion of an Inspector of Explosives, justifies a further reduction, the distance shown in the Table will be reduced to one-quarter. In no case, however, is the distance from a Viceregal Residence to be less than one mile.

N.B.—The figures in small italics are the distances to be observed when ordinary gunpowder only is to be stored or other explosives up to the equivalent of five thousand pounds of gunpowder, every half pound of such other explosive being reckoned as one pound of gunpowder

(This proportion represents roughly about 41,000 detonators of "sextuple" strength; with detonators of greater strength the number would be of course less.)

(2) The detonator annexe must be so constructed that not less than two feet of masonry and three feet of air space shall intervene between any detonators in such annexe and the interior of the main magazine.

HER EXCELLENCY LADY HARDINGE of Penshurst has decided to give, out of the funds which have been collected for a Medical College for Women at Delhi, a certain number of scholarships for lady students who may wish to join that institution when it is opened.

2. It is proposed to allot 18 scholarships of Rs. 30 a month each, tenable for two years. Out of the five scholarships allotted for students who are residents of the Presidency of Bengal, two have already been awarded and three remain to be awarded.

3. The object of the scholarships being to enable ladies to enter the College at Delhi and to take up a professional course there, the award will be made to those, otherwise eligible, who are prepared to join the Junior Intermediate class of a recognised College or any similar class this year with a view to qualifying, after a course of study for two years, for admission to the Medical College at Delhi.

4. Candidates for these scholarships must be statutory natives of India. They must also guarantee that they will study for two years in a college affiliated to the local University, the course leading up to the Intermediate examination, or an examination recognized for this purpose as equivalent thereto, such special subjects as may be prescribed by that University as qualifying for entrance upon a professional course of medical study being included in the course. They must also undertake that on the completion of these two years they will seek admission to the Medical College to be established at Delhi, and continue their studies up to the examinations for the Medical degree for which that College will prepare students.

5. The question of providing scholarships tenable during the period of study in Delhi is under consideration by the Governing Body of the College. It is hoped to make an announcement on this subject shortly. The continuance of the scholarships and the award of any further scholarships will be contingent on the progress of the scholars and the receipt by the Local Government of good reports upon them.

All these scholarships take effect retrospectively from the beginning of the session. Twenty-four scholarships of Rs. 6 a month, tenable for one year, will also be awarded from the endowment established by the Maharaja Manindrachandra Nandy of Cossimbazar. Students who have graduated from the Krishnath College, Berhampur, will have a preferential claim to these scholarships. RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON PUBLIC INSTRUCTION IN BENGAL FOR 1912-13.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

EDUCATION.

DARJEELING, THE 13TH JUNE 1914.

RESOLUTION—No. 391T.—G.

READ—

The Report on Public Instruction in Bengal for 1912-13.

THE Report deals with the Province of Bengal as constituted on 1st April 1912, the total area being 78,699 square miles with a population of 45,483,077. There was a decrease of 36 educational institutions and an increase of 20.909 pupils.

The total number of pupils was 1,718,623 distributed as follows :—

Collegiate Education	15.738
School Education (General)	1,549,449
Ditto (Special)	97,578
Private Institutions	55,858

Of these the percentages of Hindus, Muhammadans and others were :—

	Hindu	Muhammadan.	Others
Collegiate	91	7	2
School Education (General) ...	55	43	2
Ditto (Special) ...	20	79	1
Private Institutions	24	73	3
Total ...	55	43	2

The total expenditure increased by 22 lakhs as compared with the previous year. The proportionate expenditure for the two years under the three main heads is shown in the following table :—

	1911-12.	1912-13.
Public Rates and Taxes ...	38 per cent.	40 per cent.
Fees	44 „	43 „
Subscriptions and Endowments	18 „	17 „
Total ...	100 „	100 „

It is to be noted that fees supply less than half the funds required and that while the proportionate expenditure from public funds shows a tendency to increase, that from other sources tends to decrease. Secondary schools for boys are, however, an exception to this general statement.

It was not possible to make any extensive changes of policy during the year ; the systems prevailing in the two portions of the Province were maintained intact until it could be seen how far amalgamation was possible.

2. Controlling Agencies.—The actual strength of the Indian Educational Service and the old graded Service was 50. This included 47 appointments on the ordinary terms of the service and 3 on special rates of pay. In addition, one post on a personal rate of pay outside the service was held by Mr. Archbold as Principal of the Dacca College.

The cadres of the Provincial Educational Service, Subordinate Educational Service and Lower Subordinate Educational Service during the year may be considered to have comprised 139, 813 and 760 appointments respectively, these being the appointments originally held in the old Provinces of Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam, minus those transferred to Bihar and Orissa and Assam, plus six posts added to the Eastern Bengal section of the Subordinate Educational Service.

The number of officers outside the grades was 342, of whom 19 were drawing salaries of Rs. 200 and upwards.

Sanction was accorded during the year to the creation of an additional appointment in the Indian Educational Service for an Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education. An addition was made to the Lady Inspecting Staff by the appointment of an Assistant Inspectress for the Rajshahi Division, and proposals for the creation of five additional posts of Assistant Inspectresses have been accepted by Government. The school inspecting staff is reported to be unsatisfactory, and its organization is one of the most urgent problems which the Education Department have to face.

3. Collegiate Education.—There are in the Presidency 34 Arts Colleges, of which 8 are Government colleges and 1 is under the control of a Municipality, 10 are aided by Government. The number of students during the year increased by 1,916. Although Muhammadans form more than half of the total population of Bengal, nine-tenths of the Arts students are Hindus and two-thirds belong to three castes, viz., Brahmans, Kayasthas and Baidyas.

The total direct expenditure on Arts Colleges increased by Rs. 2,02,867 and that on Government colleges by Rs. 1,46,016, while the total of grants-in-aid amounted to Rs. 87,902. In future years Imperial grants to the sum of Rs. 1,29,000 will be available for private colleges.

The number of students in the Presidency College decreased by 71, owing mainly to the fact that admissions to the undergraduate classes were more carefully restricted to the limits fixed.

The new Science Baker Laboratories were opened by His Excellency Lord Carmichael on the 20th January 1913. The opening of these laboratories has set free a number of rooms and thereby done much to remedy the present congestion, but full relief cannot be expected until the College improvement scheme is carried out.

The seminar system, according to which small groups of picked and advanced students work under their tutors in a less formal manner than in the lecture-room, was introduced; and made satisfactory progress considering the large number of students and the inadequacy of the staff. The progress made in tutorial work and the introduction of a complete record of class exercises enabled the college to abolish the formal examinations to test the fitness of candidates to be sent up for the University examinations.

There was a large increase in numbers at the Hooghly, Rajshahi and Sanskrit Colleges and consequent pressure of space. At Hooghly the congestion was relieved by the removal of the Collegiate school to a rented house. Schemes for improvements of the Rajshahi College have been put forward, and the question of providing additional buildings for the Sanskrit College has been engaging the serious attention of Government.

The hostel accommodation at several Government colleges falls far short of present requirements, but substantial progress was made during the year towards removing this defect.

A public Convocation for the purpose of conferring Sanskrit Titles was held for the first time at the Sanskrit College. His Excellency Lord Carmichael presided.

4. Secondary schools.—Secondary schools comprise High and Middle English schools in which English is taught, and Middle Vernacular schools in which English is not allowed even as an optional subject.

The total number of Secondary schools in the Presidency rose from 2,224 to 2,295, and the total number of pupils from 300,319 to 334,149. There was an increase of 30 in the number of High schools; but the marked feature of the year is the steady decline in the number and efficiency of Middle Vernacular schools and the rapid increase in the number of Middle English schools. The popular desire for an English education is clearly reflected in this process of development. School authorities are readily adapting themselves to the popular view and converting middle vernacular into middle English schools.

The total expenditure in secondary schools increased by Rs. 4,65,430, but the contributions by Government and District Boards declined by Rs. 24,003 and Rs. 19,702, respectively. The increase in receipts from other sources is a very healthy sign.

The discontinuation of the examinations at the end of the middle stage is still a subject of adverse criticism on the part of many officers. The matter is under the consideration of Government.

The percentage of successful candidates at the Matriculation Examination increased from 64·6 in 1911-12 to 73·1, the Government schools showing the best results.

The Commercial classes attached to high schools were finally abolished during the year.

The general condition of secondary schools was far from satisfactory. During the year under review the Government of India communicated sanction to a recurring assignment of a lakh and a half for the improvement of existing secondary aided schools and more especially for raising the pay of the teachers. During the first year this amount was devoted to non-recurring expenditure, but the formulation of a definite scheme for its utilization in future was taken in hand. The improvement of secondary schools is not, however, merely a matter of funds and grants.

5. Primary schools for boys.—The number of primary schools for boys fell by 513, viz., 148 upper and 365 lower primary ; and the number of pupils by 11.690.

The loss in upper primary schools occurred in Eastern Bengal and is attributed to the reduction in status of some schools and the growing unpopularity of a purely vernacular education. The loss in lower primary schools occurred in West Bengal, where some such institutions were converted into maktabs, while others, which had previously struggled for existence, disappeared for want of aid from public funds. The main reasons assigned for the decrease in numbers, however, are the rise in the price of food, which compelled many teachers to leave their schools in search of other work, and the insistence upon improved methods of teaching with no corresponding pecuniary advantage to the teachers.

The stipend of untrained teachers has now been raised by Re. 1 a month and that of trained teachers by Rs 3 a month. The introduction of a general scheme of reform has, however, been delayed for want of funds.

The decline in the number of pupils was shared by both Hindus and Muhammadans ; but among the former it amounted to 3·5 per cent., while among the latter it was only 1·5 per cent. Moreover, the decrease in the number of Muhammadan boys in primary schools was counterbalanced by the increase in the number in maktabs. Among boys of school-going age 33·8 per cent. Hindus and 24·1 per cent. Muhammadans are now reading in primary schools ; the corresponding figures for the preceding year being 34·8 and 24·4 respectively.

Out of the Imperial grants assigned for primary education Rs. 2,30,000 was allotted to East Bengal and Rs. 2,31,168 to West Bengal. In East Bengal the grant was expended mainly on the construction of board primary school buildings, the supply of apparatus to primary schools and the deputation of teachers to training schools. In West Bengal the objects to which the grant was devoted were the equipment of guru-training schools, the re-construction and repairs of guru-training school and primary school buildings, furniture and equipment for primary schools and the erection of a cheaper type of primary school buildings.

Provision was made for the construction of 589 board schools in Eastern Bengal and 400 primary school buildings of a cheap type in West Bengal. During the current year it is hoped to construct many more board school buildings in both Eastern and Western Bengal.

6. Training of teachers for Indian schools.—There are in the Presidency 132 training institutions with 2,389 students, the numbers having fallen by 1 and 64 respectively since 1911-12. These institutions comprise

3 colleges, 6 normal schools, 118 guru-training schools and 5 special training classes.

The staff of the David Hare College has been strengthened by the appointment of a Professor of Method, who joined the College in November 1912. The College still lacks accommodation.

The Dacca College admits private candidates as well as educational officers in Government service. The year was marked by the institution of a nature study class for the training of vernacular teachers for the improved type of guru-training schools in Eastern Bengal.

There are three normal schools in each portion of the Province. Those in West Bengal have been greatly improved by the adoption of the recommendations made by the Special Committee appointed in 1909. Music and hygiene have been included in their curricula and thus the full course drawn up by that Committee is now in operation.

The normal schools in Eastern Bengal are not doing so well, for there is a consensus of opinion among the Inspectors of Schools that the quality of their outturn has greatly deteriorated.

The guru-training schools are for the most part badly equipped, but their improvement is being undertaken with the aid of the Imperial grant for truly popular education.

7. Professional and Technical Education.—The Civil Engineering College at Sibpur suffered a great loss in the death of two of its Professors, Mr. W. Tate and Dr. H. deS. Pittard. The subjects of mechanical and electrical engineering have been separated and are now taught by different professors, while the physical subjects have been distributed among the departments of electrical engineering, chemistry and mining. The special mining scholarships were discontinued at the beginning of the year.

The Survey classes in the Dacca School of Engineering are being transferred to Comilla under the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys. A second storey is being added to the hostel building, and new laboratories for the Overseer course in mechanical and electrical engineering are under construction.

Technical and Industrial schools are losing students in the sub-overseer classes, a fact which is said to be due to the superior attractions of the University courses. The Rangpur Technical School was provincialised, and sanction was accorded to the provincialisation of the Chittagong School. The future of these schools in both East and West Bengal will, however, have to be carefully considered before any further steps are taken in this direction.

The ex-students of the higher classes of the Serampore Weaving Institute have been generally successful in obtaining employment and their employers give very satisfactory reports of their work.

The popularity of the City and Guilds of London Technological Examination is increasing, and altogether 69 candidates offered themselves for examination in 1912 at the two centres—Calcutta and Serampore.

The Commercial Institute of Calcutta has been greatly encouraged by a circular of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce recommending that passed students of this institute should be given preference by commercial firms when making clerical appointments. The Committee appointed by Government to consider certain questions connected with technical education sat during the early part of 1912. Its main recommendations were the removal of the Engineering College from Sibpur, the establishment of a Technological Institute in Calcutta, and the creation of a separate residential Civil Engineering College. The proposal for a Technological Institute in Calcutta has since been worked out in detail by Messrs, Nathan, Küchler and Everett in consultation with employers of labour and others. All these important questions are still under the consideration of Government.

8. The education of Indian girls and women.—There was an increase of 306 in the number of institutions of all kinds for girls; but the number of girls, including those reading in mixed schools, rose by only 173. It is, however, interesting to note that the number of Muhammadan girls increased by 1.423.

Two colleges are affiliated to the University, the Bethune College in Calcutta and the Diocesan College at Ballygunge. The class at Loreto House is allowed to send up private students for the I. A. Examination and has now applied for regular affiliation. The Bethune College still lacks accommodation, but its re-organization and improvement are now being considered by the Education Department.

With the exception of those under Mission management, secondary schools are hampered by lack of trained teachers and suitable buildings.

Primary schools also suffer from similar defects, but a hopeful sign is the increasing readiness on the part of the public to repair and erect school houses.

Zenana education has made fair progress, and the question of its expansion and development will be carefully considered in connection with the distribution of the grants for female education.

The training of lady teachers is carried on in two Government and five Mission Training Schools which prepare candidates for the junior and senior teachership certificate examinations. There are also training classes for Hindu widows in Calcutta and Dacca and two "Widows' Homes" at Orakandi and Dacca. These homes are of great importance; for widows are reported to be more satisfactory teachers than married women, as they have not the same domestic responsibilities.

The total number of women who passed the teachership examination was 65.

The value of scholarships awarded decreased by Rs. 2,084, but it is proposed to make a substantial increase with the aid of the Imperial grant.

A Committee for the whole Province was constituted to advise Government in matters relating to the education of girls and women. The recommendations included the establishment of a general Training College and school for lady teachers at Calcutta.

The amount allotted for the education of girls from the Imperial grant was devoted to objects of capital expenditure, among which may be mentioned the improvement of the Bethune College, Calcutta, and the Vidyamoyi Girls' School at Mymensingh, the completion of some urban schools in Eastern Bengal and the purchase of sites for primary schools in the Dacca and Mymensingh Municipalities.

9. The Education of Europeans.—The number of European schools is 76, including 16 special schools, i.e., commercial, technical or training institutions. The number of pupils on the 31st March 1913 was 9,087, of whom 8,360 were Europeans and Anglo-Indians. Only two of the schools are under direct Government management, viz., the Victoria and Dow Hill Schools, Kurseong.

The system of examinations in force in these schools is not altogether satisfactory and will require careful investigation.

The Imperial allotments for European education were devoted to non-recurring objects of expenditure pending the formulation of suitable schemes for their utilization.

The work done in the agricultural class at the St. Andrew's Colonial Homes, Kalimpong, was of an admirable and practical kind. The Young Men's Christian Association Commercial Classes were closed during the year. That of the Young Women's Christian Association has been greatly developed.

There was a great improvement in the efficiency of the cadet corps, the efficient and extra efficient cadets numbering 181 and 1,218, respectively.

10. Muhammadan Education.—The Muhammadan population of the Province is 52·7 per cent. of the total population, but the percentage of Muhammadan students in educational institutions of all kinds for Indians is only 42·8. It is, however, satisfactory to notice that the increase of the last few years in Muhammadan pupils in colleges, secondary schools, girls' schools and miscellaneous schools has been well maintained. The rate of increase among Muhammadans has been considerably greater than among Hindus. The number of Muhammadans attending private schools has decreased by 369, a fact which is ascribed to the conversion of Koran schools into recognised maktabs.

The number of madrasahs increased by 11, and the number of pupils by 584. A scheme for the reform of madrasahs has been worked out and is at present being considered by Government. Orders will shortly be issued.

11. The Education of Special Classes.—The Nawab Bahadur's Institution at Murshidabad which provides for the education of boys of the Nizamat family is the only institution in the Presidency where special provision is made for the education of the sons of chiefs and nobles.

The number of pupils of aboriginal descent or drawn from depressed classes increased by 1,599. Proposals for the expansion and development of education among the Sonthals in Birbhum, Bankura and Midnapore, were put forward during the year, and a complete scheme will shortly be formulated.

The expenditure from Provincial Revenues, on the education of children of tea-garden labourers in Darjeeling and Jalpaiguri, amounted to Rs. 8,829. The number of such schools was 105 with 2,172 pupils.

12. Private Institutions.—The acceptance by many private institutions of standards recognised by Government has led to a decrease in schools of this class. At the same time the number of pupils reading in such schools has increased from 54,729 to 55,858.

13. Physical and Moral Training.—Hostel and boarding-houses for boys increased by 51, but the need of well-managed hostels is still keenly felt. In Calcutta and Dacca, where adequate hostel accommodation cannot be provided, the excess has to be accommodated in messes under the supervision of a Special Inspector. The messes at Dacca are under the control of the "City Educational Council" whose executive officer, the "Proctor," exercises general supervision.

Football and Cricket continue to be the most popular games. The whole subject of physical exercise is now being investigated by a committee appointed by Government.

It is satisfactory to note that, so far as reported, serious breaches of discipline were few in number. The general discipline of the schools leaves, however, much to be desired.

14. Conferences.—Several important conferences were held during the year. Among the subjects discussed the most important were the distribution of the Imperial grants for primary education, the question of religious and moral training and Sanskrit education. Conferences were also held in connection with the training of gurus.

15. Text-Book Committees.—There are two such committees—one at Calcutta and one at Dacca. Active measures were taken by the latter to suppress the use of "keys."

16. Mr. Küchler, who was in charge of the Department throughout the year, has since retired from the service of Government, and the report has been prepared by the present Director of Public Instruction, the Hon'ble Mr. W. W. Hornell. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to Mr. Küchler for his careful administration of the Department and to Mr. Hornell for the interesting account which he has presented of the year's progress.

There has been considerable progress in education both in West and East Bengal during recent years, and His Excellency in Council trusts that, under Mr. Hornell's able guidance and with the help of the liberal Imperial subsidies, a marked advance will be made towards the consolidation and expansion of all branches of education and also towards the unification, wherever desirable, of the different systems prevalent in the two parts of the Province.

ORDERS.—Ordered that the Resolution, together with the Report,* be published in the Calcutta Gazette; that a copy be submitted to the Government of India in the Department of Education and copies be forwarded to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, and to all Commissioners of Divisions for information.

* Will be published in the next Gazette.

By order of the Governor in Council,

H. F. SAMMAN,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF THE SHIPPING OFFICES IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1913-14.

The 16th June 1914.

No. 86Marine.—The following Annual Reports on the working of the Shipping Offices in Bengal for the year 1913-14 are published for general information.

A. C. J. DE LOTBINIÈRE, LT.-COL., R.E.

From—COMMANDER C. J. C. KENDALL, R.I.M., Shipping Master of Calcutta,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Marine Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith the Annual Report of the Shipping Office for the year 1913-14.

The statement below shows the number of seamen shipped and discharged during the year under European and Indian foreign articles, together with the figures for the previous year:—

Articles.	1912-13.	1913-14.	Increase.	Decrease.
Shipped—
European ...	851	832	...	19

Total ...	12,635	14,554	2,130	211

Fuller particulars of the above figures are shown in Appendix I. It will be observed from this statement that the number of seamen shipped and discharged on European articles is decreasing, while that employed on Indian articles shows large increases and is due to the great demand nowadays for the employment of Indian seamen.

The number of Eurasians shipped on European and Indian articles is 76 and 184, respectively, being a decrease of 20 under the former and an increase of 113 under the latter articles in comparison with the figures of the previous year.

The following figures represent the number of seamen shipped and discharged at the various Consulates with the nationalities specified. detailed particulars of which are given in Appendix II. These figures are not included in Appendix I :—

Nationalities.	Shipped	Discharged.
Javanese	7	...
British	11	6
Germans	46	39
Chinese	10	8
Scandinavians	7	19
Russians	9	16
Arabs	25	22
Danes	17	10
Greeks	2	6
Americans	1	1
Japanese	4	2
Austrians	15	11
Malays	18	2
Italians	3	24
Total	175	166

The number of European and Indian seamen that deserted and failed to join their vessels during the year was 72 and 849. The majority were, however, replaced by substitutes.

Repatriation of Distressed Seamen.—Ninety-eight seamen were repatriated for the following causes :—Sickness and injury 45, paucity of employment 53.

Relief to Seamen.—The number of seamen afforded relief in the Workhouse during the year was six at a cost of Rs. 68-8. Of these, four obtained employment and two absconded. Nineteen seamen were relieved in the Alms House by the District Charitable Society at a cost of Rs. 1,224-8. Twenty-four destitute seamen were admitted into the Sailors' Home from Consuls and other Societies. A loss of Rs. 836 was sustained by this institute owing to seamen not being able to pay their board. The number of distressed native seamen assisted from the Shipwrecked Mariners' Fund was 48 at a cost of Rs. 970-12.

Complaints.—No reports of any importance were made during the year.

European Seamen's Money-orders.—A sum of £473 was remitted by seamen to their relatives in England compared with £317-5-6 of the previous year.

Administration of Trust Funds.—The transactions of funds held in trust during the year under different heads is shown in Appendix III ; stamped papers to the value of Rs. 27-6 were used on account of securities in disposing of estates of deceased seamen. The balance of accumulated funds at the commencement of the year was Rs. 15,731 and the receipts Rs. 61,548. The payments were Rs. 56,919, and Rs. 2,625 having lapsed to Government, a balance of Rs. 17,735 is left at the close of the year.

Transactions with the Board of Trade.—The sum of Rs. 15,589 represents the transaction with the Board of Trade, and compared with the figures of the previous year, shows a decrease of Rs. 9,524.

Financial Results.—The figures below give the financial results of the office for the last five years :—

Year.		Receipts.	Disbursements.	Savings.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1909-10	...	88,759	51,932	36,827
1910-11	...	95,802	57,463	38,339
1911-12	...	1,05,571	62,475	43,096
1912-13	...	1,16,739	65,009	53,730
1913-14	...	1,23,047	69,875	53,172

It will be seen from the above figures that there is a decrease of Rs. 558 in the savings in comparison with the figures of the previous year, which may be ascribed to the increased expenditure in the cost of forms.

Detailed particulars of the receipts and expenditure appear in Appendix IV, which shows an increase of Rs. 4,750, chiefly under the heading of shipping and discharging fees, which is the result of increased demand for Indian seamen.

Expenditure.—On referring to Appendix IV it will be seen that there is an increase of expenditure of Rs. 5,231 under the head of cost of forms, which is chiefly due to the supply of a large number of discharge certificates and other forms, and also to the inclusion of the cost of forms supplied in the previous year being met during the year under review.

Changes in Officers.—During the year Commander C. J. C. Kendall, R.I.M., Port Officer, was on leave from 14th August 1913 to 12th October 1913, during which time Commander G. N. Forteath, R.I.M., Deputy Port Officer and Deputy Shipping Master, carried on the duties of the above officer in addition to his own. Lieutenant O. No. 148., dated Chittagong, the 8th May 1914.

From—COMMANDER B. H. JONES, R.I.M., Shipping Master, Chittagong,
To—The Commissioner of the Chittagong Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith the Annual Administration Report of the Shipping Office for the financial year 1913-14, together with appendices (I to III).

2. Financial Results.—The amount received during the year was Rs. 905 and that expended was Rs. 756, leaving a surplus balance of Rs. 149. The accompanying Statement I shows the required particulars of the receipts and expenditure of the last two years, with explanation of the principal fluctuations.

3. Trust Funds.—The opening balance of the year under review of the funds was Rs. 251 and the receipts Rs. 45,431, or Rs. 30,948 less than that of the previous year. The payments were Rs. 45,218 and Rs. 8 lapsed to Government during the year, leaving a balance of Rs. 456 at its close, as shown in Statement II annexed.

4. Seamen shipped and discharged.—The number of seamen of all nationalities shipped and discharged during the year under review was 197 and 644, respectively, against 145 and 988 in the previous year, as shown in Statement III annexed. The increase of 52 in the number shipped is due to a greater number of crew being engaged by the masters of vessels, and the decrease of 344 in the number discharged is due to the smaller number of vessels having paid o their crew at this port.

5. Inspection of Vessels.—The number of ships which arrived at this port during the year 1913-14 was 130 (excluding regular coasting steamers) against 122 in the previous year. Of these, four ships were manned by Europeans, 86 ships were manned by mixed crew of Europeans, Asiatics and Indian lascars, and 40 ships were manned exclusively by Indians. All the foreign-going ships were inspected by the Port Health Officer.

6. Condition of Seamen.—There were 30 seamen admitted into the Chittagong General Hospital against 14 during the preceding year. Of the total admissions, 24 were discharged as cured, one as relieved, two discharged otherwise and three died. There were no cases of scurvy or death resulting from bad or insufficient food on boardship during the year under report.

7. Seamen's Money-orders.—No remittances of wages were made to the United Kingdom by means of seamen's money-orders.

8. Deserters.—There were eight deserters during the year under report against 14 in the previous year. There were no deserters among European seamen.

9. Deaths.—Three seamen died in the Chittagong General Hospital during the year under report. Of these, two died of malarial fever and one of dysentery.

NOTE.—The statements are compiled in the Statistical Department of the Government of India from statistics supplied by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, Railway Audit Offices, Steamer Companies, Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, the District Magistrates of the 24-Parganas and Howrah, and the Assistant Engineer, Calcutta Canals.

The remarkable fluctuations in the trade compared with the figures for 1912-13 are—

Under Imports there is decrease in wheat, wheat-flour, gram and pulse and other food-grains, due to the famine conditions in parts of the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh. The increase in the imports of cotton (raw) and linseed is due mainly to larger importations of the articles from the Central Provinces and Berar and Bihar and Orissa, respectively.

There is a decrease in the exports by sea of rice, paddy, wheat, and gram and pulse. Less demand from Madras and foreign countries, other than the United Kingdom, explains the deficit in the trade of rice, while the unusually large imports of Indian paddy by Burma in 1912-13 accounts for the discrepancy in the export trade in paddy. There was a great demand for wheat in Europe in 1912 and 1913 owing to adverse climatic conditions in Europe, the railway strike and war conditions in the Balkans. In 1913-14 the normal conditions were restored and shipments declined. The decrease under gram and pulse is due to less demand from foreign countries other than the United Kingdom.

No. 4016-4050-91, dated Simla, the 22nd May 1914

RESOLUTION—By the Govt. of India, Dept. of Commerce and Industry.

IN the Resolution of the Government of India in this department, No 4519—4554-17, dated the 29th May 1907, it was decided that in view of the satisfactory financial position of the Post Office Insurance Fund, the sums eventually payable in respect of existing policies in the Life Branch of the Fund should be increased by 10 per cent., and that the premia payable in respect of sums assured under policies issued on and after the 1st April 1907, should be correspondingly reduced. A recent investigation made into the past experience and present position of the Fund has shown that there is still a substantial surplus on the total operations connected with it, and that it is possible to make a distribution of a considerable portion of the surplus without affecting the financial stability of the Fund. His Majesty's Secretary of State has accordingly sanctioned the grant to holders of policies, on the valuation date 31st March 1912, of a bonus at the rate of 2 per cent. in the case of Whole Life Assurances, and 1 per cent. in the case of Endowment Assurances, in respect of each year's premium paid since 31st March 1907 up to that date.

Revised tables have been drawn up showing the new premia rates applicable to future entrants and are annexed hereto.

ORDERED—that this Resolution be communicated to the several Departments of the Government of India, to all Local Governments and Administrations, to all Heads of Departments subordinate to this Department, and to the Accountant-General, Post Office and Telegraphs.

Ordered, also, that a copy be forwarded to the Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs, for necessary action.

Ordered, further, that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

3. The object of the scholarships being to enable ladies to enter the College at Delhi and to take up a professional course there, the award will be made to those, otherwise eligible, who are prepared to join the Junior Intermediate class of a recognised College or any similar class this year with a view to qualifying, after a course of study for two years, for admission to the Medical College at Delhi.

They must also guarantee that they will study for two years in a college affiliated to the local University, the course leading up to the Intermediate examination, or an examination recognized for this purpose as equivalent thereto, such special subjects as may be prescribed by that University as qualifying for entrance upon a professional course of medical study being included in the course. They must also undertake that on the completion of these two years they will seek admission to the Medical College to be established at Delhi, and continue their studies up to the examinations for the Medical degree for which that College will prepare students.

5. The question of providing scholarships tenable during the period of study in Delhi is under consideration by the Governing Body of the College. REPORT ON PUBLIC INSTRUCTION IN BENGAL FOR 1912-13.

CHAPTER I.

Introductory.

Area and population dealt with in the report.

THE area with which the review is concerned is the new Presidency of Bengal as constituted on the 1st of April 1912. It comprises five divisions, viz., the Presidency, Burdwan, Dacca, Rajshahi and Chittagong Divisions.

Excluding Native States which do not furnish any returns and with the educational system of which the review does not deal, the Presidency covers an area of 78,699 square miles and contains a population of 45,483,077.

Total number of educational institutions and their pupils.

2. The total number of educational institutions, both public and private, decreased from 42,939 to 42,903 while that of pupils attending them increased from 1,697,714 to 1,718,623. The decrease of 36 schools is the net result of a loss of 163 in the number of private institutions and a gain of 127 in that of public schools. Public institutions now number 40,686 and their pupils 1,662,765. Private institutions number 2,217 and their pupils 55,858. The corresponding figures of the preceding year were 40,559, 1,642,887, 2,380 and 54,827, respectively.

Total expenditure on Public Instruction.

3. The total expenditure on public instruction for the year 1912-13 was Rs. 2,02,70,578. Of this sum, Rs. 1,29,13,703 represents direct and Rs. 73,56,875 indirect expenditure. The expenditure from Provincial revenues amounted to Rs. 61,97,260. District Boards, Municipalities and Native States spent Rs. 15,87,425. Rs. 1,55,761 and Rs. 1,886, respectively. The income from fees amounted to Rs. 86,62,382 and that from subscriptions, endowments, etc., to Rs. 33,62,861. The position of the Department in regard to expenditure on education from these sources in the preceding year may be seen from the figures noted below :—

	Rs.
Provincial revenues	54,67.365
District Boards	13,66,214
Municipal „	1,52,293
Native States	4,992
Fees	77,89,154
Subscriptions, endowments, etc. ...	32,65,698
Total ...	1,80,45,716

The Budget.

4. The budget grant for the year under "22—Education" was Rs. 78,45,000 and the total expenditure returned by the Accountant-General was Rs. 73,39,104.

General Remarks.

5. The year under review was not marked by any extensive changes of policy. The systems prevailing in the two portions of the Province were adopted intact. During the year it was not possible for the Department to organise, still less to carry through, any large schemes of reforms. It could merely take stock of the existing position to see how far amalgamation seemed possible and how far some retention of diversity might prove desirable.

CHAPTER II.

Controlling Agencies.

The Indian Educational Service.

6. On the 31st March 1912 the Province of Bengal, as it was then constituted, had 47 appointments in the Indian Educational Service. In the course of 1912-13, 12 of these appointments were transferred to Bihar and Orissa and consequently on the 31st March 1913 there were 35 such appointments being held in the Western Bengal section of this Presidency. Of these 35 appointments, 2 were on special rates of pay. No appointments were added to the Indian Educational Service cadre in Western Bengal during the year under review, and there were ten vacancies on the 31st March 1913. On the 31st March 1912 the Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam, as it was then constituted, had 22 appointments in the Indian Educational Service. On the formation of the Province of Assam, 5 of these appointments were transferred there, and on the 1st April 1912 this number was reduced to 16 by the abolition of the post of Assistant Director of Public Instruction, Eastern Bengal and Assam. On the 31st March 1913 the Indian Educational Service cadre of the Eastern Bengal section of the existing Presidency was 16 strong. As the result of the appointment of Mr. Archbold to be the Principal of the Dacca College on a personal rate of pay, the Eastern Bengal and Assam cadre was temporarily reduced, one post being held in abeyance, a condition which still obtains. The Inspectress of Girls' Schools, Dacca Circle, holds an appointment on a special rate of pay. Of the posts remaining to the Eastern Bengal part of the Presidency, the balance, viz., 14, are held on the ordinary terms. The combined Indian Educational Service cadre of the Bengal Presidency may be held therefore to have started with 51 appointments, 48 (including 2 which previously belonged to the old graded Educational Service and the post above referred to which is now held in abeyance) on the ordinary terms of the service and 3 on special rates of pay.

The Provincial Educational Service.

7. On the 31st March 1912 the Provincial Educational Service of the Province of Bengal, as it then was, contained 111 appointments. During the year 1912-13, 33 of these appointments were transferred to Bihar and Orissa and consequently the Provincial Educational Service of the Western Bengal section of the Presidency, as it was on the 31st March 1913, contained 78 appointments. On the 31st March 1912 the Provincial Educational Service of the Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam contained 74 posts exclusive of the lady principalship at the Eden High School, Dacca, which carries with it a special rate of pay. It was decided during the year 1912-13 that of these 74 appointments, Assam should have 13: consequently on the 31st March 1913 there were 61 Provincial Educational Service appointments in the Eastern Bengal section of the existing Presidency. The Provincial Educational Service cadre of the Bengal Presidency may therefore be considered to have consisted, on the 31st March 1913, of 139 appointments (viz., 78 + 61) though the formation of the cadre had not been sanctioned by that date.

The Subordinate Educational Service.

8. On the 31st March 1912 the Subordinate Educational Service cadre of the Province of Bengal consisted of 821 appointments. During 1912-13 372 of these appointments were transferred to Bihar and Orissa. Consequently on the 31st March 1913 the Subordinate Educational Service cadre of the Western Bengal section of the existing Presidency may be held to have consisted of 450 appointments [(821—372) + 1]. The figure 450 includes the appointment created in the terms of Government order No. 770, dated the 31st January 1913, for a mistress of physical culture for the Dow Hill School at Kurseong. On the 31st March 1912 the Subordinate Educational Service cadre of the Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam contained 481 appointments. Of these 481 appointments, 124 were transferred to Assam. Consequently the Subordinate Educational Service cadre of the Eastern Bengal section of the existing Presidency consisted, on the 31st March 1913, of 357 appointments. The combined Subordinate Educational Service cadre for the Presidency of Bengal may therefore be considered to have consisted, on the 31st March 1913, of 813 appointments (450 + 357 + 6). The six posts added to the cadre of the Eastern Bengal section during the year 1912-13 being included in this figure.

The Lower Subordinate Educational Service.

9. On the 31st March 1912 the Lower Subordinate Educational Service for the Province of Bengal contained 760 appointments. Of these, 373 were transferred to Bihar and Orissa in the course of 1912-13, and 1 appointment in class II was abolished with effect from the 28th June 1912 on account of the discontinuance of the "C" classes in the Calcutta Madrassah. The Lower Subordinate Educational Service of the Eastern Bengal section of the existing Presidency contained, on the 31st March 1913, 374 appointments. No appointments in this cadre were transferred to Assam, where there was not at the time, nor, so far as this office is aware, is there at present, any Lower Subordinate Educational Service. The combined Lower Subordinate Educational Service cadre in the Presidency of Bengal may thus be considered to have contained, on the 31st March 1913, 760 appointments (386 + 374).

Officers not within the classified list.

10. On the 31st March 1913 there were 11 officers serving in the Western Bengal section of the existing Presidency, who were not included in the classified list. These 11 officers were drawing salaries ranging from Rs. 200 a month to Rs. 1,100 a month, and in addition to them there were 121 miscellaneous officers outside the grades on salaries ranging from Rs. 15 a month to Rs. 150 a month. From the latter figure, viz., 121, artizans in the Civil Engineering College, pandits in guru-training schools and in model primary schools for girls are excluded. The total number of posts outside the grades in the Eastern Bengal section of the existing Presidency on the 31st March 1913 was 210 including the post of the Principal of the Dacca College, which was held by Mr. Archbold on a salary of Rs. 1,250—50—1,500. Of these 210 officers, 8 draw salaries of Rs. 200 a month and upwards, while the salaries of the remainder (viz., 202) range from Rs. 15 a month to Rs. 150 a month. The number of officers outside the grades in the Bengal Presidency, on the 31st March 1913, included therefore 19 officers drawing salaries of Rs. 200 a month and upwards and 323 drawing salaries which range from Rs. 15 a month to Rs. 150 a month.

Direction.

11. Orders were received during the year sanctioning the creation of an additional appointment in the Indian Educational Service for an Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education in Bengal. The post of Additional Assistant Director of Public Instruction in the Provincial Educational Service was discontinued at the same time.

General Inspecting Agencies.

12. The table below shows the strength of the inspecting agency as it stood on 31st March 1913:—

Division.	Inspectors and Additional Inspectors.	Assistant Inspectors.	Deputy and Additional Deputy Inspectors.	Sub-Inspectors.	Assistant Sub-Inspectors.	Assistant Inspectresses.	Inspectresses.
Burdwan ...	3	4	21	73	17	1
Presidency (excluding Calcutta).	4	3	11	44	9	1	1
Calcutta (special staff)	...	...	2	3	...
Dacca	3	3	17	54	7	1
Chittagong ...	2	2	9	34	2	1	1
Rajshahi	1	2	14	41	2	1

In addition to the inspecting officers shown in the above table there were 11 Assistant Sub-Inspectors and 144 inspecting pandits or guru-instructors who do not render any qualifying service under Government.

Only one addition—an Assistant inspectress for the Rajshahi Division—was made to the female inspecting staff during the year, but proposals have been accepted by Government for the creation of five additional posts of Assistant Inspectresses.

The school inspecting staff of the Presidency is not satisfactory. How to reorganise it, so that it may really contribute to the evolution and maintenance of a sound system of secondary and primary schools, is one of the most urgent problems with which the Education Department is now faced.

CHAPTER III.

Collegiate Education.

Arts Colleges.

Colleges and Students.

13. The number of arts colleges in Bengal as now constituted is 34, of which 8 are under the direct control of Government and 1 is under the control of a municipality. Of the remainder 10 are aided by Government and 15 are unaided. The number of students on the rolls on 31st March 1913 was 12,896 as compared with 10,980 on the same day in 1911-12.

Expenditure.

14. The total direct expenditure rose from Rs. 13,56,372 in the year previous to Rs. 15,59,239 in 1912-13. The expenditure on Government colleges alone rose from Rs. 6,53,128 to Rs. 7,99,144. A sum of Rs. 87,902 was expended as grants-in-aid to private colleges.

Imperial grants.

15. As in previous years, a sum of Rs. 1,10,000 was contributed from Imperial revenues for the assistance of private colleges in Bengal. This is now a permanent contribution. Owing to the transfer of the divisions of Bihar, Chota Nagpur and Orissa to a new administration the amount now available for Bengal colleges is Rs. 89,000. In addition to this allotment an annual Imperial grant of Rs. 40,000 for collegiate education was brought over with the three eastern divisions of Bengal. The total sum which will therefore be in future available for the Presidency under this head will be Rs. 1,29,000.

Government Colleges.

Presidency College.

16. There were 902 students on the rolls of the college on the 31st March 1913 against 973 on the corresponding date of the year before. The decrease is reported to be due partly to a more careful restriction of admissions to the undergraduate classes to the limits fixed and partly to the effect of the greater activity on the part of the University in the teaching of the M.A. and M.Sc. courses to those who have taken B.A. and B.Sc. degrees.

The new science laboratories, begun in 1910, have been completed and occupied. The new building, called the Baker Laboratories, was publicly opened by His Excellency Lord Carmichael on 20th January 1913. The removal of the physical, physiological and geological laboratories from the main building of the college has set free a number of rooms, the majority of which it is proposed to utilize in giving much-needed relief to the chemical department, and the remainder have been assigned to general purposes, i.e., for class-rooms, offices, reading-rooms for the professors, etc. The Principal indicates that it will be necessary before long to consider the question of a complete reorganization of the chemical laboratory. Attention has also been drawn to the inadequacy of the existing common-room for students and, pending the full realization of the college improvement scheme, the Principal suggests that the shed built in 1908 for the histology room might be adapted to serve as an extension of the common-room. One of the rooms in the Baker Laboratory buildings has been converted into a science library. The organization and arrangement of the library have been the special care of the Principal and the library committee.

The Principal reports that there has been sound progress in the work of the seminars. The chief difficulty is the inadequacy of the staff. Seminar study implies small groups of picked and advanced students working with their tutors in a less formal manner than in the lecture-room. The number of students of the college is so large that only a beginning is possible; nevertheless the interest of M.A. students in the seminars is steadily developing and the work actually done is creditable.

The system of tutorial work and class exercises is being steadily developed, and sufficient advance has been made to enable the college to abolish the formal test examination and to substitute a system of complete record of class exercise work on the basis of which it can be decided whether a student should be sent up for his University examination without further formal test.

Under present conditions it is found impossible for the Principal to discharge with entire satisfaction to himself the multifarious duties and responsibilities of the post. The matter is under consideration.

Dacca College.

17. The year was one of quiet progress. The number of students on 31st March 1913 was 767 as compared with 675 in the previous year. The staff consists of 43 members. The college hostel, which provides accommodation for Hindus and Muhammadans alike, was filled, 160 of the residents being Hindus and 34 Muhammadans. Mr. J. M. Bottomley and Babu Haridas Saha are resident superintendents of the hostel.

Hooghly College.

18. The numerical strength of the college rose to 190, the highest number attained for many years. The chief feature of this increase was the recovery of the strength of the B.A. classes which had been steadily declining since 1908-09.

The solution of the pressing question of accommodation which has been engaging the attention of the educational authorities for many years past is at last within sight. The removal of the Hooghly Collegiate School to a rented house, which has been carried out since the close of the period under review, should ease the problem as regards the more pressing requirements of the college and the madrassah; but the needs of these institutions are continually growing, and the question of accommodation will not be completely solved until a small building is constructed for the physical laboratory and an additional room for the chemical laboratory, which will become all the more necessary if any extension of the affiliation of the college in physics and chemistry up to the B.A. and B.Sc. pass standards and in mathematics up to the B.Sc. honours standard is granted. The University has been addressed in this regard.

During the year under report a project for constructing a building for the Muhammadan students' hostel was administratively sanctioned. The land has been acquired and the work of construction commenced. The question of extending the hostel for Hindu students is under consideration.

Krishnagar College.

19. The number of students remains practically the same, 143 against 144 in the previous year. The numerical strength of the college is reported to be adversely affected by the proximity of the Berhampore College, which offers a wider choice of subjects.

During the year under report the question of the provision of adequate hostel accommodation was settled. As mentioned in previous reports, the continuance of the institution as a first-grade Government college was made conditional on the provision by the local people of a sum of Rs. 40,000 for the purpose of constructing a hostel. A sum of about Rs. 27,000 only was collected, but, on the recommendation of the Commissioner, Government decided that the local effort was sufficient and sanctioned the construction of a hostel in the college compound at a cost of about Rs. 38,000. The amount of the local contributions will be merged in the general fund of the college, the interest of which will be devoted to the general improvement of the institution.

The physical and chemical laboratorities have been rearranged and re-organized in accordance with the requirements of the University.

Rajshahi College.

20. The numbers rose from 522 in the previous year to 656 in the year under report. The Principal reports that owing to the want of accommodation both in the class-rooms and in the boarding-houses a considerable number of students were refused admission.

The college has outgrown its present habitation. Notwithstanding the removal of the library to another building great difficulty was, it is reported, felt in providing accommodation for the various classes. A scheme for the improvement of the buildings of the college was under preparation at the close of the year and will be considered in due course.

A sum of Rs. 30,000 was sanctioned for the construction of a new Hindu hostel during the year. A donation of a similar amount has been promised by Raja P. N. Ray and Kumar B. K. Ray of Dighapatia for the construction of another Hindu hostel. The question of combining the projects and constructing one large hostel from funds available from different sources is under consideration. A new physical laboratory is in course of construction, and, when it is completed, it is intended that the present laboratory building should be used for hostel purposes. A fairly large number of students at present live in messes in the town.

Chittagong College.

21. The average monthly number on the rolls declined from 147 in the preceding year to 127 in the year under report. This decline is attributed to the system of periodical test examinations throughout the year, on the results of which students are allowed to enter for the University examinations or to proceed to the next higher class.

A new hostel at a cost of Rs. 34,000 is in course of construction. It will afford accommodation for 40 Hindu students. The present Hindu hostel will eventually be made over for the use of the Muhammadan students.

The question of the provision of a residence for the Principal still remains to be settled.

Sanskrit College.

22. The number of students on 31st March 1913 stood at 115 as against 99 in the preceding year. The question of the reorganization of the Sanskrit College and the restoration of the M.A. classes remain to be settled. It is felt that until the reorganization has been carried out the number of students will remain low and its reputation will remain behind that which the foremost oriental institution of the Presidency should enjoy.

The college is labouring under the serious disadvantage of inadequacy of accommodation. Improvement in this respect is bound up with the much larger scheme for the provision of buildings for the educational institutions in College Square—a matter which has been engaging the serious attention of Government.

The year under review is memorable in the history of Sanskrit education in Bengal for the new departure of a public convocation for the purpose of conferring Sanskrit titles. The first convocation held at the Sanskrit College was presided over by His Excellency Lord Carmichael and attended by a large and distinguished assembly.

Bethune College.

23. This college is considered in Chapter VIII, which deals with the education of Indian girls and women.

CHAPTER IV.

Secondary Education for Indian Boys.

Secondary Schools for Boys.

Schools and Pupils.

24. Secondary schools of all classes in the Presidency increased from 2,224 to 2,295 and the number of pupils rose from 300,319 to 334,149 during the period under review. The increase was confined to high and middle English schools, which showed an increase of 30 and 82, respectively. The number of middle vernacular schools on the other hand declined from 514 in the preceding year to 173 in 1912-13, and the number of pupils in them fell from 32,876 to 30,082. These figures are indicative of the ever increasing demand for English education. The position of the middle vernacular schools in the existing scheme of education is dealt with in paragraph 28 of this report.

Expenditure.

25. The total expenditure on the maintenance of secondary schools during the year 1912-13 was Rs. 47,72,918 or Rs. 4,65,430 in excess of the expenditure incurred under this head in 1911-12. A noteworthy feature in this respect is that while the total expenditure has increased considerably there has been a reduction in the expenditure from Provincial revenues by Rs. 24,003. This is due in some measure to increased fee-receipts in Government schools and partly to the suspension or withdrawal of grants from inefficient and badly managed schools. The expenditure from District Board funds likewise declined from Rs. 1,88,218 in 1911-12 to Rs. 1,68,516 in 1912-13. The increase in the total expenditure referred to above is therefore due entirely to an increase in fee-receipts and income from other sources.

General Character of Secondary Schools.

26. Secondary schools are of two classes—English and Vernacular. The first is subdivided into high English and middle English schools; the second comprises only middle vernacular schools. In the western divisions of Bengal high and middle English schools have a common curriculum up to the middle stage, which only differs from the middle vernacular school curriculum in that in the latter English is not taught. In the Dacca, Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions, while the high and middle English schools have the same course of studies up to the middle stage, the curriculum is quite distinct from that of middle vernacular schools. Thus in Eastern Bengal the high English school course extends over 10 years, the first 6 of which are covered by the middle English school course, and the middle vernacular schools follow an entirely different course extending over 7 years, the first 5 of which are covered by the course followed in primary schools. English is not allowed to be taught even as an optional subject in a vernacular school.

High Schools.

27. The general condition of high schools is far from satisfactory. Most of the schools are handicapped by want of funds, notwithstanding the additional grants which it has been possible to allot from the funds placed at the disposal of the Department for the improvement of aided secondary English schools. The conditions under which Government schools work are more conducive to efficiency, but even in regard to these institutions there is room for a great deal of improvement.

The teaching of drawing, geography and hygiene receives a certain amount of attention in Government institutions, but there is ground for believing that these subjects are neglected in most private schools owing to the fact that they are not included among the compulsory subjects for the Matriculation examination, and also that the schools are not in a position to employ qualified teachers or to provide the necessary apparatus.

The teaching of English is generally very unsatisfactory.

Middle Schools.

28. The growing popularity of middle English schools and the gradual extinction of the middle vernacular schools are but evidences of the popular desire for what is known as English education, and a strong feeling is rapidly growing up that there is no longer a place in the educational system for the purely vernacular middle school. The exclusion of English, even as an optional subject, from the curriculum of middle vernacular schools is responsible for this attitude, and parents and guardians have come to look upon the years spent by their sons and wards in vernacular classes beyond the primary stage as so many years wasted. This view gains support in the public mind in consideration of the fact that a middle English school serves the same purpose as a middle vernacular school so far as vernacular education is concerned, besides affording opportunities for the study of English. School managers are rapidly adapting themselves to the popular view and middle vernacular schools are fast transforming themselves into middle English schools. The few that are still being returned as middle vernacular schools are reported to be weak and inefficient. The whole matter of the future of these schools requires careful consideration.

Circle Schools.

29. Intimately connected with the question of the future of purely vernacular middle schools is the question of the continuance or otherwise of the circle school system which was described in paragraph 81 of the report for the year 1909-10. The system is generally believed to have outlived the purpose for which it was instituted, and a proposal is now before the Department for the conversion of the central schools into middle schools on an aided basis and the reduction of the ancillary schools to the status of ordinary primary schools on the same basis.

Improvement of Middle English Schools.

30. Middle English schools form an important link in the scheme of secondary education and the question of their improvement is an item which must necessarily be in the forefront of any scheme for the improvement of secondary education. An appropriate portion of the allotment from Imperial revenues for the improvement of secondary education will be devoted to the improvement of this class of schools.

Examinations.

31. There is a general demand for the restoration of the departmental examinations at the end of the middle stage. It has been urged that its abolition has not been attended, so far at any rate, with the results which this step was intended to secure but that it has generally brought about a lowering of standards, the primary certificate being no longer a fixed measure of attainment. A more important consideration is the alleged influence which this deterioration exercises on the training of vernacular masters, for it is to middle vernacular schools that we have to look for recruits for the first grade vernacular training schools. It is a matter of frequent observation that the attainments of the vernacular teachers now turned out by the normal schools are of an inferior order because the candidates who join these institutions are badly equipped for study in these schools. Complaints have also been brought against the prevailing system of examinations for the award of scholarships on the ground that the preliminary selection of candidates is determined according to different standards of examination and that the examinations are frequently perfunctory and the judgments hasty. The whole question of the middle school examinations is one which must sooner or later be thoroughly reconsidered. The results of these examinations conducted in the course of the last two years call for no comment.

There has been a rise in the proportion of successful candidates at the Matriculation examination held in March 1913. Out of a total number of 6,802 candidates who appeared at this examination, 4,977 or 73·1 per cent. were successful. In 1912, 4,131 candidates passed out of 6,393 or 64·6 per cent. The Government schools as usual show the best results, having passed 81·3 and 79·5 per cent., respectively, in the last two years; the aided schools stand next in order of merit with 73·05 per cent. in 1913 and 63·5 per cent. in 1912; the unaided schools have 70·8 and 60·3 per cent., respectively.

From Bengal schools 37 candidates passed the "B" class final examination out of 56 sent up, the average of the three previous years being 48·7 passed out of 94·3 sent up.

"C" classes were finally abolished at the end of this year, the "C" class final examination being held for the last time in 1913.

The question of a school final or school-leaving certificate examination is in abeyance. Any such scheme must be preceded by a considerable strengthening of the superior inspecting agency.

Improvement of Secondary Education.

32. The general scheme for the improvement of secondary education is still in suspense pending the allotment of the requisite funds to give effect to it. During the year the Government of India communicated sanction to a recurring assignment of Rs. 1,50,000 for the improvement of aided high and middle English schools. The object of the grant was specifically to improve the condition of secondary aided English schools subject to the condition that the grant was expended on the improvement and not on the multiplication of privately-managed secondary English schools, and largely on the raising of the salaries of the teachers of those institutions. Pending the formulation of a definite scheme it was decided that during the first year the grant should be devoted to non-recurring expenditure. The amount was accordingly spent on the improvement of school buildings, libraries and general equipment. The question of the utilization of the grant in future years was under consideration at the close of the year.

CHAPTER V.

Primary Education for Indian Boys.

Primary Schools for Boys.

Schools; causes of their decrease.

33. The number of primary schools for boys decreased from 28,602 in 1911-12 to 28,089 during the year under review, i.e., by 513. Of the 28,089 schools, 3,378 were returned as upper primary and 24,711 as lower primary On comparison of these figures with the corresponding figures of the previous year, it appears that there was a loss of 148 upper primary and 365 lower primary schools in the year. The loss of upper primary schools took place in Eastern Bengal and was attributed to the following causes :—

(1) reduction in status, and

(2) unpopularity of a purely vernacular education.

The loss of lower primary schools was reported from the western divisions and was said to have been due to one or other of the following causes :—

(1) the disappearance, for want of help from public funds, of a number of unaided schools that had previously struggled for existence ;

(2) the conversion of a number of lower primary schools into maktabs in some of the districts ;

(3) the increasing prices of food-stuffs, which have forced a number of teachers to leave their schools in search of other work ;

(4) the insistence upon improved methods of teaching without any corresponding pecuniary advantage to the gurus.

Pupils ; causes of their decrease.

34. The total number of pupils attending primary schools for boys on the 31st March 1913 was returned at 1,045,400, of which 994,316 were boys and 51,084 girls. A comparison of these figures with those of the previous year shows that during the year under review there was a falling off of 17,292 boys and 2,974 girls in the number of the Hindus, and of 5,421 boys and 1,588 girls in that of the Muhammadans. The decline in the number of Muhammadan pupils was counterbalanced by a corresponding rise in the number of those attending maktabs, and the explanation for the decrease in the number of Hindus was to be found in the loss of schools noted above. Of the total population of a school-going age 28·4 per cent. of boys and 6·1 per cent. of girls received primary education against 29·1 and 6·2 per cent., respectively, of the preceding year.

Expenditure.

35. The total direct expenditure on primary schools for Indian boys during the year was returned at Rs. 27,97,957, of which Rs. 1,29,100 or 4·6 per cent. was contributed from Provincial revenues, Rs. 6,43,550 or 23·1 per cent. from district funds, and Rs. 52,486 or 1·8 per cent from Municipal funds. The remainder Rs. 19,72,821 or 70·5 per cent. was derived from private sources. In 1911-12 the total expenditure amounted to Rs. 26,85,154, of which Rs. 1,32,760 or 4·9 per cent. was met from Provincial revenues. Rs. 5,89,039 or 21·9 per cent. from District funds, and Rs. 50,467 or 1·8 per cent. from Municipal funds, and Rs. 19,12,888 or 71·4 per cent. from fees and other sources.

Pupils in Primary stages of instruction.

36. The total number of pupils in the primary stages of instruction in primary and secondary schools for boys was at the close of the year 1,242,118, of which 1,045,394 were reading in primary schools and 196,724 in the primary classes of secondary schools. The figures for the preceding year were 1,253,808, 1,073,825 and 179,983, respectively. There has thus been a decrease of 11,690 pupils in the primary stages of instruction during the year due to the loss of primary schools noticed in paragraph 33.

Progress of Primary education among Hindus and Muhammadans.

37. Of the total number of pupils in primary schools for boys, 567,214 were Hindus and 459,037 were Muhammadans. It appears that during the year under report the number of Hindu pupils declined from 587,480 to 567,214, i.e., by 20,266 or 3·5 per cent. and that of the Muhammadans from 466,016 to 459,037, i.e., by 7,009 or 1·5 per cent. The decline is, as already remarked, due to the general fall in the numbers in primary schools. The Hindus have now 33·8 per cent. of their boys of school-going age in primary schools and the Muhammadans 24·1 per cent. The figures for the previous year were 34·8 and 24·4 per cent., respectively.

Teachers and their Remuneration.

38. Of the 33,895 teachers employed in primary schools for boys, 5,111 held no certificates whatever, 4,894 had passed the lower primary and 9,628 the upper primary standards. The rest possessed higher qualifications, while only 3,684 teachers had been trained in guru-training schools. The low qualifications of the gurus and the poor standard of teaching in primary schools have been the natural consequence of the want of restriction as to the class of men who were to be allowed to start primary schools, while the remuneration was too low to attract men of the right type. During the year under review there has been no appreciable change in the remuneration of primary school teachers from public funds. But provision has been made to increase the stipend of untrained teachers by Re. 1 and of the trained teachers by Rs. 3 a month with effect from the beginning of the current session. It is hoped that with the help of the Imperial grant available for primary education some advance may be made towards improvement in this direction.

Syllabus.

39. In the two western divisions of the Presidency the whole course under the revised syllabus from standard I to standard IV was in full operation in the year under report, but the results were not satisfactory, and cannot be so until the condition of the gurus is improved.

The new curriculum introduced in East Bengal from January 1912 is an improvement on the one it replaces, but any discussion of its merits and demerits would be premature at this stage.

Scholarships.

40. Inspectors of schools are unanimously of opinion that the existing number of such scholarships is not sufficient, and proposals for increasing the number of such scholarships are under consideration.

Model Rules for Administration of Primary Grants.

41. The revised model rules for the administration of primary grants were adopted with slight modifications by all district boards in West Bengal except that of Midnapore. It is being considered whether these rules are applicable to the Eastern Bengal divisions. Some modifications will be necessary to facilitate the co-ordination of the rules obtaining in both parts of the Presidency.

Buildings and Equipment.

42. The defective accommodation and poor equipment of primary schools have been a matter of frequent comment, but during the year under review it was possible to effect some improvement with the help of a part of the Durbar grant. Of the Imperial grant assigned for primary education, Rs. 2,30,000 was allotted to East Bengal for the following purposes :—

(a) construction of board primary school buildings ;
(b) supply of apparatus to primary schools ; and
(c) deputation of training school teachers.

The allotment for West Bengal, which amounted to Rs. 2,31,168, was made under the following heads :—

(a) equipment of guru-training schools ;
(b) reconstruction and repairs of guru-training school buildings ;
(c) reconstruction and repairs of primary schools erected with a previous Imperial grant ;
(d) furniture and equipment of primary schools ; and
(e) erection of a cheaper type of primary school buildings.

Out of these allotments provision was made for the construction of 589 board schools in East Bengal and for 100 upper primary and 300 lower primary school buildings of a cheaper type in the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions. In these two divisions 158 primary schools having buildings constructed with a previous Imperial grant were also converted into board schools. It is proposed to construct a large number of board schools this year, both in Western and Eastern Bengal, with the help of the current year's Imperial grant.

CHAPTER VI.

The Training of teachers for Indian Schools.

Introductory.

43. This chapter deals with institutions for the training of masters for Indian schools, those for mistresses being dealt with in Chapter VIII along with the general question of the education of Indian girls and women.

During the year under review there has been no change in the character and scope of the training of teachers described in the last Quinquennial Reports of Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam in so far as they relate to the two portions constituting the new Presidency of Bengal. The distribution of the training institutions in the two portions remains almost the same, but their number and attendance have declined from 133 and 2,453 to 132 and 2,389, respectively. In the Province there are now, for the training of the members of the subordinate inspecting staff and of secondary and primary teachers, 3 colleges, 6 normal schools, 118 guru-training schools and 5 special training classes.

Training Colleges.

44. The three training colleges in the Province are the David Hare Training College at Calcutta, which trains pupils up to the B. T. degree, the Dacca Training College, which prepares candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Teaching and for the diploma of Licentiate in Teaching and the L. M. S. Training College at Bhawanipur, which teaches up to the L. T. standard only. The first two are maintained by Government while the third is an aided institution.

David Hare Training College.

45. The college has now completed the fifth year of its existence. The staff has been strengthened by the appointment of Mr. West as professor of method, who after appointment, underwent a year's special training in England and joined the college in November 1912.

Twenty-five students were deputed to the college during the year under review. They were all recommended by the divisional inspectors of schools and were already in Government service. Six of them came from Bihar and Orissa. Of the 25 students, 1 was the headmaster of a high school, 9 were assistant masters, 1 a deputy inspector and the remaining 14 sub-inspectors of schools, twenty-four students sat for the B. T. examination and of these 22 were successful.

The total direct cost of the college was Rs. 32,332, the whole of which was met from Provincial revenues. The average cost of training each pupil was Rs. 1,347-2-8 against Rs. 1,409-4-9 in the preceding year.

The defects pointed out in the last Quinquennial Report as to want of sufficient class room accommodation, playground and laboratories continue.

Dacca Training College.

46. This college has been in existence since 1910-11. The staff consists of 9 members, of whom the Principal and the Vice-Principal are Europeans. Unlike the David Hare Training College it receives for training not only existing teachers and members of the inspecting staff but also candidates for teaching employment either in Government or in other recognized secondary schools.

It was originally intended that the college should accommodate 100 students of whom it was proposed that as many as 59 should be private candidates. As, however, this number proved too great for the existing accommodation and as the number of private candidates applying for admission was disappointingly small, the number was reduced to 55 during the year under report—24 being allotted to B. T. students and 31 to L. T. students. Of these, 7 in the B. T. and 11 in the L. T. classes are reserved for candidates from Assam.

During the year under review there were 47 students under training, 23 in the B. T. class and 24 in the L. T. class. Of the 23 students in the B. T. class, 12 were Government school teachers, 5 were inspecting officers and 6 private candidates, and of the 24 students in the L. T. class, 12 were Government school teachers, 7 inspecting officers and 5 private candidates. At the B. T. examination 23 students appeared and 22 passed, and at the L. T. examination, 8 candidates of the 2nd-year class appeared and 7 passed. Besides the regular students, one of the lecturers of the college obtained the B. T. degree this year, being placed in the first division.

The total cost of the college was returned at Rs. 56,982 against Rs. 44,523 of the previous year, showing an increase of Rs. 12,459 in the year. The increase was due to a non-recurring expenditure of Rs. 2,899, increase in the number of students of higher pay over that of the preceding year, and increase in the amount of allowances paid to the teachers and the inspecting officers.

The deputation allowance which Government officers under training enjoyed was limited to ¾ of their salary. But as these officers complained of the hardship consequent upon this limitation, Government sanctioned the grant to them of an allowance equivalent to their full salary from the commencement of the session 1912-13. The allowance paid by Government to the aided or board school teachers was also raised from one-quarter of their pay to three-quarters for those whose pay did not exceed Rs. 50 a month.

A noticeable feature of the year was that a nature study class was attached to the college for the training of vernacular teachers for the improved type of guru-training schools in Eastern Bengal. Dr. N. M. Gupta, Ph. D. (Vienna), who was specially appointed superintendent of nature study in the college, took charge of the class. It was opened on 10th July 1912 and it provides for both a theoretical and a practical course of instruction. The number of vernacular teachers received was 19, and all of them successfully passed through the course which is of one year's duration. Although the class was attached to the training college it was under the control of the local normal school. This dual system has proved somewhat unsatisfactory, and it has been proposed that the class should be independent of the normal school.

London Missionary Society College, Bhawanipur.

47. The aided college at Bhawanipur under the London Missionary Society had six pupils on its rolls on 31st of March 1913. Government contributed to this institution Rs. 1,620, by way of stipends to the students-in-training. A special feature of this class is the attention given to the teaching of geography, for which purpose the college is well equipped. It is anxious to do more in this respect, and with further encouragement from the Department, may do much for the teaching of geography all over the Presidency.

Training Schools for Vernacular Masters.

48. The six normal schools for vernacular masters are the first grade training schools at Calcutta, Hooghly and Krishnagar in West Bengal and the normal schools at Dacca, Chittagong and Rangpur in Eastern Bengal. Five of these are maintained by Government and one (the school at Krishnagar under the management of the Church Missionary Society) is aided. On the 31st March 1913, there were altogether 443 pupils as compared with 457 on the same date of the year before. The total expenditure on these schools was Rs. 80,736, of which Rs. 75,516 was debited to Provincial revenues.

In consequence of the adoption of the recommendations of the special committee appointed in 1909 in connection with the revision of the training school curricula, the first grade training schools in West Bengal are much improved. During the year under review Government sanctioned the inclusion of music and hygiene in the curriculum of studies so that the full course drawn up by the committee is in operation in these schools. The normal schools in Eastern Bengal follow a different course and no co-ordination has yet been effected in the two systems. There is a consensus of opinion among the inspectors that the quality of the outturn of these normal schools has greatly deteriorated. The reasons assigned by one of the inspectors for this deterioration are (1) the shortness of the normal school course, which formerly used to extend over three years, (2) the inferior quality of the pupils turned out from our middle schools, and (3) the weakness of the majority of the teaching staff of the normal schools in the special knowledge of the art of teaching. To remedy these defects it has been suggested (1) that the normal school course should be of three years' duration, (2) that public examinations for middle schools should be revived to improve the quality of work in them, and (3) that none but picked teachers of experience, specialists, if possible, should be on the normal school staff. The other inspectors share this view.

The results of the examinations at all the training schools except that at Rangpur from which only 7 out of 29 candidates passed were on the whole satisfactory. The number of students who passed out of these schools with final certificate during the year was 149.

Since January 1912 the rate of stipends has been raised to Rs. 7 and Rs. 6 in the Calcutta and Hooghly Training Schools, respectively. In Eastern Bengal the rate is Rs. 6.

Of the five Government training schools for vernacular masters, the Calcutta school has no house of its own, and is held in a rented house which is altogether unsuitable. The Dacca school also is insufficiently accommodated and, owing to this, as well as the absence of a middle English practising school, work is carried on here with considerable difficulty. The want of a suitable house for the Rangpur school has long been felt, and a scheme for providing better buildings is now in the course of preparation.

Guru-training Schools.

49. The total number of guru-training schools was 118, of which 78 were located in the two divisions of Western Bengal and the rest in the Eastern Bengal districts. Classified according to management, 116 of them were under Government while 2 only were under missionary societies. Of the 116 Government schools, 6 were intended for the training of mianjis, 3 in the Presidency, 2 in the Burdwan and 1 in the Chittagong Division. On the 31st March 1913 there were 1,797 pupils who were receiving instruction in these institutions. The total direct expenditure for the year 1912-13 on account of all these schools was Rs. 1,74,172, of which Rs. 1,58,366 was paid from Provincial revenues.

Out of the allotment of Rs. 9,25,000 made by the Government of India during the year for truly popular education a sum of Rs. 1,00,000 was set apart for guru-training school buildings in Eastern Bengal and the construction of certain schools was taken up. Very little, however, was done during the year under review. For the general equipment of the guru-training schools in West Bengal, a grant of Rs. 3,900 was also made. This money was spent in the supply of furniture, reference books and other teaching appliances.

CHAPTER VII.

Professional and Technical Education.

Law Colleges and Classes.

50. The institutions for the study of law consists of the University Law College, Calcutta, the law departments of the Dacca and the Ripon Colleges, and the pleadership classes attached to the Hooghly, Krishnagar, Rajshahi, Chittagong, Midnapore, Metropolitan and Berhampore Colleges. The total number of law students attending these colleges on the 31st of March 1913, was 1,712 against 1,157 on the corresponding date of the year before. The total direct expenditure on these institutions amounted during the year to Rs. 1,66,935, of which Rs. 39,593 was paid from Provincial revenues. At the B. L. Final examination 472 candidates appeared, of whom 251 passed.

Pleader's Survey Examination.

51. Classes for training pleaders in surveying were held at Sibpur (with 15 students), at Dacca (with 8) and at Bankipore (with 7). At the second examination under the new rules, in February 1913, 9 passed out of 41.

Civil Engineering College, Sibpur.

52. The college suffered the loss by death in February 1913 of two professors, Mr. W. Tate and Dr. H. deS. Pittard, the former from paratyphoid fever and the latter from typhoid, apparently contracted at Sibpur. The general health of the college appears to have remained about the same for the last three years, the average daily number of patients treated being 20·7 in 1910-11, and 18·1 and 19·2 in the succeeding two years. In the Engineer Department the number of students attending was 97, an increase of 2 on the previous year. In the Apprentice Department the number of students was 184, viz., 157 in the civil engineering branch, 17 in the mechanical and electrical engineering branch, and 10 in the mining branch. The numbers in the previous year were 181, 156, 14 and 11. The new course in the mechanical and electrical branch of the overseer course was opened in April 1912, with 8 students, of whom 4 were Europeans. There are now separated professors for mechanical engineering and electrical engineering, instead of one professor for the two subjects. The duties undertaken by the former professor of physics have been divided, electricity being allotted to the electrical engineering department, the remaining physical subjects to the chemical department, and geology and mineralogy to the mining department. The special mining scholarships for men who are employed in mines were discontinued by order of Government at the beginning of the year, as the results were not considered commensurate with the expenditure involved. In the industrial chemistry class there were 7 students 3 in the 1st year and 4 in the 2nd-year class. The elaborate equipment of the practical dye-house is approaching completion. Every encouragement is given to all students to take part in games and athletics. The industrial class for training young artisans is doing useful work. The average attendance was 30, of whom the majority were engaged in the fitting and machine shop. The gross expenditure on the college during the year was Rs. 2·99 lakhs, of which 2·66 lakhs was met by Government, and the balance from fees and other receipts. For the previous year the figures were 2·83 and 1·93. In 1912-13, the expenditure included nearly half a lakh from Imperial revenues, spent mainly on equipment. The first local audit of the college accounts was carried out by the Accountant-General's staff in May and June 1912, and the report thereon was received in November 1912.

Dacca School of Engineering.

53. The average monthly number of students was 276, as compared with 299 in the previous year, of whom about 90 were in the two-year survey classes. The survey classes will now be transferred from the Education Department to the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys, who is starting a survey school near Comilla. In the 1st-year sub-overseer class the admissions fell to 20. During the year houses had to be hired for the accommodation of student boarders, but a second story is being added to the hostel building. Laboratories are being prepared for teaching the new overseer course in mechanical and electrical engineering. The gross expenditure during the year amounted to Rs. 81,956, of which Rs. 71,161 was met by Government, the figures for the previous year being Rs. 64,190 and Rs. 52,618. The increase is due to (1) improvement in workshop equipment, for which a sum of Rs. 10,376 was sanctioned from the Imperial grant (2) expenditure on apparatus for the mechanical laboratory (Rs. 4,000), (3), a new teacher for mechanical and electrical work, and (4) rent of houses temporarily required as hostels. The games and sports include football, cricket, tennis, badminton and swimming.

Joint Technical Examination Board.

54. In the Overseer examination of 1913, 78 candidates passed out of 105, or 74·3 per cent., and in the Sub-Overseer examination 133 passed out of 237, or 56·1 per cent., as compared with the percentages of 62·3 and 56·9, respectively, in 1912. The amount received as candidates' fees, viz., Rs. 8,920, more than covered the cost of the examinations. The number of students reading for these examinations is diminishing generally.

It may be explained that the figures shown here include the statistics of the candidates from Bihar and Orissa.

Technical and Industrial Schools.

55. The number of applicants for admission to the sub-overseer classes has seriously fallen off at most schools, the alleged cause of this falling off being the superior attractions of the University courses. The provincialization of Rangpur Technical School was carried out and that of Chittagong was sanctioned. But it is intended to consider carefully the future of such schools, both in West and East Bengal, before anything further is done.

Mining Classes.

56. As a result of the reconstitution of Bengal, the two mining lecture centres at Sijua and Jherria were transferred to Bihar, though their supervision remains in the hands of the Mining Educational Advisory Board. Courses of lectures were givin at Charanpur and Deshergarh, and a third Bengal centre was opened at Raniganj from January 1913. Out of 74 students eligible for the sessional examination from four centres, only 25 actually appeared, of whom 16 passed. A sum of Rs. 2,000 was allotted from the Imperial grant for the purchase of apparatus for the lectures.

Serampore Weaving Institute.

57. At the reopening in November 1912, there were 31 students in the higher class and 31 in the artisan class. In January 1913 there were 100 applicants for admission to the higher class: of these 20 Bengalis, 1 Madrassi, 2 Muhammadans and 2 Christians were selected, but many of the Bengalis withdrew and finally, after fresh admissions and withdrawals, 17 students remained in the class. The attendance in the artisan class averages 40 to 50. Nearly all the ex-students of the higher class have secured employment or opened small factories Few of them have remained in Bengal, where prospects appear to be worse than elsewhere in India, and some have gone to places as remote as Nepal, Assam, Burma and Ceylon. Employers give very satisfactory reports. Of 44 students entered for the City and Guilds of London examinations in textile subjects, 24 passed, of whom 8 passed in 1st division. The demand for artisan students is growing, but many of them give up employment in factories and return to their villages. They command about Rs. 15 per mensem. Games are encouraged.

City and Guilds of London Technological Examinations.

58. The examinations in April and May 1912 were held locally at two centres—Serampore for textile subjects (44 candidates), and Calcutta for the others (25 candidates). Many enquiries are received about these examinations, and their popularity is increasing.

Manual Training.

59. The officiating Superintendent of Industries, after inspecting the manual training classes at a number of European schools, convened a small committee to discuss the question. This committee recommended that, to improve the supply of teachers, a training class for teachers should be held at Kurseong for about a month in the hot weather.

Commercial Institute, Calcutta.

60. A circular has been issued by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce recommending that passed students of this institute be given the preference by commercial firms making clerical appointments. The hours of the day classes, which were previously 11 A.M. to 2-45 P.M., have now been extended to 4 P.M The number of day students was 21 in the 1st-year and 14 in the 2nd-year; and the evening students totalled 56, the great majority of whom took shorthand, typewriting, or book-keeping. The expenditure in the year was Rs. 24,560 and the income Rs. 4,456. A close interest in the institute is now taken by the Advisory Board.

School of Art, Calcutta.

61. The total number of students on 31st March 1913 was 273, against 280 in the previous year, of whom 13 were Muhammadans. The lithography wood-engraving, modelling and draftsman classes had 9, 8, 12 and 33 students, respectively. In the Fine Art Department many paintings in the Indian style were executed, some of which were publicly exhibited. Three advanced students were under training as teachers. Employment was obtained by 28 students on pay ranging from Rs. 20 to Rs. 70 a month.

Proposed Technological Institute in Calcutta.

62. A representative committee appointed by Government sat during the early part of 1912 to consider certain questions connected with technical education. Their main recommendations were to the effect that the engineering college should be removed from Sibpur, that a technological institute should be established in Calcutta, and that a residential and well-equipped civil engineering college should be created independently of this institute. That portion of their report dealing with the question of a technological institute for Calcutta was further discussed and elaborated by Messrs Nathan, Küchler and Everett, in consultation with employers and others, and the resulting report was completed in March 1913. They recommended that the institute should comprise departments for engineering, textiles, chemistry, printing, commerce and women's subjects, and they proposed that it should be housed in the Imperial Secretariat Building.

CHAPTER VIII.

The Education of Indian Girls and Women.

Generl Statistics.

63. The number of public institutions of all classes for girls increased from 6,957 to 7,263 and the number of girls including those reading in mixed schools from 222,576 to 222,749. The increase in the number of schools occurred chiefly under the heads of primary schools and special schools which rose from 6,572 to 6.779 and from 315 to 427, respectively. A pleasing feature of the year's progress is that the number of Muhammadan girls attending schools increased by 1,423.

Controlling Agency.

64. On the constitution of the Presidency of Bengal it was decided to assign to one Inspectress, with headquarters at Dacca, all the Indian schools for girls in the Dacca, Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions and to allot to the other Inspectress, who is to continue to have her headquarters at Calcutta the charge of the Indian schools for girls in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions as well as such work in connexion with European schools for girls throughout the Presidency, as is under present conditions entrusted to an inspectress. The post of Inspectress of Schools of the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions was held by Miss E. H. Crawford for the whole year during the absence of Miss Brock, on leave. There are two Assistant Inspectresses for the Western Divisions—one for the Presidency and one for the Burdwan Division. The number of schools which the Assistant Inspectresses have to supervise is far too large for so limited a staff, and proposals were accordingly submitted by the Inspectress for strengthening her staff by the appointment of two additional Assistant Inspectresses.

Miss Garrett, the Inspectress of Schools of the Dacca, Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions, was on leave during the whole of the year under review. The work was carried on during her absence by Miss Chamier. An additional post of Assistant Inspectress was sanctioned in April 1912 for the Rajshahi Division. In the Eastern Bengal Divisions also the need of further additions to the female inspecting staff has been pointed out, and the whole question of strengthening the female inspecting agency is now under the consideration of Government.

Collegiate Education.

65. The Bethune College is affiliated up to the degree course in English, Sanskrit, History, Vernacular and Philosophy. The college and the collegiate school occupy the same building, and the inadequacy of the present building both in the matter of class-room and hostel accommodation, which has been commented on in previous reports, still remains. The whole question of the reorganisation and improvement of this college is now engaging the attention of the Education Department.

The Diocesan College at Ballyganj is affiliated for the B.A. degree in English, History, Political Philosophy and Economics, Mathematics, Vernacular and Botany. It is rendering excellent service tothe higher education of Indian women, as is the less ambitious class at Loreto House, which, though not technically affiliated, is permitted by the University to send its students in for the Intermediate Arts examination as private students. The institution has applied for regular affiliation up to the Intermediate Arts standard.

Secondary Education.

66. Of the 14 high schools referred to in paragraph 578 of the last Quinquennial Review of Education in Bengal, 3 have gone over to the new Province of Bihar and Orissa. Three Government high schools for girls have, however, come over with the divisions of Dacca, Rajshahi and Chittagong. The Inspectresses report that these schools are doing creditable work, but little can be accomplished in the direction of real progress until trained women teachers are available for secondary schools. This want can only be met by the provision of adequate arrangements for the training of women teachers for secondary schools. A new building has been provided for the Mymensingh High School. The girls' high schools under mission management have generally maintained a high level of work. They have the advantage of the superintendence of European graduates, and are staffed for the most part by trained teachers.

There are several excellent boarding middle schools under mission management. These are nearly all for the benefit of the poorer classes, and in one or two institutions the girls are trained to do their own cooking and household work. In Calcutta the attendance at middle vernacular schools is extremely good, and the Inspectress thinks that certain of the schools might profitably be converted into middle English schools. School buildings in most cases are defective and ill-suited to school purposes. This defect, coupled with the lack of trained teachers, is the chief obstacle in the way of progress.

There are three middle English schools under Brahmo management—two in the Burdwan and one in the Presidency Division. Of these, that at Contai (Burdwan) is flourishing, and it is proposed to raise it to the high school status.

Primary Education.

Model Primary School.

67. There are 47 model primary girls' schools in the Presidency, 22 in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions and 25 in the Dacca, Rajshahi and Chittagong Divisions. Miss Crawford reports that these schools received special attention, and that many of them are doing good work, but that they badly need trained female teachers, as pandits are generally unsuitable for the work. The school buildings are generally unsatisfactory. This is due chiefly to the fact that under the original scheme the local people were required to provide school buildings and to keep them in repair. This obligation has never been satisfactorily fulfilled. The only course seems to be to provide these schools with good buildings at Government expense. Something must clearly be done, for without satisfactory buildings and quarters for female teachers it is impossible to make these schools really effective.

Peasant Girls' School.

68. These schools are intended to reach the peasantry, who have not before been reached by any educational agency and who are generally backward and indigent and averse from female education. The scheme is at present confined to the Presidency Division. The schools, 22 in number, are more elementary in character and less expensive than model primary girls' schools. They do not go beyond the lower primary stage, and the total cost is Rs. 13 a month each.

District Board and Municipal Schools.

69. There is little of note to record with regard to District Board and Municipal schools. Much remains to be done in the matter of improving school-houses. There are signs, however, that the people are becoming more alive to the need of female education, and there is an increasing readiness on the part of the public to repair, extend and erect school-houses. These schools also labour under another and perhaps greater disadvantage, in that they are unable to maintain whole-time teachers. At present their teachers are employed for the greater part of the day in boys' schools and give merely their spare time to the girls' schools. The remedy is to provide for grants on such a scale as will enable the schools to employ qualified whole-time teachers.

Zanana Education.

70. Zanana-teaching is carried on departmentally by the system of central gatherings and of house-to-house visitation. In West Bengal the former is not popular, and two centres were closed during the year 1912-13. On the other hand, the house-to-house visitation system has been successful. Besides missionaries, who work on these lines, there are 18 peripatetic zanana teachers in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions. In the three divisions of Dacca, Chittagong and Rajshahi the central gathering system seems to have met with success. There are 10 such centres, 2 having been started in 1912-13. There are zanana agencies at Hooghly and Midnapore under mission superintendence, the former receiving aid from Government.

There is considerable room for expansion in this important branch of female education, and the question of extending the work will be considered in connexion with the scheme for the utilisation of the Imperial grants for female education.

Muhammadan Education.

71. There seems to be a marked desire for increased facilities for female education in the Muhammadan community. An interesting school has recently been started in Calcutta by a Muhammadan lady. It has a large number of pupils and it gives every promise of success, but a great difficulty is that it is at present impossible to find well-qualified Muhammadan female teachers in Bengal. The Sakhawat Memorial School at Calcutta, which has moved into a more extensive building, also promises well.

In the mufassal there are indications of an awakening to the need of opening schools. With the funds recently allotted by the Government of India there will be no difficulty in giving effect to a scheme which has for some time been before the Department of establishing special primary schools for Muhammadans on the lines of the model primary school scheme.

In West Bengal zanana-teaching for Muhammadans is steadily improving, and the centres at Margram and Murshidabad are making great progress. There is room for increased zanana work in Calcutta—a need which it will be possible to meet with the additional funds at the disposal of the Department.

Training of Teachers.

72. The training of teachers for girls' schools in Bengal is carried on mainly by missionary agencies. There are in all two Government and five mission training schools which prepare candidates for the junior and senior Teachership Certificate examinations. The mission training classes train teachers mainly for their own service though a few of their pupils enter Government service or accept posts in non-mission schools.

The Government training class for Hindu widows at Calcutta, which has moved into a larger house, is making good progress. There are at present 11 students on the rolls. There are also training classes attached to the Eden Female School at Dacca. Of the 10 candidates, who passed the teachership examination from this institution, 2 were Muhammadans, the first of their community. The total number of women who passed the teachership examinations in Bengal during 1912-13 was 65.

In addition to the above classes there are two "Widows' Homes" at Orakandi and Dacca, the former for Namasudra widows and the latter for widows of better castes. Good progress is reported to have been made in both localities. These homes are of great importance, furnishing as they do educational facilities and therein a means of livelihood for a section of the community which has great claims to the sympathy and care of Government. The Inspectress reports that widows are more reliable as teachers than other women with whom the responsibilities of married life make professional work a second consideration.

Scholarships.

73. The number of scholarships at present available for the girls in the Presidency are :—

	West Bengal.	East Bengal	Total
Senior	2	6	8
Junior	3	6	9
Middle English	...	4	4
„ Vernacular	...	5	5
Primary	8	75	83
Total ...	13	96	109

During the year under review the provision for girls' scholarships decreased by Rs. 2,081.

It is proposed to provide for a substantial increase under this head out of the Imperial grant for female education.

The girls' primary and middle scholarships are open to competition only to pupils reading in girls' schools. They are in addition to the open scholarships provided under the East Bengal Government Notification No. 2712 E. of the 5th November 1908, for which girls reading in girls' schools will not be permitted to compete, but for which girls reading in boys' schools or mixed schools will still be eligible. It is proposed that a limited number of the open lower primary scholarships should be specially reserved by Boards for girls reading in boys' lower primary schools.

Chief features of the year.

74. The most important feature in the history of female education for the year 1912-13 was the constitution of a Female Education Committee for the whole of the Province to advise Government in matters relating to female education. A committee for the advancement of female education had already existed in Eastern Bengal and Assam, and its labours had been attended with great success. The first session of the Committee took place on the 18th and 19th March 1913, and the results of its deliberations form a document which deals with the subject of the education of Indian girls and women in all its phases. The important question of the training of teachers received special consideration, and it was decided to recommend that a general training college and school for female teachers should be established at Calcutta. The school would be mainly a day-school with some boarding accommodation and would comprise two departments—an English Department training for the B. T. and L. T. examinations and a Vernacular Department for teachers of vernacular schools. This Committee recommended the appointment of a sub-committee to work out details of the scheme.

Another matter of equal importance was the allotment of special funds from Imperial revenues for female education. At the Coronation Durbar it was announced that the Government would devote at once 50 lakhs to the promotion of truly popular education. Of this sum the amount allotted to Bengal for 1912-13 for the education of girls was Rs. 1,07,000. The Government of India considered that the bulk of the allotment under this head should most fitly be expended upon elementary education and training, but that it was not intended to fetter Local Governments in this matter. The grant is a recurring one, but in view of the impracticability of formulating a scheme of recurring expenditure at a short notice it was decided to expend the grant during the first year on capital objects and the grant was distributed as follows :—

	Rs.
For the provision of class-room accommodation for the Bethune College	60,000
For the improvement of the Vidyamoyee (Alexander) Girls' School at Mymensingh ...	20,000
For completion of some "Urban Schools" in East Bengal	15.000
For the purchase of sites for primary schools in the Dacca and Mymensingh municipalities ...	12,000
Total ...	1,07.000

For various causes the bulk of this allotment remained unexpended during the year under review.

A scheme for the distribution of the grant in future years was submitted to Government towards the close of the year under review. This scheme has however had to be revised in view of an additional grant of Rs. 1,07,000 made in 1913-14, and the whole question will be dealt with in a subsequent report.

CHAPTER IX.

The Education of Europeans.

Institutions.

75. The number of European schools in Bengal is 76, including 16 institutions for special instruction. With the re-union of the two sections of Bengal and the creation of the new Province of Bihar and Orissa, 17 schools, formerly under the jurisdiction of the Inspector of European Schools, Bengal, were handed over to the Education Department of the latter Province, while 5 schools came over with the eastern districts. Of the European schools in this Province, 11 are graded as higher secondary, 10 permanently and 1, the Calcutta Girls' School, temporarily for two years ; 11 are graded as secondary, 9 permanently, and 2 provisionally ; 13 are recognised as higher elementary, all provisionally, and 20 are recognised as elementary. Of elementary schools, 14 are incomplete elementary schools. The remaining schools are special schools, i.e., commercial, technical or training institutions.

The five Eastern Bengal schools have not yet been graded. One is working as a secondary school, one as a higher elementary school and the rest as elementary schools.

During the year under report one school was removed from the list of recognised schools and two were admitted. The Young Men's Christian Association commercial classes were temporarily closed after working for the first five months of the year.

Pupils.

76. The number of pupils in the 60 secondary and elementary schools on the 31st of March 1913 was 8,097 as compared with 8,082 on the 31st of March 1912. Of these 8,097 pupils, 7,484 were Europeans and Anglo-Indians. On the 31st of March 1912 the number of Europeans and Anglo-Indians under instruction in European schools was 7,527.

The 16 special schools had 990 students on their rolls on the 31st March 1913. On the 31st March 1912 there were 401 pupils receiving special instruction. Of the 990 students, 876 were Europeans and Anglo-Indians.

The total number of pupils in the European schools on March 31st, 1913, was therefore 9,087, of whom 8,360 were Europeans and Anglo-Indians. The number of non-Europeans was 727. Of these 727 non-Europeans, 398 were males and 329 were females.

Of the total number of pupils under instruction in secondary and elementary schools, 3,933 or 49 per cent. approximately were in attendance at secondary schools ; 2,411 of these were boys and 1,522 girls.

Management.

77. Of the 60 secondary and elementary schools Government directly manages only two schools—the Victoria School, Kurseong, and the Dow Hill School, Kurseong. On the 31st of March 1913 there were 300 pupils attending these two schools as compared with 304 on the same date in 1912. The other 58 schools are under private management, of which the majority are controlled by the various denominations. One or two are undenominational, and 10 belong to railway companies.

Examinations.

78. With regard to the system of examination now in force, Mr. Maclear, Inspector of European Schools, suggests that it requires careful reconsideration. The Cambridge Local examinations are not by any means ideal examinations for secondary schools, and the Preliminary and the Junior are in many ways actively prejudicial to real education. The division of secondary schools in Bengal into higher secondary and secondary is meaningless, in so far as the secondary schools which teach up to the Junior Local cannot be regarded as giving even an approximation to a real secondary education. From what he has seen of the secondary schools of the Province, he is of the opinion that the Cambridge syllabus dominates the curriculum to an extent that is positively harmful. The Elementary School Certificate examination works harshly. The same papers are set for schools at varying stages of advancement, and only in three of the subjects of the curriculum has a definite standardized syllabus been prescribed by the Department. The position in a nutshell is that the principals of elementary schools know that they must teach certain definite subjects, but with regard to the majority of those subjects they are left in ignorance as to degree of proficiency expected of their pupils. It is regrettable that the original scheme for an in situ examination has not materialised. The supplementary class examination is equally unsatisfactory. A thorough ventilation of the question is essential.

Scholarships.

79. The total value of scholarships and stipends paid in 1912-13 amounts to Rs. 15,150. This amount includes the cost of some extra provincial scholarships which were paid in Bengal in accordance with the procedure sanctioned for the payment of scholarships transferred from one province to another.

There is one State scholarship of £200 per annum tenable in Europe for the male members of the domiciled European and Anglo-Indian community throughout India.

The State scholarship for women had not been sanctioned before the close of the year under review.

Grants-in-aid.

80. The Inspector does not advocate the renewal of the free scholar grant of Rs. 2 for each free day-scholar in average attendance in view of the allotment of the Imperial grants of Rs. 40,000 and Rs. 50,000 to the indemnification of schools for the giving of free tuition, nor for the same reason does he advocate the raising of the free boarding grant. Effect was given to some slight extent to the provisions of article 18 of the Code which provides for the education of the children of Europeans and Anglo-Indians dwelling in remote districts.

The various grants-in-aid given under the Code of Regulations for European Schools are described in paragraphs 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673 and 674 of the last Quinquennial Review.

Imperial Grants for European Education.

81. During the year under review the Government of India sanctioned the following recurring allotments for European education :—

(1) Rupees 50,000 as part of the grant of Rs. 9 lakhs sanctioned in Government of India's letter No. 380, dated 13th February 1912.—It was the desire of the Government of India that a portion of this grant should be devoted to increasing the number of free pupils or reducing fees in the elementary classes. Pending the working of a suitable scheme, the grant was devoted to capital expenditure during the first year of its in idence. The main difficulty in the way of the preparation of a suitable scheme of distribution was the inadequacy of the allotment to the estimated requirements of the Presidency. A supplementary grant from Imperial revenues having been foreshadowed, it was considered expedient to wait and work up proposals on the basis of a fuller allotment of funds.

(2) Rupees 40,000 for the education of the poorer classes of the domiciled community in the city of Calcutta.—As in the case of the general grant, the first year's allotment was expended on non-recurring objects, pending the consideration of proposals for the utilisation of the grant in future years.

In addition to this expenditure a further sum of Rs. 11,000 was devoted to capital expenditure on European schools out of the supplementary grant of

Rs. 25,000 sanctioned by the Government of India in their letter No. 2469, dated 19th November 1912.

Teachers.

82. There were 538 teachers for 8,097 pupils in the various elementary and secondary schools in the Bengal Presidency. That is, one teacher was employed on an average for every 15 pupils. This is satisfactory numerically [vide article 17 (b) of the European Schools Code]. But the quality of the personnel of these 538 teachers leaves much to be desired from the point of view of training, and of pedagogic and academic attainment.

Qualifications of Teachers Examined.

83. Of the teachers employed in European schools, 45 only or 8 per cent. were graduates, while the number of teachers who have received training was only 185 or less than 35 per cent. Against this paucity of trained teachers it should be borne in mind that many of the schools in this Presidency are managed by the Jesuits, the Loreto Nuns, the Irish Christian Brothers, the Daughters of the Cross and the members of other religious orders, about 80 per cent. of whom have passed examinations prescribed by their respective orders.

This Presidency has no special facilities for the training of European male teachers, nor did it send any male teacher to be trained at Sanawar during the year 1912-13.

Dow Hill Training Class.

84. The total cost of the training class attached to the Dow Hill School, Kurseong, was Rs. 14,891 for the year under review. Twenty students were trained free of charge, and the cost of training per head amounted to Rs. 745 approximately.

The annual examination of the training class was held in November 1912 by the Inspector of European Schools, Bengal, and the Inspectress of Schools, Presidency and Burdwan Divisions. Four senior and 15 junior students sat for the examination. All the senior and 14 of the junior candidates passed.

Manual Training.

85. Manual training (i.e., wood work) is conducted at nine schools in the Presidency. The immediate impediment to the general introduction of this subject is the difficulty of securing competent teachers. With a view to the removal of this impediment, a committee was formed under the presidency of the Officiating Superintendent of Industries to discuss the question and draw up a scheme for the formation of a class for training manual instruction teachers. A scheme was propounded and arrangements made for the holding of an instruction class at the Göethal's Memorial Orphanage, Kurseong. The class was to meet in Kurseong in May 1913 under the direction of Mr. A. C. Atkinson of La Martinière, Calcutta.

Agriculture.

86. There is an agricultural class at the St. Andrew's Colonial Homes, Kalimpong, for boys who intend to emigrate either to Canada or to New Zealand. There were four boys in this class in 1912-13, all of whom have since been sent to New Zealand. The work done is of a very admirable and practical kind.

Commerce.

87. There were two pupils in the continuation class at the Dow Hill School, Kurseong, during the year 1912-13. A revised and extended course was sanctioned in November 1912. At present the class is in abeyance, owing to lack of pupils and the resignation of the teacher-in-charge.

Commercial Classes in Calcutta.

88. The Young Men's Christian Association commercial classes at 125, Dharamtala Street, Calcutta, were closed after working for about five months, for which period they received a grant of Rs. 250 at Rs. 50 a month.

The commercial class of the Young Women's Christian Association at 134, Corporation Street, Calcutta, has been greatly developed. According to the managers' returns for 1912-13 there were 775 young women on the rolls of this department. Of these 775 persons, 255 were returned as studying type-writing, 181 shorthand, 18 nursing, 22 Hindustani, 18 dress-making, 23 hygiene and ethics, 174 physical culture, 9 cookery, and 75 other subjects.

Supplementary Classes in Higher Elementary Schools.

89. Ten schools maintained supplementary classes, teaching one or other of the courses or a course comprising subjects selected from two or more of the courses prescribed in appendix III of the Code.

The courses and the supplementary examination up to which they lead are not completely satisfactory. The question of the value of these classes requires consideration.

Sub-Overseer Classes.

90. On the 31st of March 1913 there were at the Victoria School four students—two in the 1st-year and two in the 2nd-year class. At the Sub-Overseer examination held in 1913 two were presented, of whom one was successful. In 1912-13 for the first time the survey work required of the class was done in the neighbourhood of the school. The upkeep of this class for 1912-13 was about Rs. 7,563, of which about Rs. 660 was realised from fees.

The Sub-Overseer class at Göethal's Memorial Orphanage had 8 students on its rolls on the 31st of March 1913. The cost of maintaining this class was Rs. 5,918, towards which Government contributed Rs. 1,100.

Apprentices' Night School, Kharagpur.

91. There were 50 students on the rolls of this school on the 31st March 1913. The average monthly number on the rolls during 1912-13 was 51 and the average daily attendance 44. It has four classes, A, B, C and D, and teaches machine-construction, drawing, steam, applied mechanics, geometry and practical mathematics (advanced and elementary). It employs a staff of four European teachers. The upkeep of the school for 1912-13 was Rs. 2,348, towards which Government contribution was Rs. 520.

Calcutta Technical School.

92. This school has no building of its own, and its sessions are held in the evening at St. Joseph's School, Bow Bazar Street, Calcutta. The number of students on the rolls on the 31st of March 1913 was 58, and the average monthly number and the average daily attendance for 1912-13 were 61 and 54, respectively. The upkeep of the school cost Rs. 5,111, the Government contribution towards which amounted to Rs. 2,000.

Domestic Training of Girls.

93. This subject is stated at some length in paragraphs 736 to 739 of the last Quinquennial Report.

At present full and complete instruction in this subject is confined to St. Helen's Convent. Kurseong. Domestic training is given in the St. Andrew's Colonial Homes, and a domestic science class is about to be formed. A proposal to teach this subject in the three senior classes at Dow Hill has been sanctioned by Government.

Volunteering.

94. During the year 1912-13 the expenditure upon the cadet corps of the European schools for boys amounted to Rs. 11,631. The efficient and extra-efficient cadets numbered, respectively, 181 and 1,218. There was great improvement in efficiency during the year 1912-13, as these figures show.

CHAPTER X.

The Education of Muhammadans.

Review of the progress made during the year.

95. The Muhammadan population of the Presidency as at present constituted is 23,989,719, or 52·7 per cent. of the total population, and the number of Muhammadan pupils in institutions of all kinds for the education of Indians is 731,490, or 42·8 per cent. of the total number of pupils under instruction in such institutions. In the Eastern Bengal divisions, where the Muhammadans preponderate, these percentages are, respectively, 66·3 and 58·6, the corresponding figures for the Western Bengal divisions being 31·9 and 23·7, respectively. Thus the Muhammadans do not as yet represent that proportion of the total number of pupils in educational institutions which by their numerical strength they should represent, but they have made some progress. The increase of the last few years in Muhammadan pupils is well maintained in colleges, secondary schools, girls' schools, and miscellaneous schools, but there has been a slight falling off in the number of Muhammadan pupils in primary schools for boys. The total decrease is 7,009, which amounts to about 1·5 per cent. of the total. The decrease is general, the corresponding figure for Hindu pupils being 20,266. The probable cause of the decrease is discussed in the chapter which deals with primary education. The number of Muhammadan students in training, medical, technical and industrial schools has also declined from 1,780 to 1,584. During the year under review the Muhammadans in colleges and schools of public instruction amounted to 690,728 as against 676,058 in the previous year, which represents an increase of 14,670, or 2·1 per cent. The corresponding figures for Hindu pupils show an increase in the figures for the year under review as compared with those of the previous year of 4,901 only. The position is therefore that as regards pupils in public schools the increase in the number of Muhammadan pupils has been comparatively large, the rate of increase being considerably greater than in the case of Hindu pupils. This of course is what one naturally expects seeing that the Muhammadans are making their appearance later in the educational field,

The figures for private institutions tell another storey. While the number of Hindus attending these schools has risen from 11,411 to 13,402, an increase of 1,991, that of the Muhammadans has fallen from 41,131 tc 40,762 i.e., a decrease of 369. This decrease is said to be due to the conversion of some of the Koran schools into recognised maktabs. On the 31st March 1913 the proportion of Muhammadan pupils to the total number of pupils in public institutions was 41·8 per cent. as against 56·4 per cent. for the Hindus. Muhammadan pupils provided 7·2 per cent. of the strength of colleges, 19·9 per cent. of the strength of high schools, 34·5 per cent. of the strength of middle schools, 43·3 per cent. of the strength of primary schools, while the Hindus contributed 90 5 per cent. to the total number of pupils in colleges, 78·9 per cent. to the total number of pupils in high schools, 63·9 per cent. to the total number of pupils in middle schools and 54·7 per cent. to the total number of pupils in primary schools. It thus appears that it is in primary schools only that the Muhammadans have made any real advance, and moreover that it is in these institutions alone that the proportion of Muhammadan pupils bears any real relation to the numerical position which they hold as a constituent factor of the general population. At no other stage of instruction do the figures of pupils attending schools approximate to the numerical strength of the community. Some advance has been made during the last few years, especially in Eastern Bengal, at every stage of instruction, but when the figures for the higher stage of instruction are examined, it is found that the proportion of Muhammadans declines as the higher stages are approached. The figures quoted above must therefore be read with caution or they may mislead as to the real position of the Muhammadan community in the educational field. It must also be remembered that when Muhammadan boys are found in high schools and other institutions, the majority of them are usually to be found in the lower classes. What is wanted is the analysis of the position of Muhammadans in the several stages of instruction, and it is to be regretted that the Divisional Inspectors with the exception of the Inspector of Schools, Dacca Division, have omitted to supply this information. The figures returned by the Inspector of Schools, Dacca Division, where, as in Eastern Bengal generally, the bulk of the population is Muhammadan, show that the Muhammadans reading in the first four classes of high schools represent 16·3 per cent. only of the total, while those reading in the middle stage represent 30·9 per cent. of the total, those in the upper primary stage 37·02 per cent. of the total and those in the lower primary stage 57·4 per cent. of the total.

Success in Examinations.

96. During the year under review one Muhammadan student passed the M.Sc. examination, while 10 passed the M.A. examination, 12 the B.L. examination, 68 the B.A. examination and 6 the B.Sc. examination. If these figures are compared with the examination successes secured during the same period by Hindus, the result is startling. During the year 1912-13, 34 Hindus passed the M.Sc. examination, 152 the M.A. examination, 242 the B.L. examination, 923 the B.A. examination and 242 the B.Sc. examination. During the period under review 503 Muhammadan pupils passed the Matriculation examination as against 4,457 Hindus.

Madrassahs.

97. The returns show that on the 31st March 1913 there were 160 madrassahs with an enrolment of 13,155 pupils as against 149 institutions with an enrolment of 12,571 at the end of the previous financial year. Of the Government madrassahs those at Calcutta, Dacca, Chittagong and Hooghly are senior madrassahs, while that at Rajshahi teaches the junior course only. The madrassahs at Calcutta, Dacca and Chittagong include Arabic and Anglo-Persian Departments. At the end of the year there were 1,355 and 1,226 pupils reading, respectively, in the two departments of these madrassahs.

From the Anglo-Persian Departments, 71 pupils appeared at the Matriculation examination of 1913, of whom 47 passed. The Hooghly Madrassah, which has no Anglo-Persian Department, had 143 pupils on its rolls on the 31st March 1913. The total direct expenditure on all the Government madrassahs for the year 1912-13 was Rs. 1,06,868, towards which Provincial revenues contributed Rs. 51,410.

Maktabs.

98. The system of maktab education differs in the two parts of the Province. In Eastern Bengal the maktabs that conform to the departmental regulations and adopt the departmental primary course are returned as primary schools, but since the introduction of Sir A. Earle's scheme recognised maktabs in Western Bengal are not returned as primary schools, but are classed under the head of "Special Schools—Miscellaneous." There are now 3,841 maktabs—1,650 in the eastern divisions and 2,191 in the western divisions of Bengal, and these institutions had on their rolls 56,684 and 63,176 pupils, respectively, at the end of the year. During the year under review a sum of Rs. 5,469 was allotted for grants-in-aid to maktabs in non-board and municipal areas in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions and in the district of Darjeeling, but the amount was found to be inadequate. It is therefore proposed to make further provision for this purpose for the year 1914-15. The amount paid for maktabs in board areas was also found to be inadequate, and the question of giving them increased grants in future is under consideration. In Eastern Bengal the maktabs which have adopted the primary school course are, as already stated, treated as primary schools and receive aid accordingly. In 1912-13 these institutions received Rs. 30,862 from public funds.

CHAPTER XI.

The Education of Special Classes.

Scope of the Chapter.

99. This chapter deals with the following subjects :—

(a) The education of Chiefs and Nobles.

(b) The education of aborigines and other backward classes.

(c) The education of defectives.

(d) The education of children of tea-garden labourers.

Education of Chiefs and Nobles.

100. There are no separate schools in the Presidency for the education of the sons of Chiefs and Nobles. The only institution which calls for mention is the Nawab Bahadur's Institution at Murshidabad, which makes special provision for teaching the boys of the Nizamat family, 26 of whom were under instruction during the year.

Education of aborigines and other backward classes.

101. The number of pupils of aboriginal descent and of the depressed classes shows an increase of 1,599 over that of the previous year, and stood at the close of the period under review at 48,171. The only measure that deserves mention here so far as the western divisions are concerned is the submission to Government during the year of certain proposals for the expansion and development of education among the Sonthals in the districts of Birbhum, Bankura and Midnapore. A complete scheme for the purpose will shortly be formulated on the lines suggested in these proposals. A sum of Rs. 2,732 was sanctioned by Government for the establishment of five Burmese lower primary schools for the education of Mughs in the Cox's Bazar subdivision of the Chittagong district. No further noticeable steps in advancement were taken in the Eastern Bengal districts, but proposals were mooted for providing adequate hostel accommodation for the boys of the Namasudra, Rajbanshi and Yogi communities.

Education of defectives.

102. The most important of the institutions for the education of the physical defectives are the deaf and dumb schools at Calcutta and Barisal. At the close of the period under review the Calcutta school had 58 pupils on its rolls, and that at Barisal 14 only. On the former Government spent Rs. 150 and the Corporation of Calcutta Rs. 200 per month, while the District Board of Barisal paid Rs. 15 per month to the latter as a grant-in-aid. There is another important school at Calcutta which undertakes the education of the blind and deserves mention. It taught 49 pupils during the year, and received Rs. 960 from Government and Rs. 1,250 from the municipality towards its maintenance.

Education of the children of tea-garden labourers.

103. There were 105 tea-garden schools working at the end of the year in the districts of Darjeeling and Jalpaiguri with 2,172 pupils. The total expenditure on these schools out of Provincial revenues was Rs. 8,829. A capital grant of Rs, 2,500 was made during the year for starting 15 of these schools in the Jalpaiguri district.

CHAPTER XII.

Private Institutions.

104. The purely indigenous education of the country is carried on in unrecognised (1) tols, (2) maktabs or Koran schools, (3) kyoungs or monastic schools conducted by Budhist teachers and (4) other schools that do not conform to any recognised system of public instruction. The number and attendance of these indigenous schools are subject to fluctuation, as most of them open and close spasmodically. From the divisional reports it, however, appears that there is a tendency of this class of institutions to accept standards recognised by Government; hence the decrease in the number of institutions dealt with in this chapter. In the course of the year 1912-13 the number of schools declined from 2,379 to 2,217, but that of the pupils attending them increased from 54,729 to 55,858, of which 40,762 were Muhammadans and 13,402 were Hindus, while the rest belonged to other races.

The most conspicuous of this class of institutions is the "Santiniketan Brahmacharyya Asram" at Bolpur in Birbhum, founded by Mr. Rabindra Nath Tagore.

CHAPTER XIII.

Physical and Moral Training.

Hostels.

105. The number of hostels and boarding-houses for boys increased from 470 to 521 and of boarders from 13,759 to 15,018. Besides these there were 65 boarding-houses for girls with 3,840 inmates. The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 16,98,500 as against Rs. 14,67,806 in the previous year. The Government contribution increased from Rs. 2,79,056 to Rs. 2,93,578, while the contributions from District and Municipal Boards decreased from Rs. 4,419 to Rs. 2,121. The receipts from fees and other sources increased from Rs. 11,84,331 to Rs. 14,02,801. As the result of the Imperial grant allotted for the purpose it was possible to effect considerable improvement in college and school hostels in the Presidency, and it is hoped that with the help of the grants now available for this purpose further improvement will be possible in this direction in near future. During the year under review the following Imperial grants were available for expenditure on hostels :—

(a) the unspent balance of the Imperial grants of 1911-12 amounting to Rs. 12,33,000 ;

(b) the recurring Durbar grant of Rs. 1,32,000 ;

(c) the new non-recurring grants of (1) Rs. 10,00,000 for hostels in the city of Calcutta and (2) Rs. 2,00,000 for hostels in areas other than Calcutta and Dacca out of the grant of 4 lakhs announced by the Government of India for this purpose.

It was not, however, possible to spend the whole of these grants during the year. Out of the balance of the grants of 1911-12, Rs. 2,53,741 were spent on college hostels and Rs. 1,10,868 on school hostels. Pending the formulation of a suitable scheme for its general utilisation, the recurring Durbar grant of Rs. 1,32,000 was set apart for expenditure on non-recurring projects during the year under report. The amount which it was practicable to spend out of this grant was, however, Rs. 63,419. The bulk of the new allotment of Rs. 12,00,000 remained unexpended during the year, the actual expenditure under this head being Rs. 90,459 only.

Messes.

106. In large towns like Calcutta and Dacca, where adequate hostel accommodation cannot be provided, the excess has to be accommodated in messes. The Calcutta mess scheme was described in the last Quinquennial Report. The messes which it embraces are under the supervision of an inspector of messes. The messes at Dacca are under the control of the "City Educational Council." The 'Proctor,' the executive officer of this body, exercises general supervision over all the messes at Dacca. The scheme is said to be fairly successful. The mess system, which exists more or less in other towns, is far from satisfactory. The whole problem involved in the residence of college students and school boys is one the seriousness of which it is not possible to exaggerate.

Physical Training.

107. Physical exercise increases yearly in popularity and some facilities for games exist in most centres, where college students and school boys are to be found. The most popular games are football and cricket ; tennis is also played. The whole physical exercise movement, excellent though it is in every way, needs organisation and guidance. All the various problems which are concerned with what may be called the physical side of school and college education are now being considered by a committee appointed by Government.

Moral Training.

108. In December 1912 a conference was held under the presidency of the Hon'ble Mr. Nathan to discuss the question of religious and moral training. The deliberations of this conference are under the consideration of the Government.

Discipline.

109. Serious breaches of discipline are becoming fewer, but what is observed in Mr. Prothero's Quinquennial Review is still probably true, that though there is acquiescent discipline everywhere, there is not very much of the true spirit of discipline manifesting itself in active co-operation with authority.

CHAPTER XIV.

Conferences.

110. The most important of the educational conferences held during the year under review were :—

(1) the conference of Inspectors held by the Director of Public Instruction in July 1912 to discuss the question of the distribution of the Imperial grants for primary education ;

(2) that held in December 1912 under the presidency of the Hon'ble Mr. Nathan in connexion with the question of religious and moral training ;

(3) that on Sanskrit education also held under the presidency of the Hon'ble Mr. Nathan in February 1913 ; and

(4) that for the constitution of a Female Education Committee for the Province which sat for the first time in March 1913.

Conferences of Inspectors and Deputy Inspectors of Schools were held to discuss various educational problems connected with the areas concerned. Gatherings of gurus at convenient centres were also held under the supervision of Sub-Inspectors of Schools ; the principal object of these gatherings is the instruction of the gurus in new methods of teaching.

CHAPTER XV.

Text-Book Committees.

111. There are at present two separate text-book committees in the Province—one at Calcutta and the other at Dacca. These two bodies continue to examine books and periodicals intended for use in schools in West and East Bengal, respectively. The work of the former increased during the year owing to the fact that after the recent territorial redistribution the work of examining books in Urdu, Persian and Arabic, which was previously done by the Bankipore Committee, devolved on it. Books in Hindi are also required for use in schools in Calcutta and the Darjeeling district. The Text-Book Committee at Dacca had to carry on a regular campaign against the sale and use of "keys." It took initial steps to open at Dacca a book-shop recognised by the Department, which would both refrain from selling keys and also be in a position to supply text-books without difficulty. During the year of report 222 books were approved by the Calcutta Committee, while the Dacca Committee examined 146 books out of 181 sent by the Director of Public Instruction for consideration.

The future of the text-book committees is under consideration.

W. W. HORNELL,

Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.
